U. S. Has Lead In Air Power, Twining Says

General Reports Russia May Have More Jet Aircraft

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining reported today Russia probably has more jet aircraft than the United States but "there is no question" that this country has the better air force.

Fresh from a visit to Moscow, the Air Force chief of staff gave this appraisal to newsmen after reporting on his trip to President Eisenhower and top Pentagon brass gathered here.

Twining was guarded in his talk with reporters and his blood pressure seemed to rise a bit under their persistent questioning. But he made these contributions to the debate raging over comparative U.S. and Soviet air strength:

1. There is no question, as far as he can see, about this country's remaining in front in the air power race in the next few years. Qualitatively, it is in front now.

U. S. Must Not Go To Sleep

2. Nevertheless, Russia might surpass the United States in military aviation by 1960 if, as Twining put it, this country goes to sleep and does not keep moving.

3. The Russians "probably are ahead of us in jet aircraft—numberwise."

4. He still thinks, as he did when he testified before congressional committees last month, that the two nations are "about the same" in the over-all number of military aircraft, counting Navy, Coast Guard and Marine planes, as well as the Air Force.

5. On Air Force development, he believes "the programs the Air Force has recommended are satisfactory, at this time."

Backs Administration

Thus Twining stood generally with the administration on Air Force policy and against a powerful group of senators who contend the United States is losing ground to the Soviet Union in the struggle for world air supremacy.

The news conference was held in the press room for the temporary White House in the Gettysburg Hotel. Occasionally Twining held whispered consultations with presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty or other officials. He also sometimes consulted written notes.

New Soviet Spy Hunt Reported

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP) — A new "Soviet spy hunt" is being conducted in Washington, the Chicago Daily News said today in a dispatch from the capital.

Edwin A. Lahey, the Daily News' Washington bureau chief, reported:

"FBI men and military intelligence officers are trying to locate the source of information an expelled Soviet diplomat may have had at the Pentagon."

The expelled diplomat was named as Col. Ivan A. Bubchikov, former assistant military attache at the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

The State Department informed the Soviet Embassy last June 14 that Bubchikov's activities were "incompatible with his continued presence in this country" and Bubchikov left 10 days later, the news related.

"Reports not contradicted by official sources said that Bubchikov had been obtaining U. S. military secrets through an illicit mail drop," Lahey's dispatch stated.

The story said "it was learned that the original complaint against the Russian military expert came from the Pentagon."

Kidnaper Fails To Enter Police Trap

Mother Breaks Down In Appeal For Kidnaped Son

Mrs. Morris Weinberger (left) bursts into tears as she makes a radio appeal for the return of her baby boy. She got out only a few short sentences before breaking down completely. The son, Peter (right), a month old, was taken from his carriage Sunday afternoon when he was left momentarily unattended on the patio of his parents' Westbury, N. Y., home. The kidnaper, who left a note demanding $2,000 by 10 a. m. yesterday, failed to enter a police trap baited with dummy ransom packages. (AP Photofax)

Baby's Abductor Passes Up Fake Ransom Bundles

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 5 (AP)—The kidnaper of a 4-week-old boy failed today to enter a police trap baited with dummy ransom packages. An official for the first time conceded the child may have been slain.

The ransom packages were envelopes filled with blank paper in the shape of currency. The only real bills in them were on the outside of the wads of paper.

The packages were placed outside the brick ranch house from which the kidnaper yesterday afternoon seized the 33-day-old Peter Weinberger, youngest son of a well-to-do wholesale druggist.

The child's mother, Mrs. Morris Weinberger, a tiny, brown-haired woman, left Peter alone in his carriage on the patio while she went into the house for a fresh diaper. She was inside only a few minutes. When she returned to the patio, the child was gone. A note left in the carriage read:

"I hate to do this to you, but I am in great trouble. Don't notify the police. I am not asking for a lot of money, only for what I need, and I am very serious about this."

Kidnaper Asks $2,000

The note directed that $2,000 in small bills be placed at an intersection near the suburban home. Because there are two similar intersections nearby, police said they put out two packages—one at each. The kidnaper's own deadline for picking up the ransom was 10 o'clock.

"Every instruction about leaving the package was observed," Detective Chief Suyvesant Pinnell told newsmen after the deadline passed. The only apparent deviation was the substitute of worthless paper for actual currency.

Neither of the packages was picked up and eventually they were retrieved.

At one point during a discussion of the kidnaping, Pinnell qualified a remark to reporters by adding:

"If the child is living."

Mother Breaks Down

Peter's mother, Beatrice, tried to broadcast an appeal to the kidnaper over a Long Island radio station. But she got out only a few choked phrases before she broke down and cried to detectives:

"You read this. I can't."

Before the broadcast, the mother sobbed hysterically:

"I want my baby back. I want my baby back."

In the broadcast, in which Peter's formula was outlined for the kidnaper, Mrs. Weinberger pledged:

"I am willing to cooperate in every way I can to get my baby back."

Later, when she had regained composure, Mrs. Weinberger told newsmen she has been married seven years. The family, which includes another son, Lewis, 4, has

N. Y. Area Alerted As Vicious Sentry Dog Escapes AFB

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y., July 5 (AP)—A vicious sentry dog broke loose from Plattsburgh Air Force Base today after refusing to eat for five days because its handler was on leave.

Police broadcast an alert throughout the area. Residents were warned by radio stations to keep children indoors and to take other precautions.

"Don't run from the animal," police advised. "Lie down quickly and cover your heads. The worst thing you can do is to run."

The dogs used on sentry duty at the base are taught to attack anyone who attempts to flee.

Each dog generally is handled by one man.

The base information office said the female German shepherd named "Sheba" slipped from her collar while being taken from the kennel to the veternarian's office.

The dog's handler is Airman 3C Matthew Bardsley of Pawtucket, R.I.

Israel Denies It Masses Troops And Plans Attack

JERUSALEM, July 5 (AP)—Israel told the Big Four powers tonight it is not massing troops on the Arab borders. The Israelis accused the Arabs of spreading reports of such concentration to cover up military movements of their own.

But a U.N. spokesman announced there were no confirmed troop concentrations whatever anywhere along the Israel-Arab armistice lines.

Walter Eytan, director general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, summoned the envoys of Britain, the United States, Russia and France and informed them any reports of an impending Israeli attack on Jordan are fictitious.

This followed a day of heightened tension on the borders. One Jordanian was wounded in a minor skirmish on the northern sector.

A military source in the Arab-held old part of Jerusalem said the Jordan army, with orders to shoot back if attacked, silenced Israeli patrol fire in a 10-minute clash.

Gunfire Exchanged

In the Israeli part of Jerusalem a military spokesman reported one Jordanian who crossed the border in northern Samaria was wounded in an exchange of fire with a watchman.

Reports from Arab Jerusalem said the Jordan army was being concentrated and reinforced all along the Jordan-Israeli armistice line, scene of bloody conflict in the 1948 Palestine war.

Young King Hussein accompanied army units moving into advanced positions on the border yesterday.

With him went the chief of staff of the Jordanian army, Maj. Gen. Ali Abunowar. They returned to Amman early this morning.

At noon today, Hussein summoned an urgent meeting of the Supreme Jordan Defense Council.

Egypt, Iraq Accused

Informed sources reported Jordan today receive assurances from Egypt, Syria, and Lebanon that their armies were ready to help if Israel attacks.

Eytan tonight emphatically denied reports that Israel was massing troops on the borders. These reports came from a number of Arab capitals yesterday.

The Israeli spokesman charged, "The tension is being created by the competing interests of Egypt and Iraq to influence the outcome of elections in Jordan."

He claimed Egypt and Iraq were trying "to gain a position from which they will be able decisively to mould the policy of the future Jordanian government."

Vote Follows Snarls Over Segregation

Had Approved Ban On Helping States Which Refused To Integrate

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)— The House today nailed an antisegregation amendment to the school aid bill—then killed the entire measure.

A 224-194 vote against final passage came after a day of hectic confusion. It climaxed a bitter fight on the issue of whether states which practice racial segregation in their public schools should be barred from getting construction money from a proposed $1,600,000,000 fund.

Before killing the bill, the House adopted on a rollcall vote of 225-192 an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) requiring states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid.

Coalitions Change

It was a day of swiftly changing coalitions. Republicans and Northern Democrats teamed up to write the Powell amendment into the bill. But then Republicans and Southern Democrats joined forces to defeat the whole measure.

The rollcall on the Powell amendment found 148 Republicans and 77 Democrats for it, while 146 Democrats and 46 Republicans were opposed.

On the tally which defeated the bill, 119 Republicans and 105 Democrats voted against the measure, while 119 Democrats and 75 Republicans were for it.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said after the final vote that "Democrats must take the responsibility for killing the bill" by refusing to go along with GOP-backed amendments to apportion the funds for school construction largely on the basis of need.

Ike Stressed Need Factor

President Eisenhower, in urging a 1¼-billion-dollar aid program over a five-year period, had wanted the need factor stressed in relieving the school room shortage. The bill as defeated would have based aid largely on school population.

Some Republicans said Democratic leaders passed the word to oppose the McConnell amendments because "Eisenhower must not get the credit."

It was a hectic day all around, even for the House which isn't lacking in capacity to get itself involved in parliamentary snarls.

During the parliamentary confusion, the House at one point killed the Powell antisegregation amendment. It was promptly voted back in. The later rollcall vote affirmed this action.

With some members not understanding the effect of the action, the House adopted an amendment by Rep. Gwinn (R-NY) to distri-

George Predicts Southern States Will Back Adlai

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) predicted today that most Southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot at next month's party convention.

"And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three Southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot," George said in an interview.

Johnson Has 56 Votes

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, has 56 convention votes as Texas' "favorite son" and scattered support elsewhere. A heart attack victim a year ago, Johnson has said he isn't running for anything this year but wants the convention to adopt a "moderate" platform and nominate the same kind of candidate.

If Johnson should become an active candidate, George said he would expect several states to line up immediately behind the Texan.

"But I don't think he wants to be a candidate," the Georgia senator observed.

No Third Party Seen

The senator said he doesn't think the South is satisfied with Stevenson's position that the decision is law and must be put into effect gradually. But he said he believes the 1952 nominee is more acceptable in Dixie than other party aspirants.

In this connection, George said he doesn't believe there will be any third party movement. He added that the chances of a convention walkout will be small if Stevenson wins in the early balloting.

Steel Union, Industry Leaders Meet With U.S. Mediation Chief

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP)—The director of the Federal Mediation Service today met with the striking United Steel Workers and three representatives of the basic steel industry to discuss contract differences in the five-day nationwide steel strike and said, "We will be in touch with the parties early next week after studying the information."

Director Joseph F. Finnegan said he is hopeful that the union and companies can arrange their own negotiations but added, "I've had no indications to that effect."

Finnegan said the meetings were held to get facts and information concerning the strike of 650,000 steel workers that has also idled nearly 50,000 employes in allied industries.

Finnegan expressed hope that the disputing parties will be able to work out their differences themselves and said the mediation service would not hesitate to move into the negotiations without an invitation if the deadlock continues.

He said both sides agreed for him to get in touch with them next week. The mediator gave no indication whether he expected to arrange new negotiations by then.

He said he told both sides they are mature and experienced and he hopes they will be able "to compose their differences."

In Washington, the government announced that it froze warehouse supplies of steel products needed for defense production.

The freeze order went into effect at midnight tonight until further notice and is designed to make sure nondefense customers of the industry do not obtain steel needed for aircraft, guided missiles and Atomic Energy Commission projects.

Holiday Violent Death Toll 253

[By The Associated Press]

The nation's one-day observance of Fourth of July brought violent death to 253 persons—137 of them in traffic accidents.

A final tabulation Thursday showed 77 persons drowned and 39 met death from miscellaneous causes.

There was one fireworks death, in Wyoming. This matched the single fireworks death of 1955.

The traffic toll, which has been on the increase for 15 consecutive months, was higher than forecast.

The National Safety Council estimated in advance there might be 130 such deaths but expressed the hope the total could be held to 80.

U. S. "Regrets" Polish Refusal To Accept Grain

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The State Department said today the United States "regrets sincerely" that Poland's Communist leaders apparently have turned down an American offer of free grain.

The offer was made following last week's Poznan riots. Demonstrating workers at Poznan had called for bread.

Warsaw radio said last night the United States offer was "propaganda." It declared Poland would not accept charity from the United States but was prepared to buy grain through commercial transactions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said today that Poland had made a "phony" offer to buy food last February when it inquired about grain purchases on credit. He said commercial channels were open to Polish purchasers and that the February inquiry to the United States government was not considered to be sincere and therefore was never answered.

White reproted that the United States has had no word from the International Red Cross of the Polish rejection as reported by the Warsaw radio. He made clear by his comment that the American offer made through the Red Cross late last week still stands.

Shepilov Blasts U.S. Cold War "Propagators"

MOSCOW, July 5 (AP) — Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said today the essential condition for solving misunderstandings between the United States and the Soviet Union "is to muzzle the propagators of cold war in the United States."

The new foreign minister said at his first news conference for Western reporters that increased contacts between the two countries were "most important and urgent steps" to mutual understanding.

Basis For Rapproachment

"There is a broad basis for normalization of relations between the United States and the Soviet Union," he told reporters at an informal conference at a reception in honor of visiting U.S. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

"We should seek to make use of this foundation to make rapprochment a reality," Shepilov said.

"The essential condition is to muzzle the propagators of cold war in the United States. I don't think our press for a long time now can be accused of unfounded attacks, but the U.S. press and radio is still made up of all sorts of lies, slander and libelous statements. It is essential that these irresponsible elements who poison the atmosphere should be muzzled."

Arms Cut "Only Beginning"

Told that the Western world regarded the Soviet announcement that it will reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men as lacking in meaning without a statement on past or present Soviet military strength, Shepilov said:

"Let other governments make an analogous reduction. We believe that practical steps in the field of disarmament are more valuable than pretty speeches. These steps are only the beginning. If there is appropriate reaction from the other side we are prepared to go further."

Gunman Robs Bank In Florida Of $28,000

STARKE, Fla., July 5 (AP) — A gunman robbed the Florida National Bank today of $28,000.

He took the money in bills from the vault and fled.

President S. L. Peek Jr. was one of those held up by the gunman.

Bank employes said the man appeared to be a stranger in this town of around 6,000 population some 40 miles west of Jacksonville.

The robber gained entrance to the bank by a rear window and was waiting with a revolver when the janitor, Dan Thomas, showed up.

Then he lined up seven other employes as they arrived and waited for the time lock on the vault to click.

Proposal Brings Surprise Reaction

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 5 (AP) — A marriage proposal while driving today sent the intended bride to a hospital and left about $225 in damages to two cars.

Eugene M. Scherphorn, 25, told officers he proposed to Marylin Kingery, 21, of Big Rapids, and she threw her arms around him, causing him to lose control of his car which struck a parked auto.

Miss Kingery was treated for bruises.

Daring Helicopter Crews Land At UAL Wreck Site

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 5 (AP)—Daring Army helicopter crews today finally succeeded in landing on a tiny pinnacle 2,600 feet above the Grand Canyon floor where a United airliner crashed last Saturday after colliding with a TWA plane in a tragedy that took 128 lives.

They found further evidence of a collision of the two giant airliners in commercial aviation's worst accident.

The first helicopter to reach the almost inaccessible spot was piloted by Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., who said the landing was made on a spot no larger than the 'copter itself.

Experts had predicted neither helicopters or ground crews would ever reach the crash site.

"If you misjudge the distance by 10 or 15 feet," Spriggs said, "you would drop maybe 1,000 feet into the canyon. It's real dangerous."

Spriggs and W. O. Howard Proctor of Kings Mountain, N.C., brought out a piece of cowling UAL engineers said definitely was from a DC7 and another piece painted red and white which Gordon Gilmore, TWA publicist, said bore markings "similar" to those of TWA's Superconstellations.

R. P. (Jack) Parshall, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator, said it had not been determined if the white and red striped metal was from the TWA plane.

A second helicopter was flown in by C. W. O. Bill Pierson of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Lt. Paul Walter of Washington, Pa. They dropped two mountain climbers, Raymond Batson and L. David Lewis of Boulder, Colo., on the top of the rock spur where the wreckage lies

Airman Suffocated In Jet Nose Intake

CHICAGO, July 5 (INS) — A 25-year-old Indianapolis airman was suffocated to death today when he drew close to a jet fighter, which was undergoing maintenance, and was sucked into the nose intake.

Authorities at the Air Force's O'Hare Field base near Chicago, said the death was almost instant.

The victim was identified as Airman 3rd Class Earl W. Cunningham of Indianapolis.

National Debt 272 Billion, $1,623 For Each American

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The government reported today the national debt at the end of the 1956 fiscal year totaled $272,750,813,649.

That figures out to about $1,623 each for every man, woman and child in the country based on latest population estimates of about 168 million.

The Treasury's final daily statement for the fiscal year ending June 30 showed the debt was reduced by $1,623,409,153 from a total of $274,374,222,802 on July 1, 1955.

This is well under the permanent debt ceiling limit of 275 billion dollars set by law.

However, during the last year the government ran close to the 281-billion-dollar temporary limit on occasion. The debt subject to the ceiling touched the highest point in history, $280,310,000,000 last Jan. 4.

For the last two years Congress has permitted a temporary hike in the ceiling to 281 billion dollars to tide the Treasury over the lean taxation period when it has to borrow to keep the government going. Congress has passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill to set the temporary ceiling three billion dollars lower—at 278 billion—during the fiscal year which started July 1.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told Congress last month an expected surplus of nearly two billion dollars for the 1956 fiscal year would be used to reduce the debt. He recommended the 278-billion-dollar figure, saying that by watching matters carefully he believed the government could live within the lower ceiling.

Atom Bank Plan Rejected By Ike

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — President Eisenhower has politely turned down a proposal by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to increase production of nuclear materials and to allocate some of it to an atomic bank.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, made the suggestion in a May 24 letter to Eisenhower. It was cosigned by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) and Rep. Price (D-Ill), chairmen of subcommittes of the parent atomic energy group.

They wrote that "we do not imply there is a critical shortage of fissionable materials," but emphasized "we believe increased production is necessary."

The letter said the atomic bank "would offer the nation a critical reserve for peace or war." The present allocation formula, it said, "leaves no uncomitted reserve from which either reactor fuel elements or defensive weapons could be fabricated in an emergency."

The President, in a June 13 letter released by Anderson today, took an optimistic view about the present atomic energy program and raised objections to Anderson's recommendations.

Eisenhower wrote, "I consider the program as it is today in healthy condition," with respect to contracts to buy uranium ore, processing facilities, and stockpile policy.

"I consider our fissionable material much too valuable to be placed in an atomic Fort Knox for in existing world conditions the weapons stockpile must continue to have first call," said the President.

Reports from Arab Jerusalem said the Jordan army was being concentrated and reinforced all along the Jordan-Israeli armistice line, scene of bloody conflict in the 1948 Palestine war.

Young King Hussein accompanied army units moving into advanced positions on the border yesterday.

With him went the chief of staff of the Jordanian army, Maj. Gen. Ali Abunowar. They returned to Amman early this morning.

At noon today, Hussein summoned an urgent meeting of the Supreme Jordan Defense Council.

Egypt, Iraq Accused

Informed sources reported Jordan today receive assurances from Egypt, Syria, and Lebanon that their armies were ready to help if Israel attacks.

Eytan tonight emphatically denied reports that Israel was massing troops on the borders. These reports came from a number of Arab capitals yesterday.

The Israeli spokesman charged, "The tension is being created by the competing interests of Egypt and Iraq to influence the outcome of elections in Jordan."

He claimed Egypt and Iraq were trying "to gain a position from which they will be able decisively to mould the policy of the future Jordanian government."

Vote Follows Snarls Over Segregation

Had Approved Ban On Helping States Which Refused To Integrate

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)— The House today nailed an antisegregation amendment to the school aid bill—then killed the entire measure.

A 224-194 vote against final passage came after a day of hectic confusion. It climaxed a bitter fight on the issue of whether states which practice racial segregation in their public schools should be barred from getting construction money from a proposed $1,600,000,000 fund.

Before killing the bill, the House adopted on a rollcall vote of 225-192 an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) requiring states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid.

Coalitions Change

It was a day of swiftly changing coalitions. Republicans and Northern Democrats teamed up to write the Powell amendment into the bill. But then Republicans and Southern Democrats joined forces to defeat the whole measure.

The rollcall on the Powell amendment found 148 Republicans and 77 Democrats for it, while 146 Democrats and 46 Republicans were opposed.

On the tally which defeated the bill, 119 Republicans and 105 Democrats voted against the measure, while 119 Democrats and 75 Republicans were for it.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said after the final vote that "Democrats must take the responsibility for killing the bill" by refusing to go along with GOP-backed amendments to apportion the funds for school construction largely on the basis of need.

Ike Stressed Need Factor

President Eisenhower, in urging a 1¼-billion-dollar aid program over a five-year period, had wanted the need factor stressed in relieving the school room shortage. The bill as defeated would have based aid largely on school population.

Some Republicans said Democratic leaders passed the word to oppose the McConnell amendments because "Eisenhower must not get the credit."

It was a hectic day all around, even for the House which isn't lacking in capacity to get itself involved in parliamentary snarls.

During the parliamentary confusion, the House at one point killed the Powell antisegregation amendment. It was promptly voted back in. The later rollcall vote affirmed this action.

With some members not understanding the effect of the action, the House adopted an amendment by Rep. Gwinn (R-NY) to distri-

Atom Bank Plan Rejected By Ike

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — President Eisenhower has politely turned down a proposal by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to increase production of nuclear materials and to allocate some of it to an atomic bank.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, made the suggestion in a May 24 letter to Eisenhower. It was cosigned by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) and Rep. Price (D-Ill), chairmen of subcommittes of the parent atomic energy group.

They wrote that "we do not imply there is a critical shortage of fissionable materials," but emphasized "we believe increased production is necessary."

The letter said the atomic bank "would offer the nation a critical reserve for peace or war." The present allocation formula, it said, "leaves no uncomitted reserve from which either reactor fuel elements or defensive weapons could be fabricated in an emergency."

The President, in a June 13 letter released by Anderson today, took an optimistic view about the present atomic energy program and raised objections to Anderson's recommendations.

Eisenhower wrote, "I consider the program as it is today in healthy condition," with respect to contracts to buy uranium ore, processing facilities, and stockpile policy.

"I consider our fissionable material much too valuable to be placed in an atomic Fort Knox for in existing world conditions the weapons stockpile must continue to have first call," said the President.

George Predicts Southern States Will Back Adlai

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) predicted today that most Southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot at next month's party convention.

"And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three Southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot," George said in an interview.

Johnson Has 56 Votes

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, has 56 convention votes as Texas' "favorite son" and scattered support elsewhere. A heart attack victim a year ago, Johnson has said he isn't running for anything this year but wants the convention to adopt a "moderate" platform and nominate the same kind of candidate.

If Johnson should become an active candidate, George said he would expect several states to line up immediately behind the Texan.

"But I don't think he wants to be a candidate," the Georgia senator observed.

No Third Party Seen

The senator said he doesn't think the South is satisfied with Stevenson's position that the decision is law and must be put into effect gradually. But he said he believes the 1952 nominee is more acceptable in Dixie than other party aspirants.

In this connection, George said he doesn't believe there will be any third party movement. He added that the chances of a convention walkout will be small if Stevenson wins in the early balloting.

Steel Union, Industry Leaders Meet With U.S. Mediation Chief

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP)—The director of the Federal Mediation Service today met with the striking United Steel Workers and three representatives of the basic steel industry to discuss contract differences in the five-day nationwide steel strike and said, "We will be in touch with the parties early next week after studying the information."

Director Joseph F. Finnegan said he is hopeful that the union and companies can arrange their own negotiations but added, "I've had no indications to that effect."

Finnegan said the meetings were held to get facts and information concerning the strike of 650,000 steel workers that has also idled nearly 50,000 employes in allied industries.

Finnegan expressed hope that the disputing parties will be able to work out their differences themselves and said the mediation service would not hesitate to move into the negotiations without an invitation if the deadlock continues.

He said both sides agreed for him to get in touch with them next week. The mediator gave no indication whether he expected to arrange new negotiations by then.

He said he told both sides they are mature and experienced and he hopes they will be able "to compose their differences."

In Washington, the government announced that it froze warehouse supplies of steel products needed for defense production.

The freeze order went into effect at midnight tonight until further notice and is designed to make sure nondefense customers of the industry do not obtain steel needed for aircraft, guided missiles and Atomic Energy Commission projects.

Holiday Violent Death Toll 253

[By The Associated Press]

The nation's one-day observance of Fourth of July brought violent death to 253 persons—137 of them in traffic accidents.

A final tabulation Thursday showed 77 persons drowned and 39 met death from miscellaneous causes.

There was one fireworks death, in Wyoming. This matched the single fireworks death of 1955.

The traffic toll, which has been on the increase for 15 consecutive months, was higher than forecast.

The National Safety Council estimated in advance there might be 130 such deaths but expressed the hope the total could be held to 80.

U. S. "Regrets" Polish Refusal To Accept Grain

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The State Department said today the United States "regrets sincerely" that Poland's Communist leaders apparently have turned down an American offer of free grain.

The offer was made following last week's Poznan riots. Demonstrating workers at Poznan had called for bread.

Warsaw radio said last night the United States offer was "propaganda." It declared Poland would not accept charity from the United States but was prepared to buy grain through commercial transactions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said today that Poland had made a "phony" offer to buy food last February when it inquired about grain purchases on credit. He said commercial channels were open to Polish purchasers and that the February inquiry to the United States government was not considered to be sincere and therefore was never answered.

White reproted that the United States has had no word from the International Red Cross of the Polish rejection as reported by the Warsaw radio. He made clear by his comment that the American offer made through the Red Cross late last week still stands.

Airman Suffocated In Jet Nose Intake

CHICAGO, July 5 (INS) — A 25-year-old Indianapolis airman was suffocated to death today when he drew close to a jet fighter, which was undergoing maintenance, and was sucked into the nose intake.

Authorities at the Air Force's O'Hare Field base near Chicago, said the death was almost instant.

The victim was identified as Airman 3rd Class Earl W. Cunningham of Indianapolis.

Shepilov Blasts U.S. Cold War "Propagators"

MOSCOW, July 5 (AP) — Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said today the essential condition for solving misunderstandings between the United States and the Soviet Union "is to muzzle the propagators of cold war in the United States."

The new foreign minister said at his first news conference for Western reporters that increased contacts between the two countries were "most important and urgent steps" to mutual understanding.

Basis For Rapproachment

"There is a broad basis for normalization of relations between the United States and the Soviet Union," he told reporters at an informal conference at a reception in honor of visiting U.S. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

"We should seek to make use of this foundation to make rapprochment a reality," Shepilov said.

"The essential condition is to muzzle the propagators of cold war in the United States. I don't think our press for a long time now can be accused of unfounded attacks, but the U.S. press and radio is still made up of all sorts of lies, slander and libelous statements. It is essential that these irresponsible elements who poison the atmosphere should be muzzled."

Arms Cut "Only Beginning"

Told that the Western world regarded the Soviet announcement that it will reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men as lacking in meaning without a statement on past or present Soviet military strength, Shepilov said:

"Let other governments make an analogous reduction. We believe that practical steps in the field of disarmament are more valuable than pretty speeches. These steps are only the beginning. If there is appropriate reaction from the other side we are prepared to go further."

Gunman Robs Bank In Florida Of $28,000

STARKE, Fla., July 5 (AP) — A gunman robbed the Florida National Bank today of $28,000.

He took the money in bills from the vault and fled.

President S. L. Peek Jr. was one of those held up by the gunman.

Bank employes said the man appeared to be a stranger in this town of around 6,000 population some 40 miles west of Jacksonville.

The robber gained entrance to the bank by a rear window and was waiting with a revolver when the janitor, Dan Thomas, showed up.

Then he lined up seven other employes as they arrived and waited for the time lock on the vault to click.

Proposal Brings Surprise Reaction

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 5 (AP) — A marriage proposal while driving today sent the intended bride to a hospital and left about $225 in damages to two cars.

Eugene M. Scherphorn, 25, told officers he proposed to Marylin Kingery, 21, of Big Rapids, and she threw her arms around him, causing him to lose control of his car which struck a parked auto.

Miss Kingery was treated for bruises.

Daring Helicopter Crews Land At UAL Wreck Site

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 5 (AP)—Daring Army helicopter crews today finally succeeded in landing on a tiny pinnacle 2,600 feet above the Grand Canyon floor where a United airliner crashed last Saturday after colliding with a TWA plane in a tragedy that took 128 lives.

They found further evidence of a collision of the two giant airliners in commercial aviation's worst accident.

The first helicopter to reach the almost inaccessible spot was piloted by Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., who said the landing was made on a spot no larger than the 'copter itself.

Experts had predicted neither helicopters or ground crews would ever reach the crash site.

"If you misjudge the distance by 10 or 15 feet," Spriggs said, "you would drop maybe 1,000 feet into the canyon. It's real dangerous."

Spriggs and W. O. Howard Proctor of Kings Mountain, N.C., brought out a piece of cowling UAL engineers said definitely was from a DC7 and another piece painted red and white which Gordon Gilmore, TWA publicist, said bore markings "similar" to those of TWA's Superconstellations.

R. P. (Jack) Parshall, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator, said it had not been determined if the white and red striped metal was from the TWA plane.

A second helicopter was flown in by C. W. O. Bill Pierson of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Lt. Paul Walter of Washington, Pa. They dropped two mountain climbers, Raymond Batson and L. David Lewis of Boulder, Colo., on the top of the rock spur where the wreckage lies

National Debt 272 Billion, $1,623 For Each American

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The government reported today the national debt at the end of the 1956 fiscal year totaled $272,750,813,649.

That figures out to about $1,623 each for every man, woman and child in the country based on latest population estimates of about 168 million.

The Treasury's final daily statement for the fiscal year ending June 30 showed the debt was reduced by $1,623,409,153 from a total of $274,374,222,802 on July 1, 1955.

This is well under the permanent debt ceiling limit of 275 billion dollars set by law.

However, during the last year the government ran close to the 281-billion-dollar temporary limit on occasion. The debt subject to the ceiling touched the highest point in history, $280,310,000,000 last Jan. 4.

For the last two years Congress has permitted a temporary hike in the ceiling to 281 billion dollars to tide the Treasury over the lean taxation period when it has to borrow to keep the governmen going. Congress has passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill to set the temporary ceiling three billion dollars lower—at 278 billion—during the fiscal year which started July 1.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told Congress last month an expected surplus of nearly two billion dollars for the 1956 fiscal year would be used to reduce the debt. He recommended the 278-billion-dollar figure, saying that by watching matters carefully he believed the government could live within the lower ceiling

'Severe Punishment' For Revolt Leaders Demanded In Poland

BERLIN, July 5 (AP) — Polish newspapers and broadcasts stepped up today their demands for "severe punishment" of leaders of the Poznan worker rebellion.

They ignored American and other Western appeals for "humane" treatment of workers jailed after the bloody three-day uprising last week.

The Polish United Workers—Communist—party announced it has received a flood of letters and telegrams from all over the country "expressing confidence in party and government."

ADN, the East German news agency, quoted the messages from workers, farmers and youths as "demanding severe punishment of the ringleaders of the Poznan provocation."

Warsaw radio made no mention of the findings of a special government commission — which has life and death powers—now in the city of Poznan investigating the revolt. Evidence collected by the commission apparently will be used to stage treason trials of those blamed for the uprising that left hundreds dead and wounded.

The radio was silent also on secret police trials now going on of "secondary" violators among the rebel workers.

The daily life of most people in Poznan, a city of 365,000 apparently is returning to normal.

Reached by telephone from Berlin, the American ambassador in Warsaw, Joseph E. Jacobs, said: "As far as I have heard, everything seems to be quite normal in Poznan and elsewhere in Poland."

In another telephone interview, Lech Jestka, editor of the Communist newspaper in Poznan Gazeta Poznanska, said the special commission is still in the city and soon will make proposals to Warsaw to improve the situation.

In the meantime, Jestka said, more than one million zlotys—$250,000 at the official rate—has been paid back in "tax rebates to the workers of the Stalin (Zispo) railway car works."

It was the Zispo workers who touched off the revolt June 28 with a general strike after hearing that some of their delegates had been arrested by secret police.

Radium Watch Dial No Hazard

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — A Bureau of Standards specialist says you don't have to worry about the radiation given off by your luminous watch dial—unless you should eat the dial.

Dr. Lauriston S. Taylor, chairman of the National Committee on Radiation Protection, gave the opinion at the request of Chairman Holifield (D-Calif) of a House Government Operations subcommittee which has taken testimony on radiation hazards. Holifield made Taylor's letter public today.

Dr. H. Bentley Glass, Johns Hopkins University geneticist, told the subcommittee June 18 that the total amount of radiation absorbed by an individual's sex organs in his reproductive lifetime had an effect on the mutations that would be caused among his descendants.

Glass said even luminous watch dials contributed to the radiation received. The total radiation received from such sources and even nuclear weapons tests at the present rate, Glass said, is still well below the danger level.

Taylor wrote Holifield that an "unreasonable but understandable interpretation" of a news story on Glass' testimony had resulted in a flood of telephone calls to the Bureau.

Watch dials, Taylor wrote, constitute "no hazard to the individual."

Police Release Thief By Mistake

DETROIT, July 5 (INS) — Red-faced Detroit police were trying extra hard today to re-capture Carl J. Thole, 28, who is wanted for grand larceny and a parole violation.

Police shyly admitted they released Thole from the city jail by mistake. They said he stole a fellow prisoner's identification.

Truman Doesn't Want Kefauver To Be Nominee

[By The Associated Press]

Former President Harry S. Truman reiterated Thursday he wants to "remain neutral," but made plain he would rather not see Sen. Estes Kefauver win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have an inclination to somebody else besides Kefauver," Truman said in New York where he breakfasted with Gov. Averell Harriman, a contender for the nomination.

"We did not discuss candidates," Truman told reporters. Truman said he and Harriman "talked about everything under the sun—my trip to Europe, the forthcoming Democratic convention, the welfare of the world."

Thursday's political news was mostly Democratic, with Republicans quiet for the time being.

In Washington, Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) predicted most of the Southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson on the first ballot at next month's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson "looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three Southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot."

Kefauver said in Portia, Ark., he has "a little better than 250 votes now" for the presidential nomination. Kefauver, who said he would decline the vice presidential nomination if it were offered him, discounted an assertion by supporters of Stevenson that the former Illinois governor has some 500 delegates lined up.

Stevenson "hasn't got anything like 500 delegates" supporting him, Kefauver said. To get the nomination 686½ votes are needed.

Stevenson, meanwhile, began what he described as a "listening tour" of southern Iowa.

New ESB Building Proposed By Kimble

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—Robert S. Kimble, chairman of the Employment Security Board, proposed a new office building today for his department which he said the State would own eventually without paying a penny.

Kimble disclosed the board would like to locate in a Baltimore redevelopment area near the Fifth Regiment Armory which will include a state office building.

He said the plans are for the three-story building to be financed privately. Funds from the federal government would pay the rent and go toward purchase of the building within 25 years. The state then would take title.

The Department of Employment Security now is renting space costing more than $160,000 a year in three office buildings in Baltimore.

Second Headwaiter Of Waldorf Indicted

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—A second headwaiter of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel was indicted today on charges of failing to pay federal income taxes on tips.

Arthur Hagedorn, 54, was accused by a Brooklyn grand jury of cheating the government out of $11,781 on his 1952 and 1953 income tax returns.

Hagedorn was the successor as Waldorf headwaiter for 65-year-old Hans Paul, who on April 24 was sentenced to four months in prison and fined $7,500. Paul had been charged with failure to report more than $67,000 received in tips between 1949 and 1952.

TRUCK RIDE ENDS IN BOY'S DEATH—Ambulance drivers wrap a blanket around the body of 9-year-old Joseph Edward DeLeach, Jr., just after he was crushed to death under the overturned truck near Atlanta yesterday. The boy had begged his father (squatting at head of body) to let him ride in the truck which DeLeach operated. The father agreed. A little later the truck and an automobile were in collision. The youngster was thrown from the cab and pinned under the wheels. (AP Photofax)

Prisoner Injured In Escape Attempt

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—A 21-year-old prisoner attempting to escape from the Maryland Penitentiary here fell 60 feet from the wall of the west wing cell house late today and was seriously injured.

The man, identified as Doyle Delmar Royal, who was serving a 20-year sentence for seven armed holdups and five auto thefts, had pulled himself up rain spouting attached to the wall and was 20 feet from the top and possible freedom when he fell.

Baby's Abductor

lived in a $35,000 home here for four years.

Elaborate efforts were made to avoid frightening the kidnaper away from the area of the fake ransom packages. All police withdrew from sight. Newspapermen and photographers were directed to leave the scene, except for three who were allowed to look on from concealed positions.

But the kidnaper apparently came nowhere near the packages.

It was Nassau County's second kidnaping of a child in less than nine months. Last Oct. 31, 3-year-old Stephen Damman was snatched from in front of a supermarket at East Meadow, about three miles from here. No trace of him ever has been found.

The FBI was not immediately involved in the Weinberger kidnaping. G-men enter a kidnaping investigation under the federal Lindbergh kidnaping law when a victim is known to have been taken across state lines. However, if the victim is not returned in seven days, it becomes a legal assumption that state lines have been crossed and the kidnaping can become a federal offense punishable by death.

The only possible clue to the kidnaper came from two teen-agers. They claimed to have seen a shabby car with a stranger in it parked about 200 feet from the Weinberger home before Peter's disappearance in midafternoon.

Sobeloff Reports Expected Today

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Majority and minority reports from the Senate Judiciary Committee on Simon E. Sobeloff's nomination to be a judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals were not completed in time for submission to the Senate today.

Latest indications were that the reports would be filed tomorrow. This was the word from Sen. Butler (R-Md), who is preparing the majority report, and Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), who is drawing up the minority report.

The Judiciary Committee, at a meeting last Friday, set no deadline for submission of the reports but specified that they should not be filed before today.

The committee voted 9-2 to recommend Senate confirmation of Sobeloff's nomination, submitted by President Eisenhower on July 14 of last year.

bute federal school aid to the states on the basis of one per cent of their total income tax payments.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa), who was presiding, said in response to a question by Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif) that adoption of the amendment took out the antisegregation amendment. This was so because the Gwinn amendment substituted for the entire section of the measure which included the ban on aid to states which refuse to integrate their schools. From the galleries a number of members could be heard exclaiming surprise.

In the end, the House by a rollcall vote of 250-168 eliminated the Gwinn amendment. It originally was adopted by a nonrecord 122-120 vote.

Powell, one of the three Negroes in the House, came right back with a proposal to require states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid. It was adopted, 177-123, and later riveted into the measure by the rollcall vote.

Andrew Johnson was a Democrat but was nominated and elected on the Republican ticket with Abraham Lincoln.

Former President Harry S. Truman reiterated Thursday he wants to "remain neutral," but made plain he would rather not see Sen. Estes Kefauver win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have an inclination to somebody else besides Kefauver," Truman said in New York where he breakfasted with Gov. Averell Harriman, a contender for the nomination.

"We did not discuss candidates," Truman told reporters. Truman said he and Harriman "talked about everything under the sun—my trip to Europe, the forthcoming Democratic convention, the welfare of the world."

Thursday's political news was mostly Democratic, with Republicans quiet for the time being.

In Washington, Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) predicted most of the Southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson on the first ballot at next month's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson "looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three Southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot."

Kefauver said in Portia, Ark., he has "a little better than 250 votes now" for the presidential nomination. Kefauver, who said he would decline the vice presidential nomination if it were offered him, discounted an assertion by supporters of Stevenson that the former Illinois governor has some 500 delegates lined up.

Stevenson "hasn't got anything like 500 delegates" supporting him, Kefauver said. To get the nomination 686½ votes are needed.

Stevenson, meanwhile, began what he described as a "listening tour" of southern Iowa.

New ESB Building Proposed By Kimble

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—Robert S. Kimble, chairman of the Employment Security Board, proposed a new office building today for his department which he said the State would own eventually without paying a penny.

Kimble disclosed the board would like to locate in a Baltimore redevelopment area near the Fifth Regiment Armory which will include a state office building.

He said the plans are for the three-story building to be financed privately. Funds from the federal government would pay the rent and go toward purchase of the building within 25 years. The state then would take title.

The Department of Employment Security now is renting space costing more than $160,000 a year in three office buildings in Baltimore.

Second Headwaiter Of Waldorf Indicted

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—A second headwaiter of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel was indicted today on charges of failing to pay federal income taxes on tips.

Arthur Hagedorn, 54, was accused by a Brooklyn grand jury of cheating the government out of $11,781 on his 1952 and 1953 income tax returns.

Hagedorn was the successor as Waldorf headwaiter for 65-year-old Hans Paul, who on April 24 was sentenced to four months in prison and fined $7,500. Paul had been charged with failure to report more than $67,000 received in tips between 1949 and 1952.

TRUCK RIDE ENDS IN BOY'S DEATH—Ambulance drivers wrap a blanket around the body of 9-year-old Joseph Edward DeLeach, Jr., just after he was crushed to death under the overturned truck near Atlanta yesterday. The boy had begged his father (squatting at head of body) to let him ride in the truck which DeLeach operated. The father agreed. A little later the truck and an automobile were in collision. The youngster was thrown from the cab and pinned under the wheels. (AP Photofax)

Prisoner Injured In Escape Attempt

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—A 21-year-old prisoner attempting to escape from the Maryland Penitentiary here fell 60 feet from the wall of the west wing cell house late today and was seriously injured.

The man, identified as Doyle Delmar Royal, who was serving a 20-year sentence for seven armed holdups and five auto thefts, had pulled himself up rain spouting attached to the wall and was 20 feet from the top and possible freedom when he fell.

lived in a $35,000 home here for four years.

Elaborate efforts were made to avoid frightening the kidnaper away from the area of the fake ransom packages. All police withdrew from sight. Newspapermen and photographers were directed to leave the scene, except for three who were allowed to look on from concealed positions.

But the kidnaper apparently came nowhere near the packages.

It was Nassau County's second kidnaping of a child in less than nine months. Last Oct. 31, 3-year-old Stephen Damman was snatched from in front of a supermarket at East Meadow, about three miles from here. No trace of him ever has been found.

The FBI was not immediately involved in the Weinberger kidnaping. G-men enter a kidnaping investigation under the federal Lindbergh kidnaping law when a victim is known to have been taken across state lines. However, if the victim is not returned in seven days, it becomes a legal assumption that state lines have been crossed and the kidnaping can become a federal offense punishable by death.

The only possible clue to the kidnaper came from two teen-agers. They claimed to have seen a shabby car with a stranger in it parked about 200 feet from the Weinberger home before Peter's disappearance in midafternoon.

Sobeloff Reports Expected Today

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Majority and minority reports from the Senate Judiciary Committee on Simon E. Sobeloff's nomination to be a judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals were not completed in time for submission to the Senate today.

Latest indications were that the reports would be filed tomorrow. This was the word from Sen. Butler (R-Md), who is preparing the majority report, and Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), who is drawing up the minority report.

The Judiciary Committee, at a meeting last Friday, set no deadline for submission of the reports but specified that they should not be filed before today.

The committee voted 9-2 to recommend Senate confirmation of Sobeloff's nomination, submitted by President Eisenhower on July 14 of last year.

Vote Follows

bute federal school aid to the states on the basis of one per cent of their total income tax payments.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa), who was presiding, said in response to a question by Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif) that adoption of the amendment took out the antisegregation amendment. This was so because the Gwinn amendment substituted for the entire section of the measure which included the ban on aid to states which refuse to integrate their schools. From the galleries a number of members could be heard exclaiming surprise.

In the end, the House by a rollcall vote of 250-168 eliminated the Gwinn amendment. It originally was adopted by a nonrecord 122-120 vote.

Powell, one of the three Negroes in the House, came right back with a proposal to require states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid. It was adopted, 177-123, and later riveted into the measure by the rollcall vote.

Andrew Johnson was a Democrat but was nominated and elected on the Republican ticket with Abraham Lincoln.

Case Of Man Found Dead In Burned Home Probed

Autopsy Discloses Victim Shot In Abdomen

FULLERTON, Md., July 5 (AP)—The death of a 75-year-old man, whose body was found in the smouldering ruins of his house early today, was being studied by Baltimore County detectives normally assigned to homicide cases.

Police said the Emil Mehl was found on his bed with a .22-caliber rifle beside him. One discharged cartridge shell was in the gun.

An autopsy disclosed Mehl had been shot in the abdomen before he died of carbon monoxide from the fumes of the fire.

Mehl, partly paralyzed for two years but able to get around in a wheelchair, lived in the house with a housekeeper and nurse, Mrs. Cecilia Kerner. Mrs. Kerner said she left yesterday morning to visit a relative.

A neighbor, Joseph Beck, who lives about a quarter of a mile away, said he heard what sounded like five or six shots from the direction of the Mehl home about 1:45 a. m., but attributed the noise to exploding firecrackers.

About 4 a. m., Beck added, he again heard what sounded like a shot and saw flames spouting from the house.

He called for his wife to summon the fire department and ran to the house but wasn't able to enter because of the smoke and flames.

Mrs. Kerner said a .22-caliber rifle was kept in the kitchen, but that the cartridges were in her room on the second floor. She said she "doubted" that Mehl could have gone upstairs to get them.

Many lizards have tails that can be re-grown if they are removed.

Five Drownings Mar 4th Of July Holiday In State

[By The Associated Press]

Water was more deadly than traffic in Maryland over the Fourth of July holiday. Five persons drowned and one was killed on the state's highways.

The drowning victims:

Bobby Earl Golden, 26, crewman of the Coast Guard Cutter Unimak.

Norita Simmons, 8, of Dundalk.

Eugene Dukes, 10, Baltimore Negro.

Floyd Goodman, 40, of Washington, D. C.

John White, 31, of Lancaster, Pa.

The automobile accident victim was Airman 3.C. Robert J. Vachon, 23, stationed at Andrews Air Force Base.

The deaths occurred from 6 p. m. Tuesday until midnight Wednesday.

In other violent deaths, Andre Eric Richardson, 2-year-old Negro of Baltimore, fell from a third-floor apartment window and Martti Ware, 32-year-old Finnish seaman, was killed when he fell from a ladder on the S.S. Hermes.

Near Lancaster, Pa. Wednesday O. L. Jones, 35, of Sharptown, Md. was one of two men killed when their truck went off the highway and plunged into a pond. The other was John T. Stanley of Laurel, Del.

2,000 Given Shots In Polio Emergency

EASTON, Md., July 5 (AP)—The Talbot County Health Department has vaccinated nearly 2,000 persons since last Friday in an effort to stem the county's polio outbreak.

A three-year-old Negro girl became the ninth case of polio last Tuesday. The child, one of six children, lives about three miles from Easton and is a paralytic case.

A line waiting outside the department's office numbered more than 100 children when it opened for free inoculations today.

Sheriff Appointed

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 15 (AP)—Charles C. Conaway today was appointed sheriff of Carroll County, succeeding William M. Buckingham, who died last month. Buckingham filled the vacancy created by the death of Charles W. Conaway, who died last August.

Baltimore Girl To Attend School In West Berlin

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — A perky 16-year-old Southern High School coed will attend classes in West Berlin next Fall—a trip that had its origin with the visit five years ago of a leader of the West Berlin Youth Parliament.

The young German, Wolfgang Bernhardt, was impressed by Southern High and its principal, John H. Schwatka. The two exchanged letters over the year.

Finally, Bernhardt asked for a Southern High School student to come over to study for a year in his country.

Mary Ann Schneider, daughter of a Maryland Drydock Co. machinist, was selected.

Her parents will pay her passage, but while there all expenses will be borne by the youth parliament.

Southern High previously has exchanged students with schools in Oklahoma City and New Rochelle, N.Y.

State 4-H Team World's Cattle Judging Champ

NEWCASTLE, England, July 5 (AP)—A team of four young Maryland 4-H Clubbers are the world's champion dairy cattle judges.

Yesterday they took first place in the 27th annual international dairy cattle judging contest here and brought back to the Free State its fifth world championship. Marylanders won the top prize in 1922, 1923, 1931 and 1951.

Members of the team are Eugene C. Bay, White Hall, Baltimore County; Ian J. Forrest, Relay, Baltimore County; Franklin L. Walbert, Henderson, Queen Anne's County, and Patsy L. Messer, Route 2, Gaithersburg, Montgomery County.

Accompanying the team were two coaches, W. Max Buckel, assistant county agent for Baltimore County, and John L. Morris of the University of Maryland's extension service.

Seventeen-year-old Patsy Messer was the third highest individual judge on points. Walbert was fourth, Bay fifth and Forrest eleventh.

They are scheduled to return to Maryland July 20.

Jewelry Store Looted By Window Breaker

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — An early-rising thief smashed two front windows of a downtown jewelry store after dawn today and escaped with an estimated $2,500 worth of watches and rings.

It was the third window breaking at the S. and N. Katz Jewelry Co. in three months. Vice-President Daniel W. Crone Jr. said losses amounted to about $3,600.

Today's burglar took about 20 watches worth $1,500, the company said, and about 13 rings valued at about $1,000. The two previous burglaries netted about $500 and $600.

Accord Reached By D'Alesandro, Birmingham

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—Mayor D'Alesandro and his elected successor as Democratic national committeeman, Michael J. Birmingham, issued a proclamation of peaceful co-existence today.

Birmingham agreed to find room on the delegation to the national convention in Chicago next month for Philip J. Perlman. He was among several old workhorses left out when a new combine captured the state convention in May and among other things elected Birmingham as national committeeman.

The mayor in turn promised to "facilitate the carrying out" of Birmingham's duties as new committeeman.

They'll start out by driving together to Chicago on Aug. 9 in Birmingham's car. Two days later, they'll attend a meeting of the national committee where D'Alesandro will introduce Birmingham.

Although Birmingham is the committeeman-elect, he doesn't take over officially until after the convention. That means, Mayor D'Alesandro still will hold the important post for the duration of the convention which starts Aug. 13.

There had been suspicion in some quarters that the Mayor might make full use of the situation and play the lone wolf in Chicago by ignoring the new leaders.

Case Of Man Found Dead In Burned Home Probed

Autopsy Discloses Victim Shot In Abdomen

FULLERTON, Md., July 5 (AP)—The death of a 75-year-old man, whose body was found in the smouldering ruins of his house early today, was being studied by Baltimore County detectives normally assigned to homicide cases.

Police said the Emil Mehl was found on his bed with a .22-caliber rifle beside him. One discharged cartridge shell was in the gun.

An autopsy disclosed Mehl had been shot in the abdomen before he died of carbon monoxide from the fumes of the fire.

Mehl, partly paralyzed for two years but able to get around in a wheelchair, lived in the house with a housekeeper and nurse, Mrs. Cecilia Kerner. Mrs. Kerner said she left yesterday morning to visit a relative.

A neighbor, Joseph Beck, who lives about a quarter of a mile away, said he heard what sounded like five or six shots from the direction of the Mehl home about 1:45 a. m., but attributed the noise to exploding firecrackers.

About 4 a. m., Beck added, he again heard what sounded like a shot and saw flames spouting from the house.

He called for his wife to summon the fire department and ran to the house but wasn't able to enter because of the smoke and flames.

Mrs. Kerner said a .22-caliber rifle was kept in the kitchen, but that the cartridges were in her room on the second floor. She said she "doubted" that Mehl could have gone upstairs to get them.

Nagging Backache Sleepless Nights

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Five Drownings Mar 4th Of July Holiday In State

[By The Associated Press]

Water was more deadly than traffic in Maryland over the Fourth of July holiday. Five persons drowned and one was killed on the state's highways.

The drowning victims:

Bobby Earl Golden, 26, crewman of the Coast Guard Cutter Unimak.

Norita Simmons, 8, of Dundalk.

Eugene Dukes, 10, Baltimore Negro.

Floyd Goodman, 40, of Washington, D. C.

John White, 31, of Lancaster, Pa.

The automobile accident victim was Airman 3.C. Robert J. Vachon, 23, stationed at Andrews Air Force Base.

The deaths occurred from 6 p. m. Tuesday until midnight Wednesday.

In other violent deaths, Andre Eric Richardson, 2-year-old Negro of Baltimore, fell from a third-floor apartment window and Martti Ware, 32-year-old Finnish seaman, was killed when he fell from a ladder on the S.S. Hermes.

Near Lancaster, Pa. Wednesday O. L. Jones, 35, of Sharptown, Md. was one of two men killed when their truck went off the highway and plunged into a pond. The other was John T. Stanley of Laurel, Del.

2,000 Given Shots In Polio Emergency

EASTON, Md., July 5 (AP)—The Talbot County Health Department has vaccinated nearly 2,000 persons since last Friday in an effort to stem the county's polio outbreak.

A three-year-old Negro girl became the ninth case of polio last Tuesday. The child, one of six children, lives about three miles from Easton and is a paralytic case.

A line waiting outside the department's office numbered more than 100 children when it opened for free inoculations today.

Sheriff Appointed

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 15 (AP)—Charles C. Conaway today was appointed sheriff of Carroll County, succeeding William M. Buckingham, who died last month. Buckingham filled the vacancy created by the death of Charles W. Conaway, who died last August.

Baltimore Girl To Attend School In West Berlin

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — A perky 16-year-old Southern High School coed will attend classes in West Berlin next Fall—a trip that had its origin with the visit five years ago of a leader of the West Berlin Youth Parliament.

The young German, Wolfgang Bernhardt, was impressed by Southern High and its principal, John H. Schwatka. The two exchanged letters over the year.

Finally, Bernhardt asked for a Southern High School student to come over to study for a year in his country.

Mary Ann Schneider, daughter of a Maryland Drydock Co. machinist, was selected.

Her parents will pay her passage, but while there all expenses will be borne by the youth parliament.

Southern High previously has exchanged students with schools in Oklahoma City and New Rochelle, N.Y.

State 4-H Team World's Cattle Judging Champ

NEWCASTLE, England, July 5 (AP)—A team of four young Maryland 4-H Clubbers are the world's champion dairy cattle judges.

Yesterday they took first place in the 27th annual international dairy cattle judging contest here and brought back to the Free State its fifth world championship. Marylanders won the top prize in 1922, 1923, 1931 and 1951.

Members of the team are Eugene C. Bay, White Hall, Baltimore County; Ian J. Forrest, Relay, Baltimore County; Franklin L. Walbert, Henderson, Queen Anne's County, and Patsy L. Messer, Route 2, Gaithersburg, Montgomery County.

Accompanying the team were two coaches, W. Max Buckel, assistant county agent for Baltimore County, and John L. Morris of the University of Maryland's extension service.

Seventeen-year-old Patsy Messer was the third highest individual judge on points. Walbert was fourth, Bay fifth and Forrest eleventh.

They are scheduled to return to Maryland July 20.

Jewelry Store Looted By Window Breaker

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — An early-rising thief smashed two front windows of a downtown jewelry store after dawn today and escaped with an estimated $2,500 worth of watches and rings.

It was the third window breaking at the S. and N. Katz Jewelry Co. in three months. Vice-President Daniel W. Crone Jr. said losses amounted to about $3,600.

Today's burglar took about 20 watches worth $1,500, the company said, and about 13 rings valued at about $1,000. The two previous burglaries netted about $500 and $600.

Accord Reached By D'Alesandro, Birmingham

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—Mayor D'Alesandro and his elected successor as Democratic national committeeman, Michael J. Birmingham, issued a proclamation of peaceful co-existence today.

Birmingham agreed to find room on the delegation to the national convention in Chicago next month for Philip J. Perlman. He was among several old workhorses left out when a new combine captured the state convention in May and among other things elected Birmingham as national committeeman.

The mayor in turn promised to "facilitate the carrying out" of Birmingham's duties as new committeeman.

They'll start out by driving together to Chicago on Aug. 9 in Birmingham's car. Two days later, they'll attend a meeting of the national committee where D'Alesandro will introduce Birmingham.

Although Birmingham is the committeeman-elect, he doesn't take over officially until after the convention. That means, Mayor D'Alesandro still will hold the important post for the duration of the convention which starts Aug. 13.

There had been suspicion in some quarters that the Mayor might make full use of the situation and play the lone wolf in Chicago by ignoring the new leaders.

World Farmers Get Less Money

ROME, Italy, July 5 (AP)—The world's farmers are getting less money for their crops, but the hungry still have to pay more for food than they can afford.

That was the hard outlook in the 1956 report of the Food and Agriculture Organization to the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

The summary, released recently, said:

1. "Although world production has kept pace with world popuiation increases, the increases—in food production—have been uneven. Per capita production in many of the less-developed countries remains appreciably less than before the second world war.

2. "Over large areas of the world the bulk of the population remains underfed and inadequately clothed and housed.

3. "At the same time, large surpluses of some agricultural products have accumulated, primarily in the dollar area, and there has been a marked fall of farm prices in many countries.

4. "Marketing and distributing costs remain constant, or even increased in some countries, so that the lower prices were not passed on proportionately to the consumer."

The report said the decline in the farmers' purchasing power, poses "a threat to general economic stability."

FAO said the problem still is:

1. To raise the levels of consumption "by bringing agricultural produce within reach of low-income consumers through economic and technical measures," and

2. "Teaching processing and other methods that will increase the nutritive value of the diet . . ."

Army To Draft 14,000 Men In September

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 14,000 men in September.

This is 1,000 more than the previously announced quotas for July and August. It also is the largest monthly draft by a single military service since January 1955.

The September call brings to 2,084,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the adoption of Selective Service in September 1950.

Man Injured When Picnic Grill Explodes

Howard Smith, 35, husband of Mrs. Betty Lou Smith, 212 South Lee Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Wednesday after being injured while on a picnic with his family.

Hospital attaches said Smith sustained burns about the chest, neck and left arm when a picnic grill exploded.

Farm Queen Contest To Be July 28

Instead of the annual picnic the Allegany County Farm Bureau and Associated Women will hold a covered dish supper this year. It is to be held July 28 at the Union Grove camp grounds.

The supper will be held at 6 o'clock with the Farm Bureau providing sandwiches, the Union Grove Homemakers Club, beverages; and the farm families, covered dishes.

Allegany County farm queen will be selected at 8:30. Mrs. Harry Barton and Mrs. Mabel White are cochairmen of the group singing and program. Some state officers will be guests for the evening.

Two contestants who have registered with Mrs. Edgar M. Matthews are Miss Helen Paxton, Williams Road, and Miss Nancy Vandervort, Danville.

A student at Fort Hill High School, where she is taking a commercial course, Miss Paxton is a member of the school's senior band, earned her "S" letter award, is a member of Beta Tri-Hi-Y and is active in dramatics. She helps on her grandfather's farm on Williams Road, and was a contestant last year also.

Miss Vandervort, who has an outstanding 4-H record, will represent Allegany County in the public speaking contest at Club Week at the University of Maryland August 6-11.

Another innovation in the program this year is the fact that instead of having the program at Timonium at noon, it will be in the evening, beginning with a dinner at 6 o'clock. The state judging will be August 29.

Final plans for the Farm Queen contest and covered dish supper will be made at a meeting of the Associated Women July 10, instead of the regular meeting later in the month. It will be held at Lazarus Fountain Room at 1 o'clock.

The balloon tire was developed in 1923.

Gail Young Becomes Bride Of Arthur Derr Golladay

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Young, 813 Braddock Road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gail Antoinette Young, to Arthur Derr Golladay, son of Mrs. A. N. Golladay, 403 Washington Street, and the late Dr. Golladay.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized yesterday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church with Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, D. D., officiating.

Festival To OpenMonday

Final plans for the festival, July 9-14, were formulated and Mrs. Ann Kammauf and her committee were commended by the Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company for raising $1,224 for the hospital fund.

Mrs. Elda Schell is chairman for the festival, which will be held on the fire hall grounds. Mrs. Elizabeth Zembower has charge of the bake sale.

The amount for the hospital fund was the largest ever raised. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Leola McClellan, Mrs. Vera Jewell, Mrs. Leola Knieriem and Mrs. Gladys Burkey.

The Lord's Prayer was said in unison, followed by the flag salute. Mrs. Knieriem presided at the business session, and gave highlights of the state convention. Routine reports were given and Mrs. Flo Alexander gave a check to the firemen as profit from the banquets. Mrs. Mary Swan reported Mrs. Margaret O'Rourke sick; Mrs. Helen Crow has a broken foot and Mrs. Mary Jane Tyree is in the hospital.

Because of the festival the next meeting will be July 29.

A social hour concluded the evening, with refreshments served by Mrs. Leona Long, Mrs. Kammauff and Miss Elizabeth Close.

Club To Honor Miss Maude Bean

LaVale Homemakers Club will entertain with a tea, honoring Miss Maude A. Bean, former home demonstration agent, following the meeting Monday.

It will be held in the LaVale Fire Hall at 1 p. m. Reports from College Park are to be given at the business session.

The Great Salt lake in Utah is saltier than the ocean.

Club Holds Anniversary Celebration

The Pleasant Grove Homemakers Club celebrated its 35th anniversary at the Baltimore Pike Fire Hall recently.

Mrs. Rhoda Clingerman, president, welcomed the members and visitors. Mrs. Adolph Norris read the Homemaker's Creed and Mrs. Melvin Robinette conducted devotions.

Mrs. Sherman Weatherholt was in charge of the program for the evening and gave the history and highlights of the club's activities for the past 35 years. Miss Maude Bean, retired county demonstration agent, was presented a gift and a corsage.

The graduates of Rural Woman's Short Course were honored and also presented corsages. They were Mrs. Emm.. Minke, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, Mrs. Emma Hinkle, Mrs. Rhod.. Clingerman, and Mrs. Harry Northcraft. Other graduates are Mrs. Perry Wilson, Mrs. Thelma Gordon, and Mrs. John Breakiron.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilson lead group singing, and a quartet composed of Marlene Clark, Sandra Bruner, Margaret Conners and Mrs. Harry Raines presented several numbers. Solos were sung by Miss Marlene Clark and Mrs. Margery Chambers.

The program concluded with a memorial service conducted by Mrs. Howard Perrin for the seven deceased members of the club.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Weatherholt at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. Melvin Robinette, Mrs. Ralph Garland, and Mrs. Lillian Smith.

Esther Evans Will Have Sister As Maid Of Honor

Miss Esther M. Evans, fiancee of Evan N. Evans, has selected her sister, Miss Leona Evans to be her maid of honor and only attendant for her marriage July 29.

The ceremony is to be solemnized at 7 p. m. in Living Stone Church of the Brethren, with Rev. Arthur Scrogum officiating.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Evans, 681 Fayette Street, the bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1955, and is employed by the G. C. Murphy Company.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Evans, Valley Road. He is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1954, and is employed as an electrician apprentice by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception will be held in the church social hall.

Social Chart

The Cosmopolitan Club will meet at 7 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. John Cunningham, Mt. Savage. Club dues will be collected.

Pleasant Grove WSCS will hold a festival July 28 on the church grounds.

A rummage sale will be held today at 10 a. m., at 73 North Centre Street, by the Ruth Circle of Park Place Church.

The Hap-O-Happy Club will hold its annual picnic tomorrow at Mrs. Vada Barncord's cottage. A bus will leave St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church at noon.

The Past Councilors Club of Our Flag Council D of A has postponed its meeting this week.

Manhattan Temple Past Chiefs Club will hold a picnic meeting tonight at the Celanese pool.

Bible Class Picnic To Be Held July 10

The Willing Workers Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a picnic in Grove 1 of Constitution Park July 10, beginning at 2 p. m. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Raymond Hewitt will be in charge of arrangements. She is being assisted by Mrs. George Seibert, Mrs. Howard Twigg, Mrs. Donald Moffatt, Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, Mrs. C. W. Brotemarkle, Mrs. S. A. Gleichman, Mrs. Bruce Scharf, Mrs. T. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. Edith McKenzie and Miss Elvina Lylia.

The South magnetic pole is located directly south of Sydney, Australia, about 1,800 miles from the South pole.

Festival, Bazaar Are Planned

An outdoor festival for August 15 and the annual turkey dinner and bazaar for October were discussed at a meeting of Park Place WSCS. Miss Geraldine Wolfe was appointed secretary of literature and publications, and the budget was outlined. Mrs. Lottie Lucas was welcomed as a member.

Mrs. Herbert Cessna presided. The program included group singing, prayer, a reading, poem, Scripture reading and short talks. Taking part were Mrs. Raymond Koontz, Miss Wolfe, Mrs. Bruce Bowers, Mrs. Blanche Comer, Mrs. Stanley Barmoy and Mrs. Reginal Wolfe.

Local BPW Wins Third Prize In National Contest

The Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Cumberland placed third in the national biennial program contest.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs announced awards to local clubs in the biennial contest last evening at the dinner, at Miami Beach, Fla. The winners were Norfolk, Va., first, awarded $300; Roxboro, N. C., second, receiving $250; Cumberland, third, $200; Toledo, Ohio, fourth, $150; and Belle Glade, Fla., fifth, $100. Entries came from clubs in 46 states.

Miss Orpha - Bonita Pritchard, state program coordinator, also won the state prize for her club for the second year for the best coordinated program. The club received a sterling silver vase from the state. For the state program Miss Pritchard selected Browning's "Our Times Are in His Hands," and for the local theme, "The Time to Cast Away Stones."

Farm Queen Contest To Be July 28

Instead of the annual picnic the Allegany County Farm Bureau and Associated Women will hold a covered dish supper this year. It is to be held July 28 at the Union Grove camp grounds.

The supper will be held at 6 o'clock with the Farm Bureau providing sandwiches, the Union Grove Homemakers Club, beverages; and the farm families, covered dishes.

Allegany County farm queen will be selected at 8:30. Mrs. Harry Barton and Mrs. Mabel White are cochairmen of the group singing and program. Some state officers will be guests for the evening.

Two contestants who have registered with Mrs. Edgar M. Matthews are Miss Helen Paxton, Williams Road, and Miss Nancy Vandervort, Danville.

A student at Fort Hill High School, where she is taking a commercial course, Miss Paxton is a member of the school's senior band, earned her "S" letter award, is a member of Beta Tri-Hi-Y and is active in dramatics. She helps on her grandfather's farm on Williams Road, and was a contestant last year also.

Miss Vandervort, who has an outstanding 4-H record, will represent Allegany County in the public speaking contest at Club Week at the University of Maryland August 6-11.

Another innovation in the program this year is the fact that instead of having the program at Timonium at noon, it will be in the evening, beginning with a dinner at 6 o'clock. The state judging will be August 29.

Final plans for the Farm Queen contest and covered dish supper will be made at a meeting of the Associated Women July 10, instead of the regular meeting later in the month. It will be held at Lazarus Fountain Room at 1 o'clock.

The balloon tire was developed in 1923.

Gail Young Becomes Bride Of Arthur Derr Golladay

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Young, 813 Braddock Road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gail Antoinette Young, to Arthur Derr Golladay, son of Mrs. A. N. Golladay, 403 Washington Street, and the late Dr. Golladay.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized yesterday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church with Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, D. D., officiating.

Following a trip to Ocean City, the couple will reside at 403 Washington Street.

Festival To OpenMonday

Final plans for the festival, July 9-14, were formulated and Mrs. Ann Kammauf and her committee were commended by the Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company for raising $1,224 for the hospital fund.

Mrs. Elda Schell is chairman for the festival, which will be held on the fire hall grounds. Mrs. Elizabeth Zembower has charge of the bake sale.

The amount for the hospital fund was the largest ever raised. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Leola McClellan, Mrs. Vera Jewell, Mrs. Leola Knieriem and Mrs. Gladys Burkey.

The Lord's Prayer was said in unison, followed by the flag salute. Mrs. Knieriem presided at the business session, and gave highlights of the state convention. Routine reports were given and Mrs. Flo Alexander gave a check to the firemen as profit from the banquets. Mrs. Mary Swan reported Mrs. Margaret O'Rourke sick; Mrs. Helen Crow has a broken foot and Mrs. Mary Jane Tyree is in the hospital.

Because of the festival the next meeting will be July 29.

A social hour concluded the evening, with refreshments served by Mrs. Leona Long, Mrs. Kammauff and Miss Elizabeth Close.

Club To Honor Miss Maude Bean

LaVale Homemakers Club will entertain with a tea, honoring Miss Maude A. Bean, former home demonstration agent, following the meeting Monday.

It will be held in the LaVale Fire Hall at 1 p. m. Reports from College Park are to be given at the business session.

The Great Salt lake in Utah is saltier than the ocean.

Club Holds Anniversary Celebration

The Pleasant Grove Homemakers Club celebrated its 35th anniversary at the Baltimore Pike Fire Hall recently.

Mrs. Rhoda Clingerman, president, welcomed the members and visitors. Mrs. Adolph Norris read the Homemaker's Creed and Mrs. Melvin Robinette conducted devotions.

Mrs. Sherman Weatherholt was in charge of the program for the evening and gave the history and highlights of the club's activities for the past 35 years. Miss Maude Bean, retired county demonstration agent, was presented a gift and a corsage.

The graduates of Rural Woman's Short Course were honored and also presented corsages. They were Mrs. Emm. Minke, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, Mrs. Emma Hinkle, Mrs. Rhod. Clingerman, and Mrs. Harry Northcraft. Other graduates are Mrs. Perry Wilson, Mrs. Thelma Gordon, and Mrs. John Breakiron.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilson lead group singing, and a quartet composed of Marlene Clark, Sandra Bruner, Margaret Conners and Mrs. Harry Raines presented several numbers. Solos were sung by Miss Marlene Clark and Mrs. Margery Chambers.

The program concluded with a memorial service conducted by Mrs. Howard Perrin for the seven deceased members of the club.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Weatherholt at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. Melvin Robinette, Mrs. Ralph Garland, and Mrs. Lillian Smith.

Esther Evans Will Have Sister As Maid Of Honor

Miss Esther M. Evans, fiancee of Evan N. Evans, has selected her sister, Miss Leona Evans to be her maid of honor and only attendant for her marriage July 29.

The ceremony is to be solemnized at 7 p. m. in Living Stone Church of the Brethren, with Rev. Arthur Scrogum officiating.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Evans, 681 Fayette Street, the bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1955, and is employed by the G. C. Murphy Company.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Evans, Valley Road. He is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1954, and is employed as an electrician apprentice by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception will be held in the church social hall.

Social Chart

The Cosmopolitan Club will meet at 7 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. John Cunningham, Mt. Savage. Club dues will be collected.

Pleasant Grove WSCS will hold a festival July 28 on the church grounds.

A rummage sale will be held today at 10 a. m., at 73 North Centre Street, by the Ruth Circle of Park Place Church.

The Hap-O-Happy Club will hold its annual picnic tomorrow at Mrs. Vada Barncord's cottage. A bus will leave St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church at noon.

The Past Councilors Club of Our Flag Council D of A has postponed its meeting this week.

Manhattan Temple Past Chiefs Club will hold a picnic meeting tonight at the Celanese pool.

Bible Class Picnic To Be Held July 10

The Willing Workers Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a picnic in Grove 1 of Constitution Park July 10, beginning at 2 p. m. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Raymond Hewitt will be in charge of arrangements. She is being assisted by Mrs. George Seibert, Mrs. Howard Twigg, Mrs. Donald Moffatt, Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, Mrs. C. W. Brotemarkle, Mrs. S. A. Gleichman, Mrs. Bruce Scharf, Mrs. T. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. Edith McKenzie and Miss Elvina Lylia.

The South magnetic pole is located directly south of Sydney, Australia, about 1,800 miles from the South pole.

Festival, Bazaar Are Planned

An outdoor festival for August 15 and the annual turkey dinner and bazaar for October were discussed at a meeting of Park Place WSCS. Miss Geraldine Wolfe was appointed secretary of literature and publications, and the budget was outlined. Mrs. Lottie Lucas was welcomed as a member.

Mrs. Herbert Cessna presided. The program included group singing, prayer, a reading, poem, Scripture reading and short talks. Taking part were Mrs. Raymond Koontz, Miss Wolfe, Mrs. Bruce Bowers, Mrs. Blanche Comer, Mrs. Stanley Barmoy and Mrs. Reginal Wolfe.

Local BPW Wins Third Prize In National Contest

The Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Cumberland placed third in the national biennial program contest.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs announced awards to local clubs in the biennial contest last evening at the dinner, at Miami Beach, Fla. The winners were Norfolk, Va., first, awarded $300; Roxboro, N. C., second, receiving $250; Cumberland, third, $200; Toledo, Ohio, fourth, $150; and Belle Glade, Fla., fifth, $100. Entries came from clubs in 46 states.

Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, state program coordinator, also won the state prize for her club for the second year for the best coordinated program. The club received a sterling silver vase from the state. For the state program Miss Pritchard selected Browning's "Our Times Are in His Hands," and for the local theme, "The Time to Cast Away Stones."

While thousands of Independence Day speeches still echo through the land, our great Free State can feel justifiably proud that it is again matching patriotic words with deeds.

I refer specifically to Maryland's participation in the Freedom Crusade, the nationwide letter-writing campaign designed to help obtain the release of 11 Americans being held prisoners by the Chinese communists.

Americanism Demonstrated

Quite a few of our Free State citizens have said that they have written to the Red government in Peking, asking Chairman Mao Tse-tung to free the missionaries and businessmen who are still in Communist jails.

There could be no finer example of true Americanism.

Actually, by writing such letters in behalf of their fellow citizens, participants in the Freedom Crusade are demonstrating vividly that a pledge made in the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776, has not been forgotten.

That promise — the last words of the Declaration of Independence —was:

". . . we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Such unity was vital to the life of our new nation.

It is no less necessary today.

Through the Freedom Crusade, Americans are reaffirming their faith in the bond which was established so strongly 180 years ago.

Many Marylanders joined the Crusade after reading about it in the Baltimore Catholic Review.

Thousands more learned of it through Louis Azrael's widely-read newspaper column, and through the cooperation of other newsmen in the State.

Marylander In Group

Remember, one of the Red prisoners is from our own Free State.

He is Rev. Paul J. MacKensen Jr., a Lutheran missionary from Baltimore.

To try to help him and the other Americans, write to "Chairman Mao Tse-tung; Peking, China," requesting in a courteous manner that the prisoners be returned to freedom.

Very Rev. Harold W. Rigney, S.V.D., who originated the Freedom Crusade, has urged that the letters be sent airmail because "the misinformed Chinese will be astonished to see that so many Americans can afford it."

Along The Potomac

by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — The Fourth of July is rightly one of our most important holidays. It is interesting to note that Thomas Jefferson thought that the day that would be remembered would be July 2. That was the day the Continental Congress approved the resolution declaring the colonies free and independent. The day we honor is the one on which the Declaration of Independence was signed.

The Declaration of Independence is a unique document in that it not only set forth the reasons which impelled the Colonies to declare themselves free and independent, but it also set forth the basic principles on which the new government was to be built. The Constitution became the instrument for preserving the basic rights outlined in the Declaration of Independence.

Marylanders will be pleased to learn that my bill providing for another district judge for our state is included in the Omnibus Judgeship Bill. The need for another judge in Maryland is great. I have presented the Congress with the information necessary to substantiate our request for the additional judge. It now seems like the bill will pass.

Funds in the amount of $3,400,000 have received final approval by Congress for continuation of the work on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

The House Judiciary Committee has favorably reported a bill which clearly recognizes the right of states to prosecute subversive activities within their own boundaries. The measure corrects court rulings which have held that only federal law would apply in instances such as Pennsylvania's attempt to prosecute the Steve Nelson case. The reported bill specifically says that state laws on sedition shall not be nullified by any federal law unless the Congress clearly spells out its intention to do so.

I am happy to report that the Water Pollution Act is at the White House awaiting the President's signature. It is a major step in the direction of providing Sixth District residents and all those living in the Potomac River Valley with good clean water.

On My Calendar: On July 8 at 2 p. m. I shall appear on Joe McCaffrey's television program over WMAL-TV. Channel 7.

Delaware Governor Seeks Renomination

DOVER, Del., July 5 (AP)—Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware said today he will seek renomination at the state Republican convention, scheduled to select its slate on August 29.

If accepted as a candidate again, Boggs probably will meet J. H. Tyler McConnell of Wilmington, secretary of Hercules Powder, in the general election. McConnell is favored for the Democratic nomination.

Boggs has vetoed 52 bills passed by the Democratic-controlled General Assembly since it convened in January 1955.

Films To Highlight Saturday Story Hour

FROSTBURG—A story hour will be held at the Frostburg Public Library Saturday at 10:30 a. m. Films entitled "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" and "The Mean Old Elephant" will be shown. Games will be led by Girl Scouts of Troop 3 including Josephine Roe, Pat Lowery, Janet Ruffo, Diane Ewing, and Carol Walker. The scouts are under the supervision of Mrs. Billie Taylor.

WASHINGTON — The Fourth of July is rightly one of our most important holidays. It is interesting to note that Thomas Jefferson thought that the day that would be remembered would be July 2. That was the day the Continental Congress approved the resolution declaring the colonies free and independent. The day we honor is the one on which the Declaration of Independence was signed.

The Declaration of Independence is a unique document in that it not only set forth the reasons which impelled the Colonies to declare themselves free and independent, but it also set forth the basic principles on which the new government was to be built. The Constitution became the instrument for preserving the basic rights outlined in the Declaration of Independence.

Marylanders will be pleased to learn that my bill providing for another district judge for our state is included in the Omnibus Judgeship Bill. The need for another judge in Maryland is great. I have presented the Congress with the information necessary to substantiate our request for the additional judge. It now seems like the bill will pass.

Funds in the amount of $3,400,000 have received final approval by Congress for continuation of the work on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

The House Judiciary Committee has favorably reported a bill which clearly recognizes the right of states to prosecute subversive activities within their own boundaries. The measure corrects court rulings which have held that only federal law would apply in instances such as Pennsylvania's attempt to prosecute the Steve Nelson case. The reported bill specifically says that state laws on sedition shall not be nullified by any federal law unless the Congress clearly spells out its intention to do so.

I am happy to report that the Water Pollution Act is at the White House awaiting the President's signature. It is a major step in the direction of providing Sixth District residents and all those living in the Potomac River Valley with good clean water.

On My Calendar: On July 8 at 2 p. m. I shall appear on Joe McCaffrey's television program over WMAL-TV, Channel 7.

Delaware Governor Seeks Renomination

DOVER, Del., July 5 (AP)—Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware said today he will seek renomination at the state Republican convention, scheduled to select its slate on August 29.

If accepted as a candidate again, Boggs probably will meet J. H. Tyler McConnell of Wilmington, secretary of Hercules Powder, in the general election. McConnell is favored for the Democratic nomination.

Boggs has vetoed 52 bills passed by the Democratic-controlled General Assembly since it convened in January 1955.

Films To Highlight Saturday Story Hour

FROSTBURG—A story hour will be held at the Frostburg Public Library Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

Films entitled "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" and "The Mean Old Elephant" will be shown. Games will be led by Girl Scouts of Troop 3 including Josephine Roe, Pat Lowery, Janet Ruffo, Diane Ewing, and Carol Walker. The scouts are under the supervision of Mrs. Billie Taylor.

Ft. Ashby Personal

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O'Brien recently at Fort Ashby, W. Va., were Mr. and Mrs. Grady Johnston of New Jersey. The Johnstons and O'Briens came to Swanton and visited Mrs. O'Brien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rhodes.

Local Service Change Is Sought By Airline

Cumberland's chances of keeping its airline service would be bettered in the event a proposal to place the Queen City on a Washington-Detroit run goes through.

This was the opinion expressed by an official of Allegheny Airlines yesterday.

In the past, the airline has petitioned and had hearings before the Civil Aeronautics Board to have Cumberland removed from its Washington-Pittsburgh route.

These have not been approved by the CAB, but one Allegheny official said yesterday he feels the company would be much less inclined to press for discontinuance of service here if the new application is approved.

The airline announced that it has filed four separate applications with the CAB proposing the extension of the company's present routes in the Middle Atlantic area to cities in Michigan, Ohio, and Kentucky.

One of the proposals would be the establishment of the Washington-Detroit route by way of intermediate points—Cleveland, Akron, Canton, Wheeling, Morgantown and Cumberland.

David L. Miller, vice president in charge of traffic and sales for AA, said this is contingent on Cumberland being dropped from the Washington-Pittsburgh route.

He pointed out Allegheny Airlines has two problems—one that will not be changed if this proposal goes through, but the other one will be eliminated.

In addition to the pilots' association objecting to the hazards of the airport, the terrain and ground haze, there is an economic factor involved in the present service.

The Washington-Pittsburgh route contains a "dogleg" whereby the planes must drop 40 miles south from Johnstown to pick up passengers at the Wiley Ford airport.

This produces an economic problem in that the airline must receive enough revenues to justify the additional mileage. The new service would eliminate this factor.

Miller also pointed out that better service would probably be provided. The airline usually places two roundtrips daily on its new routes.

The advantages he listed would be a direct service to three key industrial centers, — Cleveland, Akron and Detroit, whereas only one is served directly now, Pittsburgh; a direct flight to Washington eliminating the Johnstown-Altoona "dogleg," and a reduction in cost for the airline to serve Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said Thomas B. Finan city attorney, conferred by telephone with Miller in the Washington office yesterday and was informed that the airline officials wish to meet with the Mayor and Council in regard to the change.

A date will be set for the discussion, the Mayor said, after the official airline application is received by the city.

The applications will be included in a pre-hearing conference next Tuesday before the CAB in Washington.

The other applications filed by AA were:

Extension of Allegheny's present segment between Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Parkersburg / Marietta and Huntington, to a new terminal, Louisville, Ky.

A route between Louisville and Philadelphia via the intermediate points, Huntington, W. Va.; Parkersburg, W. Va./Marietta, Ohio, Hagerstown, and Wilmington, Del. (All of the intermediate points and the terminal, Philadelphia, are now served by Allegheny on other routes.)

Extension of Allegheny's present services between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, Pa., to Washington.

Visual difficulties rank second only to neglected teeth among the most prominent health problems in the United States.

Area Student Loses Fingers In Mishap

Frank O'Rourke, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Rourke, Maryland Avenue, Westernport, was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser after the accident at the Luke mill.

Two fingers of the hand had to be amputated. His condition was reported as "good."

City-Wide Talent Contest Set Tonight

Today at 8 p. m. in the amphitheatre in Constitution Park will be oozing with talent as youngsters from Cumberland's 16 playgrounds vie for the city Recreation Department's talent title.

Twenty-nine children who have won their respective playground's contests have been entered in the annual event.

Trophies will be awarded the first, second and third place winners, according to Robert E. Pence, city recreation director.

The entries are:

Centre Street — Sharon Buzzard and Sherry Weisenmiller, song and dance.

Columbia Street — Judy and Darlene Meagher, dance and acrobatics.

Lamont Street — "The Five Teens," Delaney Rhodes, Donald Rhodes, Pat Rhodes, Earl Clanagan and Vieda Clanagan.

Mt. Royal — Judy Speis, monologue.

Penn Avenue — Walter Turner, song.

Pine Avenue — Lorraine Davis, dance.

Ridgedale — John Kington, accordion.

Thomas Post — Juanita Carr, song.

Virginia Avenue — Michael Goetz, piano solo.

West Side — Anna Mary Pompei, song and tap dance.

Judges will be Mrs. Helen Isner, Mrs. Jean Cioni and Harry Tracey.

During the period the judges are deliberating, there will be entertainment by a group of teen-agers from East Side Playground with a specialty act, and by Becky Yates, runnerup at Mt. Royal's contest.

Local Service Change Is Sought By Airline

Cumberland's chances of keeping its airline service would be bettered in the event a proposal to place the Queen City on a Washington-Detroit run goes through.

This was the opinion expressed by an official of Allegheny Airlines yesterday.

In the past, the airline has petitioned and had hearings before the Civil Aeronautics Board to have Cumberland removed from its Washington-Pittsburgh route.

These have not been approved by the CAB, but one Allegheny official said yesterday he feels the company would be much less inclined to press for discontinuance of service here if the new application is approved.

The airline announced that it has filed four separate applications with the CAB proposing the extension of the company's present routes in the Middle Atlantic area to cities in Michigan, Ohio, and Kentucky.

One of the proposals would be the establishment of the Washington-Detroit route by way of intermediate points—Cleveland, Akron, Canton, Wheeling, Morgantown and Cumberland.

David L. Miller, vice president in charge of traffic and sales for AA, said this is contingent on Cumberland being dropped from the Washington-Pittsburgh route.

He pointed out Allegheny Airlines has two problems—one that will not be changed if this proposal goes through, but the other one will be eliminated.

In addition to the pilots' association objecting to the hazards of the airport, the terrain and ground haze, there is an economic factor involved in the present service.

The Washington-Pittsburgh route contains a "dogleg" whereby the planes must drop 40 miles south from Johnstown to pick up passengers at the Wiley Ford airport.

This produces an economic problem in that the airline must receive enough revenues to justify the additional mileage. The new service would eliminate this factor.

Miller also pointed out that better service would probably be provided. The airline usually places two roundtrips daily on its new routes.

The advantages he listed would be a direct service to three key industrial centers, — Cleveland, Akron and Detroit, whereas only one is served directly now, Pittsburgh; a direct flight to Washington eliminating the Johnstown-Altoona "dogleg," and a reduction in cost for the airline to serve Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said Thomas B. Finan city attorney, conferred by telephone with Miller in the Washington office yesterday and was informed that the airline officials wish to meet with the Mayor and Council in regard to the change.

A date will be set for the discussion, the Mayor said, after the official airline application is received by the city.

The applications will be included in a pre-hearing conference next Tuesday before the CAB in Washington.

The other applications filed by AA were:

Extension of Allegheny's present segment between Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Parkersburg / Marietta and Huntington, to a new terminal, Louisville, Ky.

A route between Louisville and Philadelphia via the intermediate points, Huntington, W. Va.; Parkersburg, W. Va./Marietta, Ohio, Hagerstown, and Wilmington, Del. (All of the intermediate points and the terminal, Philadelphia, are now served by Allegheny on other routes.)

Extension of Allegheny's present services between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, Pa., to Washington.

Area Student Loses Fingers In Mishap

Frank O'Rourke, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Rourke, Maryland Avenue, Westernport, was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser after the accident at the Luke mill.

Two fingers of the hand had to be amputated. His condition was reported as "good."

City-Wide Talent Contest Set Tonight

Today at 8 p. m. in the amphitheatre in Constitution Park will be oozing with talent as youngsters from Cumberland's 16 playgrounds vie for the city Recreation Department's talent title.

Twenty-nine children who have won their respective playground's contests have been entered in the annual event.

Trophies will be awarded the first, second and third place winners, according to Robert E. Pence, city recreation director.

The entries are:

Centre Street — Sharon Buzzard and Sherry Weisenmiller, song and dance.

Columbia Street — Judy and Darlene Meagher, dance and acrobatics.

Johnson Heights—Beverly Brown, dance.

Lamont Street — "The Five Teens," Delaney Rhodes, Donald Rhodes, Pat Rhodes, Earl Clanagan and Vieda Clanagan.

Mt. Royal — Judy Speis, monologue.

Penn Avenue — Walter Turner, song.

Ridgedale — John Kington, accordion.

Thomas Post — Juanita Carr, song.

Virginia Avenue — Michael Goetz, piano solo.

West Side — Anna Mary Pompei, song and tap dance.

Judges will be Mrs. Helen Isner, Mrs. Jean Cioni and Harry Tracey.

During the period the judges are deliberating, there will be entertainment by a group of teen-agers from East Side Playground with a specialty act, and by Becky Yates, runnerup at Mt. Royal's contest.

Youths Are Found Guilty In Mine Equipment Theft

Juvenile Court Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday placed on probation a dozen Georges Creek boys charged with stealing mine equipment from Ocean coal mine near Midland.

Magistrate Baron told the youths that it had been brought to his attention that they had been stealing the equipment to sell to a Midland junk dealer.

John Robert Anderson, the junk dealer, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrates Court by Magistrate Donald W. Mason, on charges of receiving stolen goods.

The state prayed a jury trial and Mason ordered Anderson held for the October term of the grand jury. Bond was set at $1,000 He is being held Allegany County Jail.

Magistrate Baron said the boys have been stealing equipment from the Ocean mine since its closing for the summer vacation.

The judge pointed out the boys have stolen so much, that it is questionable if the mines will have enough equipment on hand to resume work.

Besides the charges of stealing from the mine, the boys were also tried on charges of stealing metal from the Western Maryland Railway Company in the Midland area.

Magistrate Baron found the youths guilty but decided not to sentence them to the Maryland Training School for boys. Instead he ordered them to report to John Jeffries, probation officer, twice between now and the opening of school in September.

New Business Firm Opens Here Monday

A new business venture will open Monday at 26 Baltimore Street in the quarters which at one time were occupied by the Cadillac lounge and liquor store.

The firm, to be known as the Burgess Company, is a partnership of R. L. Schubert, this city, and James O. Bane, of Keyser. They will handle resilient floor coverings, acoustical ceiling tile, paint and wallpaper.

Schubert said the installation of the various articles will be handled out of the company's Keyser office at present. Three or four employes will be on duty in the local store.

The Burgess firm is leasing the store room from Louis Waingold, who purchased the property several months ago. The building had been vacant for a number of years.

Auto Accident Victim Is In Fair Condition

Three persons were injured, two requiring hospitalization, in a two-car accident Wednesday evening in the 800 block of North Mechanic Street.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital following the mishap were Donald F. Easton, 25, of 2 Grandview Terrace, driver of one of the cars, and Donald W. Blank, 16, of 314 Broadway, a passenger in the Easton vehicle.

Officer E. Gordon Hite, who investigated, said the accident occurred as the Easton car was coming off the Henderson Avenue Bridge and skidded broadside into another automobile driven by James Welch, 53, of RD 6, Narrows Park.

Officer Hite said Easton, who was admitted to Memorial in an unconscious condition, apparently lost control of his auto and rammed into the Welch car.

Mrs. Clara Welch, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at Memorial for bruises on both knees and released.

Hospital attaches said Blank sustained a possible broken collar bone, abrasions of the left shoulder and cuts.

Easton has a fractured skull, a laceration of the left scalp, and abrasions of the face. His condition is reported as "fair."

Officer Hite said both vehicles were badly damaged, and the charges have been withheld pending a complete investigation.

Maps Of Maryland Highways Available

The Maryland State Roads Commission has published the 1956 edition of the official state highway map and a number of copies are available at the Times-News information booth.

Copies are also available at the State Roads district office, Braddock Road, and can likewise be obtained by addressing requests to the district office, Cumberland P. O. Box 450.

The attractive folder features views of some of Maryland's recreational areas.

An additional supply of West Virginia 1956 road maps will be available at the Times-News booth within a few days.

Jury To Hear Appeal Case

An appeal case is scheduled for Circuit Court today before a jury.

The case is that of Mrs. Anna Wilson, widow of Harold Wilson of Midland, against the State Industrial Accident Commission, Dashiell Dairy and State Accident Fund, insurer.

Milton Gerson, attorney for Mrs. Wilson, said an appeal is being taken from a ruling of the State Industrial Accident Commission for compensation in the death of her husband. He said Harold Wilson was employed at the Dashiell Dairy in Midland.

It is claimed that Wilson was accidentally struck on the right knee by a milk case in 1953 and that in 1954 cancer developed. In March of 1955 the leg was amputated and Wilson died in October of 1955.

The State Accident Commission ruling was that the cancer was not caused by the injury suffered by Wilson at the dairy.

Detective Stitcher Breaks Right Leg

Detective Joseph Stitcher, 33, husband of Mrs. Carmel Stitcher, 1019 Frederick Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Wednesday after sustaining injuries while playing badminton.

Hospital attaches said Det. Stitcher suffered a fracture of the right leg when he fell during a game. His condition was reported as "fair" yesterday.

Police Chief R. E. Flynn said he was told it will be several months before Detective Stitcher will be able to return to work.

It is claimed that Wilson was accidentally struck on the right knee by a milk case in 1953 and that in 1954 cancer developed. In March of 1955 the leg was amputated and Wilson died in October of 1955.

The State Accident Commission ruling was that the cancer was not caused by the injury suffered by Wilson at the dairy.

Detective Stitcher Breaks Right Leg

Detective Joseph Stitcher, 33, husband of Mrs. Carmel Stitcher, 1019 Frederick Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Wednesday after sustaining injuries while playing badminton.

Hospital attaches said Det. Stitcher suffered a fracture of the right leg when he fell during a game. His condition was reported as "fair" yesterday.

Police Chief R. E. Flynn said he was told it will be several months before Detective Stitcher will be able to return to work.

Jap Beetles Infest Areas In Mineral Co.

Farm Agent Cites Control Methods

KEYSER—J. W. Wimer, Mineral County farm agent, advised Thursday, that Japanese beetles are plaguing many farmers and home owners in the county at this time. A number of inquiries relative to the control of these insects have been received at the farm agent's office and he has advised use of a sinmple method, saying, that if it is adhered to, a decrease will be noted quickly in the beetle population.

The most effective material for the control of the beetle, he said is DDT. It may be bought in many forms, he added, but a "wettable" powder is the one generally used to control this pest. He advises to make a spray, as follows: a "wettable" powder containing 50 percent of actual DDT with water in the following quantity: one half teaspoon of DDT per gallon of water, or three ounces of DDT to ten gallons of water, or two pounds of DDT to 100 gallons of water.

When used as recommended, it is not likely to injure human beings, pets or wild life. He advised to use caution to be sure that the powder is stored out of the reach of children and properly labelled. Do not use DDT or lead arsenate on small or large fruits if they will be consumed in a short period of time, he cautioned.

Any further information on Japanese beetle control may be obtained from the Mineral County agent's office in the court house.

US 50 Scene Of Explosives Truck Wreck

Firemen Remove Cargo Safely

BURLINGTON—A tractor-trailer truck, loaded with explosives, rolled over on U. S. Route 50 Tuesday evening near here.

West Virginia State Police at Keyser said the mishap occurred at approximately 7 p. m. Tuesday, and that firemen worked until 3 a m., Wednesday unloading the explosives. No injuries were reported, but very heavy property damage was caused, police said.

Trooper Charles Oliver and Trooper Robert Noechel, of the Keyser detachment of the West Virginia State Police, investigated the accident and remained on hand until the explosives were taken from the wreckage.

Trooper Oliver said the accident occurred near the Patterson Creek Bridge as the tractor-trailer, driven by Daniel D. Wine, 26, Winchester, Va., was side-swiped and turned over on the highway.

Trooper Oliver said the tractor remained upright, but that the trailer carrying the explosives rolled over on its side. No fire occurred although a gasoline tank was crushed spilling the gas onto the highway.

Trooper Oliver said Wine was traveling east on the highway and as he approached the west end of Patterson Creek Bridge he was sideswiped by another tractor driven by William J. Sneed, 31, of RD 1, Greensville, Va.

Wine was charged with failing to keep to the rightway of the road.

Members of the Keyser and Burlington volunteer fire companies went to the scene and remained there until the explosives were removed from the trailer.

Wine's trailer was a total loss, while only slight damage was caused to Sneed's tractor.

In another accident on the West Virginia highways July 4, a 15-year-old Claysville youth was injured when the car which he was driving crashed on the Laurel Dale Road near Keyser.

Admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser was Clifford Bosley, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bosley, of Claysville.

State Police who investigated said the youth was injured when his car went out of control and rolled over on U.S. Route 50.

Hospital attaches said the youth sustained a deep laceration of the elbow and shoulder injuries. His condition is reported as "good."

There were 169 churches represented by 200 ministers and 1,200 delegates.

Rev. Heaton has served as district superintendent of the Piedmont District for three years and is secretary-treasurer of the Tri-Towns Ministerial Association.

Rev. and Mrs. Heaton will move to their new charge the first of next week.

Community Programs To Be Incorporated

FROSTBURG — Officers of the Frostburg Community programs met Monday in the social room of Lowndes Hall of State Teachers College and adopted a set of by-laws for the organization. G. Alvin Kreiling, president, was authorized to proceed with incorporation of the organization.

Those present were Kreiling, Mrs. Herbert Loar, vice president; Mrs. E. Burnett Van Fossen, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Richardson, recording secretary; Arthur Thomas, R. T. Bond, Edward Jackson, and Walter Mackay.

Following the meeting the group went to Compton Hall where the cast of "King of Hearts" was rehearsing, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Stone White. The set for the play is now completed and some of the props are being used in the rehearsals.

Moorefield Youth Awarded Fellowships At Harvard And Princeton Universities

MOOREFIELD—Manning Muntzing, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Muntzing, left last Friday for Boston, Mass., to spend two months at Harvard on a fellowship. Muntzing was graduated from the University of North Carolina in June with an AB in European History.

The fellowship at Harvard covers two full months, July 1 to August 31, to attend the annual International Student Relations Seminar sponsored by the United States National Student Association. Fifteen students from the United States are chosen each year to meet with some of the top international figures in the country to discuss current trends and situations in the world. The last ten days of the seminar will be spent at the University of Chicago where the ninth congress of the National Student Association will be held. In addition to research done at the seminar in Harvard, the sponsoring committee provides its participants with the opportunity to tour New England states on weekends. Tours are covered by the fellowship.

Muntzing was also awarded a two-year Fellowship to the Woodrow Wilson School for Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, from September 1956 through June 1958. Degrees granted are Masters in Public Affairs. The fellowship is given in memory of Albert C. Wall and is the oldest fellowship granted by the Woodrow Wilson School. The faculty for the school is composed of outstanding professors from the schools of history, politics, economics, and sociology. Twenty students are chosen from throughout the world each year to form the student body of this school. In addition to regular professors, many visiting professors are also used, including the personnel at the Institute for Advance Study located in Princeton. Research is also conducted at the institute. Albert Einstein formerly was a frequent visitor on the Woodrow Wilson program and Robert J. Oppenheimer still is.

MANNING MUNTZING

While a student at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., Muntzing was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, and Phi Eta Sigma. He belonged to the Order of the Golden Fleece, Order of the Holy Grails, and the Order of the Old Well. He served as chairman of the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs, was president of the Men's Interdormitory Council and a member of the student legislature and executive branch for all four years.

Jap Beetles Infest Areas In Mineral Co.

Farm Agent Cites Control Methods

KEYSER—J. W. Wimer, Mineral County farm agent, advised Thursday, that Japanese beetles are plaguing many farmers and home owners in the county at this time. A number of inquiries relative to the control of these insects have been received at the farm agent's office and he has advised use of a sinmple method, saying, that if it is adhered to, a decrease will be noted quickly in the beetle population.

The most effective material for the control of the beetle, he said is DDT. It may be bought in many forms, he added, but a "wettable" powder is the one generally used to control this pest. He advises to make a spray, as follows: a "wettable" powder containing 50 percent of actual DDT with water in the following quantity: one half teaspoon of DDT per gallon of water, or three ounces of DDT to ten gallons of water, or two pounds of DDT to 100 gallons of water.

When used as recommended, it is not likely to injure human beings, pets or wild life. He advised to use caution to be sure that the powder is stored out of the reach of children and properly labelled. Do not use DDT or lead arsenate on small or large fruits if they will be consumed in a short period of time, he cautioned.

Any further information on Japanese beetle control may be obtained from the Mineral County agent's office in the court house.

Firemen Remove Cargo Safely

BURLINGTON—A tractor-trailer truck, loaded with explosives, rolled over on U. S. Route 50 Tuesday evening near here.

West Virginia State Police at Keyser said the mishap occurred at approximately 7 p. m. Tuesday, and that firemen worked until 3 a m., Wednesday unloading the explosives. No injuries were reported, but very heavy property damage was caused, police said.

Trooper Charles Oliver and Trooper Robert Noechel, of the Keyser detachment of the West Virginia State Police, investigated the accident and remained on hand until the explosives were taken from the wreckage.

Trooper Oliver said the accident occurred near the Patterson Creek Bridge as the tractor-trailer, driven by Daniel D. Wine, 26, Winchester, Va., was side-swiped and turned over on the highway.

Trooper Oliver said the tractor remained upright, but that the trailer carrying the explosives rolled over on its side. No fire occurred although a gasoline tank was crushed spilling the gas onto the highway.

Trooper Oliver said Wine was traveling east on the highway and as he approached the west end of Patterson Creek Bridge he was sideswiped by another tractor driven by William J. Sneed, 31, of RD 1, Greensville, Va.

Wine was charged with failing to keep to the rightway of the road.

Members of the Keyser and Burlington volunteer fire companies went to the scene and remained there until the explosives were removed from the trailer.

Wine's trailer was a total loss, while only slight damage was caused to Sneed's tractor.

Admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser was Clifford Bosley, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bosley, of Claysville.

State Police who investigated said the youth was injured when his car went out of control and rolled over on U.S. Route 50.

Hospital attaches said the youth sustained a deep laceration of the elbow and shoulder injuries. His condition is reported as "good."

W. Va. Poultry Ranks High In State Economy

Specialist Tells Of Industry Growth

MOOREFIELD — Ted R. Hash, poultry specialist with the Extension Department of West Virginia University spoke on the unusual growth of West Virginia's $43,000,000 poultry industry at the Moorefield Lions Club Monday at Hotel McNeill.

Hash pointed out that the poultry convention to be held in Moorefield in conjunction with the annual Poultry Festival would bring the outstanding authorities on poultry in the United States as speakers. Hash said, "the competition is keen in the poultry industry and it is necessary for the growers to learn everything they can in this field if they are to maintain their position in the industry."

Hash emphasized that most of the people are interested in the Poultry Queen and in her princesses but said that the Poultry King was the real symbol of the industry since he would be chosen from the growers as the most efficient from the records being kept on 275,000 birds each month. The pro and semi-pro growers and their records are the growers to emulate in poultry production, he declared.

Hash also pointed out that the West Virginia Poultry Association had but one aim and that was to improve the birds that go on the market from West Virginia. He said that all funds of the association were being spent to improve breeds and marketing practices.

William Clark, president of the Lions Club, named committees to serve for the coming year. Chairman of the committees are: Attendance J. M. Harrison; Americanism and Citizenship, James E. Ansel; Membership, Roy Hamilton; Publicity, R. E. Fisher; Conventions, Don Baker; Program, Rev. Charles Godwin; Boys and Girls, C. A. Ludwick Jr.; Civic Improvement, Ralph J. Bean; Industrial, O. H. JAMES BANGERD
Hospital Administrator

James Bangerd Starts New Duties At Miners Hospital

FROSTBURG — James Bangerd, administrative assistant at Miners Hospital, assumed his new duties on Monday. Bangerd has begun making several physical changes in the office set up at the hospital. The main office will be moved into the first floor room of the new wing, and the present office will be converted into a reception room.

Bangerd assumed his new duties following an intensive training course in Baltimore June 25 and 26 in service personnel training. He was appointed to this position by the board of directors following a competitive examination held last May. He resides in Cumberland at the present time, is married and has two children. He is a veteran of World War 2, and has been associated with the Co-operative Milk Service in Cumberland for eight years as general plant manager. He has three years experience working in the Cumberland Health Department.

Miss Mildred Seifarth and Mrs. Darrell Zeller, both of whom took examination for the position of supervisor of nursing services at Miners Hospital, have been asked by the board of directors to serve alternately in that capacity until a final appointment is made by the director of personnel.

West Virginia PSC To Hold Hearings On Gas Rate Boost

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 5 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will hold further hearings next week on Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co.'s increased rates affecting 16,000 customers in nine central and northern counties.

C. and A. first applied for increased rates in July 1955. Hearings have been held intermittently since then. The higher rates have been in effect under bond since last December.

The utility said the increased rates amount to $764,680 in additional yearly revenue.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday have been set for the hearing.

County Sanitation Plans Discussed

The Allegany County Master Plumbers Association met last night with county officials for a general discussion on health sanitation in future homes in the county.

Attending the meeting in the Board of Allegany County Commissioners' office were William H. Lemmert, president, and James Orr, member.

The association was represented by Carl G. Valentine, vice president, and R. H. Lapp Sr., R. H. Lapp Jr., and James Ritchie.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, and J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian, represented the Health Department.

Gasco Club To Hold Picnic

The annual picnic of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gasco Club will be held July 14 on the Ali Ghan Country Club picnic grounds.

It will begin at approximately noon, and meals will be served at 12:30 and 5 p. m.

A program of games and entertainment has been planned by the committees.

Nurses Alumnae To Have Outing

The Nurses Alumnae Association of Sacred Heart Hospital will hold its annual picnic July 11. It is to be a basket picnic at the Celanese pool, beginning at 2 p. m., and will take the place of the July meeting.

Nurses and friends are invited to attend.

Better Be Careful Or Type 3'll Getcha

Howyah been lately, pal? Been keeping away from dat ole debbil Type 3?

Who's Type 3? Why, he's the bug. You know —the bug your doctor tells you has been going around lately when you ask him what's good for your cold. (Doctors seem to think that misery loves company.) Type 3 is a virus causing acute rhinitis in the upper respiratory tract, or at least associated with that syndrome.

A couple of his pals, Types 4 and 7, are in the Army now. They are responsible for more colds in the armed forces, fewer among civilians. Nobody knows why.

But there are a couple of vaccines which so far seem to be effective against Types 4, 7 and 3. They'll have to be tested some more, and it'll be a while before you can get them, probably.

But there's at least an outside chance that science is on the track of what has been long sought and never found, a cure for that tenacious, mysterious family of diseases known as the common cold.

There's no known cure, yet. Everyone has heard how a platoon of scientists, after doing extensive research on human guinea-pigs, concluded that if you don't treat your cold at all, just leave it alone and let it run its course, you'll be over it in about a week — but if you give it the best possible treatment and care, it will last only about seven days. But as we said, there's a chance that science is on the track of a cure.

The sooner they find a sure method of cure or prevention, the better (AH-choo) we'll like it.

These Days

Stevenson-HarrimanCampaign

Two differing views influence Democratic thinking. One regards the 1956 election as already won by the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. Whoever runs on the Democratic ticket, according to this view, will be sacrificing himself in the interest of party unity and therefore will have claims on the Democrats in 1960 when Eisenhower cannot constitutionally run.

The other view, often expressed by the New York leader, Carmine DeSapio, is that an election is an election and should be fought to be won. Otherwise, argue such practical men, we might just as well have a one-party system, set up a one-candidate ballot and cut out the campaign altogether. It is said that Harry Truman holds the same opinion which goes by the general name of "Give 'em hell."

From the standpoint of the first category, the Democrats feel that they must not be too critical of the Republican administration, particularly of President Eisenhower, because the President is not only popular but he is sick and it would seem to be bad taste to kick a sick man in the shins. So the most these Democrats do is to raise the question as to whether it is good for the country to have a sick man in the White House.

Arising from this has come the doctors' controversy on the subject of how sick is Ike which made the doctors look ridiculous as psychiatrists generally do when they testify in court cases.

Those who believe in a tough, brass-knuckle attack on the Eisenhower administration, apart from recognizing that the two-party system should be preserved, also believe that Eisenhower's reelection, while possible or even probable, is not absolutely certain and that an effective campaign could defeat the President. They argue that from a political standpoint, the Eisenhower administration is vulnerable not only in agricultural states but among organized labor and among certain so-called minorities who hold the balance of power in some big cities.

The Harriman element, as represented by the thinking of Carmine DeSapio, believe that New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and possibly Massachusetts can be held by the Democrats and when to that they add wheat states and the Northwest, and the Solid South, they think that they can make a dent.

The question that is important is whether the Southerners will accept this point of view or the milder view that 1956 is only a prelude to 1960. The New York Democrats argue that if they are badly defeated in 1956, their party will take a leftward swing and come under the influence of Walter Reuther. They cite the fact that it was David Dubinsky who called on Governor Harriman to retire from the field and to leave it to Adlai Stevenson. They, the New Yorkers, say that Dubinsky's interest is not in Stevenson but in the capture of the Democratic party by the AFL-CIO in 1960.

The New York campaign will have a sideshow in the senatorial nomination. For a long time it had been assumed that the attorney general, Jacob Javits, would run against Herbert Lehman for United States senator. The assumption was that if the so-called Jewish vote could be split, a Republican might be elected. However, it now looks as though Javits cannot be used for this cynical purpose. There are several reasons, but the one regarded as the safest to make public is that in the event that Javits should run and be elected, Harriman, as governor, would appoint a Democrat to fill his place. It is now expected that Thomas E. Dewey may be prevailed upon to run.

It is interesting to note that in these days the Democrats are using many of the arguments which the Republicans employed when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president, particularly those that related to the two-party system. The New Yorkers believe that the Democrats can win if they can carry New York and other Northeastern states and they calculate that Stevenson cannot carry those states, which, if translated in terms of practical politics, means that if Stevenson is the candidate many Democrats will sit on their hands as Republicans did when Wendell Willkie and Tom Dewey ran for president. On the other hand, the Democrats have a better voting tradition than the Republicans in these parts. They usually vote and for Democrats without discrimination.

British Action On Red China Is Affront To U. S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — If America swings back to financial "isolationism" and the American people begin demanding withdrawal of troops from Europe, it will be largely because of such shortsightedness as has just been exhibited by the prime ministers of the British Common ealth meeting in London. Here is the way the United Press reported their deliberations:

"Prime ministers of the British Commonwealth agreed today there should be 'no undue delay' in general recognition of Communist China. Conference sources said premiers from the Western nations accepted the view advanced by the Asian members—India, Ceylon and Pakistan . . .

"The sources said the conference recognized the intensity of feeling in the United States against Red China's admission to the United Nations and agreed to leave this issue open until after the U. S. presidential election in November."

Both Parties Agree

No greater mistake could be made than to assume that the proposed admission of Red China into the U. N. is a partisan issue inside America. Both parties, by overwhelming vote in Congress, have indicated that they are opposed to the action. The sentiment will be just the same after the November elections as it is today. There may even be a substantial majority for American withdrawal from the U. N. the moment Red China is admitted.

For the issue which, strangely enough, the British prime ministers have ignored is not whether Communist China should have been recognized diplomatically early in 1950—actually, the extension of recognition by nearly 30 governments occurred before the Korean War—but whether admission of Red China to the U. N. Security Council now should be voted when it means appeasement of an unrepentant enemy.

When the Egyptian government, which is playing close to the Communist camp, recognized Red China a few weeks ago, it was the first case of that kind by any U.N. member since the Korean War broke out.

It is odd that the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth should go out of their way to insult the American Congress and the parents and relatives of the more than 33,500 American boys killed in Korea and the 103,000 wounded.

If "collective security" means that American youth hereafter must bear the sacrifices when wars are fought, especially after the U. N. members take unto their bosom the aggressor, then, it will be asked in Congress, why should the United States give financial or military aid to Allied governments which are faithless to the provisions of the U. N. charter that say membership is open only to "peace-loving" governments?

Try At Blackmail

Why, it will be asked further, should the United States give aid to or participate in the defense of any countries in Asia which are lining up on the Communist side? For it is obvious that Red China has been trying to blackmail the U. N. and this country by withholding the release of civilian prisoners until admission of Red China to the U. N. is assured. Only the other day the record of flagrant violations of the Korean armistice was announced. There is no peace treaty as yet with the aggressor. Yet the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth are represented as believing Red China should be admitted anyhow to the Security Council of the U.N.

Relations between the American people and the peoples of the British Commonwealth have been improving in recent years. But nothing is more calculated to break them down and to produce bitterness than a desertion of the ideals for which American youth sacrificed so much in the Korean War.

It's the same deterioration of moral strength which developed among the Western governments in the 1930s when appeasement of the aggressor was tried as a formula of "peaceful coexistence" only to have such acts of appeasement misconstrued as acts of cowardice. As a consequence of these events, the second World War had to be fought to prove that the West was not craven.

It is significant that the present Congress has been held together on foreign-aid appropriations only with great difficulty and that both parties have been straining to cut the money down. If the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth want to "go it alone" in world affairs, the American Congress could decide some day to wish them godspeed but without any American money or military forces to aid them.

The question of admitting Red China is filled with the possibility of dire consequences to the relations between America and the countries which desert the "collective security" declarations of the U. N. and, particularly, its resolution of 1951 pronouncing Red China's government an aggressor.

It isn't customary to reward aggressors and let them shoot their way into international organizations which rest for their prestige and even authority in the world on principles of moral force. It will be a sad day for the world and the British Commonwealth of Nations, too, when Red China's admission into the U. N. is preferred to American good will and perhaps even to American membership in the U. N. itself.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congratulate Estes Kefauver on his stumping decision not to speak ill of the departed. Or of the arriving.

Estes was mifficated over the results in California. He thought he had Stevenson over the barrelhead sure as a gun's iron.

It's not so bad to draw blanks provided you don't fire 'em. Now, when you ask Estes how tall Sir Walter Raleigh was he inquires, "With or without his head?"

Estes admits he lost his noggin during the lull in primary shopping. And if he said anything he's sorry for he is glad of it.

The object of Kefauver's afflictions was the first to congratulate him. Stevenson wired Estes, "Let me be the first to shake the hand that shook all the other hands."

There is a muted fanfare of nods in the present Democratic harmony. They are not speaking about or to each other.

Vacationers Should Include First Aid Kit In Gear

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Vacationers who plan on camping, yachting, fishing, or touring should include a first aid kit in their gear. The supplies can be fitted into a suitable box. A light, strong, and weather resistant container is best for the yachtsman, camper, and fisherman. The motorist may prefer a tin or cardboard box that is placed behind the spare tire, where it is readily accessible.

The usual first aid items are gauze, adhesive, thermometer, and elastic bandages. Scissors, forceps, and soap come in handy for cleansing cuts and minor burns. What medicines should be included? Aspirin heads the list; it has 101 uses varying from killing pain to reducing fever.

Tablets or capsules containing an antihistaminic product will be helpful in case of hives or asthma. Antihistaminic ointments are of value in itching from allergic skin reactions and insect bites. Calamine lotion, an analgesic cream, baking soda paste, menthol, or witch hazel also may be used to ease itching.

A mild cathartic may be needed for constipation but if diarrhea is a problem, paregoric, powdered opium, kaomagma, or kaopectate are suggested. It will do no harm to throw in a few dental poultices or oil of cloves for toothache, a suntan lotion, and an insect repellent such as 612.

A physician may approve the use of a sleeping pill for insomnia, although boat trips usually have the opposite effect. An antibiotic such as erythromycin, terramycin, or oral penicillin for infection may be purchased by prescription before leaving. The remedy may be kept on hand in case of emergency or when the individual is in a remote spot where medical care is unobtainable for days.

Dramamine, bonamine, marezine, or phernegen are standard motion sickness products. For excesses, creamalin or gelusil will prove helpful in relieving indigestion. Vacationers ought to take along a book on first aid. For a list of such books, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with request.

TOMORROW: Pinworm infestation.

RESTLESS LEGS

R. T. writes: In the evening when I sit down to read I can't relax because of a peculiar sensation in my legs. It isn't pain or cramp but feels like a nerve quivering. I have to get up and walk around all evening. Can you tell me what this is?

REPLY

This condition is called restless legs or jimmy legs. It is somewhat akin to the numbness, tingling, and prickling other persons complain of, and may be due to pressure on a nerve.

RETIREMENT WITH WORK

E. K. writes: When I was retired four years ago I took a real estate course at the university, passed my exams, and obtained a salesman's license. After three years of successful selling I've decided I want to work less and fish more. What schedule would you suggest for me as I have trouble stopping work.

REPLY

Hours 10 to 2, with a 12 to 1 lunch period. After all, the fish bite better in the early morning and late afternooon.

CHEST SOUNDS

W. T. writes: What is meant by rales in the chest?

REPLY

Rales are the sounds that a physician hears when there is congestion in the lungs.

TOXEMIA OF PREGNANGY

Mrs. E. writes: If a woman had toxemia during pregnancy, can she develop it again after the baby is born?

REPLY

Not unless she becomes pregnant again. On the other hand, when a woman with nephritis to begin with becomes pregnant and develops toxemia of pregnancy, there is a possibility that kidney trouble will continue after the baby is born.

NO MOTION: NO PAIN

W. B. writes: Is there such a thing as painless arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, after the involved joints become stiff and cannot be moved.

MORE FAT, MORE WORK

W. H. writes: How does overweight affect high blood pressure?

REPLY

Obesity itself is not a cause of high blood pressure. On the other hand, individuals with a tendency toward hypertension usually have higher readings when they are too heavy than when weight is normal.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Congressmen Hush Up Cost Of Last Summer's Trips To Points Overseas

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most guarded secret since the H-bomb is how much it cost the taxpayers for last year's congressional globe-trotting. Only a few men know the score, and they aren't telling.

The tabs are still coming in from over 230 senators and congressmen who flocked overseas in the biggest junketing spree in congressional history. The taxpayers who footed the bill, however, can't find out the total cost.

However, this column has been able to check the secret vouchers turned in by congressmen, and here are some of the amounts spent. It should be noted, in fairness, that some of the congressional trips were important and some congressmen did a good job for their country. Some, on the other hand, were pure joyrides. In either case, the public is entitled to know the cost. Here it is:

The taxpayers paid $51,000 for a special Air Force plane to fly Congressmen Sterling Cole (R., N.Y.), O. C. Fisher (D., Tex.), George Miller (D., Calif.), Walt Norblad (R., Ore.), and Bill Bates (R., Mass.), around the world. The Air Force escort officer spent another $10,300 of the taxpayers' money on the congressmen for travel expenses. Fisher also took a private $300 side trip to Indonesia.

These basic costs do not include the foreign currency that is ladled out to junketing congressmen for spending money. All they need is a requisition signed by a committee chairman. This is good for free spending money at our embassies in 42 countries.

The foreign currency is taken from special account No. 19 FT 561, which is set aside for the exclusive use of traveling congressmen. They spend the money by the bushel basket for hotels, meals, entertainment, night clubs, souvenirs, and whatever suits their fancy. No accounting is asked and none given except for vague totals.

Special Airplanes

The secret vouchers also do not include the free rides congressmen were given on Air Force planes and Navy ships that were going their way anyhow. By Congress' curious bookkeeping, these free rides cost the taxpayers nothing, since the planes and ships didn't go out of the way.

What isn't mentioned is that the lawmakers usually displace military passengers. For example, a Senate Appropriations Sub-committee, including wives and aides, displaced 40 military wives and children booked to join their menfolk in Europe last September.

Leaving out the free spending money and free rides, here's what it cost the taxpayers for some further congressional trips. In many cases, these trips were good investments, since the congressmen worked hard studying foreign problems and spreading good will. Most of them simply had a lavish overseas holiday, however, at the taxpayers' expense.

It cost $41,670 for a special plane to fly Congressmen Clem Zablocki (D., Wisc.), John Jarman (D., Okla.), Bob Byrd (D., W. Va.), Ross Adair (R., Ind.), and Marguerite Church (R., Ill.), round the world.

Another special plane to Europe cost $21,638 for Congressmen W. R. Poage (D., Tev.), Hale Boggs (D., La.), Harold Cooley (D., N. C.), Henry Talle (R., Iowa), and Antoni Sadlak (R., Conn.). Sadlak took his son along, and Sen. Willis Robertson (D., Va.), arranged for his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willis Robertson Jr., to make the trip.

This trip was to visit the Inter-Parliamentary Union, attendance at which is required by law. It can be classified as one of the more worthwhile junkets.

Congressman Poage and his wife organized another junket to South America which cost the taxpayers $18,915 for transportation. Included in the party was Congressman Paul Jones (D., Mo.) and his wife. Still another South American junket for Congressman Porter Hardy (D., Va.), Jack Brooks (D., Tex.), George Meader (R., Mich), and Victor Knox (R., Mich), cost $20,998.

Special Side Trips

Congressmen John Rooney (D., N. Y.) and John Fogarty (D., R. I.), accompanied by their wives, led a junket to Europe. Transportation cost; $13,372.

Several congressmen, traveling alone or with wives, took scheduled military transportation overseas, then demanded special transportation after they got there. Here are the bills for extra transportation in several typical cases:

Rep. and Mrs. Errett Scrivner (R., Kans.), Europe and North Africa, $2,201; Rep. and Mrs. L. Mendel Rivers (D., S. C.) and their daughter, Peggy, Europe, $1,123; Rep. and Mrs. Bill Hess (R., Ohio), Europe, $4,367; Rep. and Mrs. Dan Flood (D., Pa.), Europe, $4,050; Rep. James Patterson (R., Conn.), Far East, $2,100; Rep. Olin Teague (D., Tex.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Nelson (R., Me.), Europe, $1,850; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Halleck (R., Ind.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Ed Miller (R., Md.), Europe, $1,450; Delegate and Mrs. A. Fernos-Isern (D., Puerto Rico), Europe, $2,000; Rep. James Devereux (R., Md.), Europe, $3,150; Rep. Harry Shepperd (D., Calif.), round-the-world, $3,386.

Another group, including Rep. and Mrs. Dan Reed (R., N. Y.) and their son, Bill, spent $4,316 for extra transportation in Europe.

Though it's important for congressmen to know about foreign spending abroad, the irony is that many of the biggest spenders of the taxpayers' money overseas are the loudest criers for government economy.

NOTE—Almost no congressional junkets are being scheduled this year. It's an election year.

Wilson And History

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Both as a human being and as a political phenomenon, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is one of the most interesting figures in Washington, and his recent appearances before the Senate Air Power Subcommittee have had a quiet drama of their own.

A few days before Wilson testified, Sen. Richard Russell, of Georgia, the respected chairman of the Armed Services Committee, called him a man "whose vanity and arrogance have been exceeded only by his ineptitude." Russell's bitterness, as Wilson must know, accurately reflects a general hostility on both sides of the Senate aisle.

The men who heard Wilson-moreover, had previously heard much expert testimony suggesting that the Wilson defense policies were risking national disaster. Strategic Air Commander Curtis LeMay, for example, had testified that in a few years, under the Wilson policies, STC would be so inferior to the Soviet strategic force that it might be destroyed altogether by surprise attack.

Wilson As Defendant

Under the circumstances, it was not surprising that Wilson sometimes seemed like a defendant at the bar. The impression was heightened by the fact that the hearings took place in the old, handsome, semi-circular Supreme Court room in the center of the Capitol. The Senators sat in the throne-like chairs once occupied by the justices, on a raised dais under a golden eagle, looking down on the defendant-Secretary below them.

A big man, with white hair and a long stubborn, oddly boyish face, Wilson was clearly nervous—and who can blame him? He smoked incessantly, often with the cigaret dangling from his mouth as he talked (a little habit which has not endeared him to the Senate.) He talked deliberately, in his flat, no-argument accent, and one sensed that he was making a supreme effort to control himself, to avoid losing his temper.

It was impossible not to feel a sympathy for the embattled Secretary, and a liking, as well. There is an appealing simpleness about him. Once, in his discoursive way, he volunteered that his mother had had him baptized in the Tuscarawas River in Ohio, and one caught a quick glimpse of his long climb from small town boyhood in the Nineties to business eminence and national power.

From time to time, one also caught a glimpse of the special view of the world his arduous climb has given him. Once, for example, he began talking about the Russians, and remarked that it was "too bad they did away with the Czars completely." If only, he said, "some of them were still left in one piece of Russia." Then the Russians could hate their private collection of Czars, and "they would not be hating our people so much." This thought was offered solemnly, as a serious comment on history.

It was a meaningful comment. For it suggested how little time, in his hard-working, brilliantly successful career, Wilson has had to devote to the real nature of such imperial power structures as the Soviet Union.

What Lenin Didn't Say

It is natural for a man of Wilson's background to believe quite sincerely that increased spending and taxes are a worse threat to the United States than Soviet nuclear weapons. Both Wilson and his closest Cabinet collaborator, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, are fond of repeating Lenin's supposed dictum that the Soviets would force this country to destroy itself by over-spending. The fact that Lenin never said anything of the sort is beside the point—he ought to have said it.

It is also natural for a man of Wilson's background to resist stoutly and instinctively any suggestion that the Soviets can really challenge the United States in production — to assume, as Wilson has said, that "most of their weapons, of course, really come out of the Western world."

The estimates of Soviet air power, showing the Soviets surpassing this country by a wide margin in bombers, come from the "National Intelligence Estimates." These estimates are formerly approved by the National Security Council, and thus by Wilson as a member of the council. Yet Wilson is not really disturbed by the frightening estimates he himself has approved, partly because he is not accustomed to thinking in terms of the world balance of power, and partly because he does not really believe them.

His Senate critics picture Wilson as a devious man, deliberately deceiving the country. This is unfair, for Wilson's performance on Capitol Hill leaves a clear impression of a simple and honest man. But it also leaves the impression that, as a defendant before the bar of history, Wilson may be found guilty of deceiving himself, which, in a man in Wilson's position, can be a cardinal sin.

Congressmen Hush Up Cost Of Last Summer's Trips To Points Overseas

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most guarded secret since the H-bomb is how much it cost the taxpayers for last year's congressional globe-trotting. Only a few men know the score, and they aren't telling.

The tabs are still coming in from over 230 senators and congressmen who flocked overseas in the biggest junketing spree in congressional history. The taxpayers who footed the bill, however, can't find out the total cost.

However, this column has been able to check the secret vouchers turned in by congressmen, and here are some of the amounts spent. It should be noted, in fairness, that some of the congressional trips were important and some congressmen did a good job for their country. Some, on the other hand, were pure joyrides. In either case, the public is entitled to know the cost. Here it is:

The taxpayers paid $51,000 for a special Air Force plane to fly Congressmen Sterling Cole (R., N.Y.), O. C. Fisher (D., Tex.), George Miller (D., Calif.), Walt Norblad (R., Ore.), and Bill Bates (R., Mass.), around the world. The Air Force escort officer spent another $10,300 of the taxpayers' money on the congressmen for travel expenses. Fisher also took a private $300 side trip to Indonesia.

These basic costs do not include the foreign currency that is ladled out to junketing congressmen for spending money. All they need is a requisition signed by a committee chairman. This is good for free spending money at our embassies in 42 countries.

The foreign currency is taken from special account No. 19 FT 561, which is set aside for the exclusive use of traveling congressmen. They spend the money by the bushel basket for hotels, meals, entertainment, night clubs, souvenirs, and whatever suits their fancy. No accounting is asked and none given except for vague totals.

Special Airplanes

The secret vouchers also do not include the free rides congressmen were given on Air Force planes and Navy ships that were going their way anyhow. By Congress' curious bookkeeping, these free rides cost the taxpayers nothing, since the planes and ships didn't go out of the way.

What isn't mentioned is that the lawmakers usually displace military passengers. For example, a Senate Appropriations Sub-committee, including wives and aides, displaced 40 military wives and children booked to join their menfolk in Europe last September.

Leaving out the free spending money and free rides, here's what it cost the taxpayers for some further congressional trips. In many cases, these trips were good investments, since the congressmen worked hard studying foreign problems and spreading good will. Most of them simply had a lavish overseas holiday, however, at the taxpayers' expense.

It cost $41,670 for a special plane to fly Congressmen Clem Zablocki (D., Wisc.), John Jarman (D., Okla.), Bob Byrd (D., W. Va.), Ross Adair (R., Ind.), and Marguerite Church (R., Ill.), round the world.

Another special plane to Europe cost $21,638 for Congressmen W. R. Poage (D., Tex.), Hale Boggs (D., La.), Harold Cooley (D., N. C.), Henry Talle (R., Iowa), and Antoni Sadlak (R., Conn.). Sadlak took his son along, and Sen. Willis Robertson (D., Va.), arranged for his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willis Robertson Jr., to make the trip.

This trip was to visit the Inter-Parliamentary Union, attendance at which is required by law. It can be classified as one of the more worthwhile junkets.

Congressman Poage and his wife organized another junket to South America which cost the taxpayers $18,915 for transportation. Included in the party was Congressman Paul Jones (D., Mo.) and his wife. Still another South American junket for Congressman Porter Hardy (D., Va.), Jack Brooks (D., Tex.), George Meader (R., Mich), and Victor Knox (R., Mich), cost $20,998.

Special Side Trips

Congressmen John Rooney (D., N. Y.) and John Fogarty (D., R. I.), accompanied by their wives, led a junket to Europe. Transportation cost; $13,372.

Several congressmen, traveling alone or with wives, took scheduled military transportation overseas, then demanded special transportation after they got there. Here are the bills for extra transportation in several typical cases:

Rep. and Mrs. Errett Scrivner (R., Kans.), Europe and North Africa, $2,201; Rep. and Mrs. L. Mendel Rivers (D., S. C.) and their daughter, Peggy, Europe, $1,123; Rep. and Mrs. Bill Hess (R., Ohio), Europe, $4,367; Rep. and Mrs. Dan Flood (D., Pa.), Europe, $4,050; Rep. James Patterson (R., Conn.), Far East, $2,100; Rep. Olin Teague (D., Tex.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Nelson (R., Me.), Europe, $1,850; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Halleck (R., Ind.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Ed Miller (R., Md.), Europe, $1,450; Delegate and Mrs. A. Fernos-Isern (D., Puerto Rico), Europe, $2,000; Rep. James Devereux (R., Md.), Europe, $3,150; Rep. Harry Shepperd (D., Calif.), round-the-world, $3,386.

Another group, including Rep. and Mrs. Dan Reed (R., N. Y.) and their son, Bill, spent $4,316 for extra transportation in Europe.

Though it's important for congressmen to know about foreign spending abroad, the irony is that many of the biggest spenders of the taxpayers' money overseas are the loudest criers for government economy.

NOTE—Almost no congressional junkets are being scheduled this year. It's an election year.

Washington Pipeline

GOP Chairman Len Hall had his heart set on staging a fast, three-day convention, but was forced by San Francisco businessmen to change his mind. Since they had put up the money for the convention, they insisted in keeping delegates there for at least four days . . . . Egypt's Premier Nasser has secretly arranged to buy some of Russia's jet airliners as part of his campaign to become the strong man of the Middle East. Soviet Foreign Minister Shepilov offered the planes during his recent meeting with Nasser. They will be the sensational Russian TU-104 twin-jet job which flew Khrushchev and Bulganin to Britain.

British Action On Red China Is Affront To U. S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — If America swings back to financial "isolationism" and the American people begin demanding withdrawal of troops from Europe, it will be largely because of such short-sightedness as has just been exhibited by the prime ministers of the British Common ealth meeting in London. Here is the way the United Press reported their deliberations:

"Prime ministers of the British Commonwealth agreed today there should be 'no undue delay' in general recognition of Communist China. Conference sources said premiers from the Western nations accepted the view advanced by the Asian members—India, Ceylon and Pakistan . . .

"The sources said the conference recognized the intensity of feeling in the United States against Red China's admission to the United Nations and agreed to leave this issue open until after the U. S. presidential election in November."

Both Parties Agree

No greater mistake could be made than to assume that the proposed admission of Red China into the U. N. is a partisan issue inside America. Both parties, by overwhelming vote in Congress, have indicated that they are opposed to the action. The sentiment will be just the same after the November elections as it is today. There may even be a substantial majority for American withdrawal from the U. N. the moment Red China is admitted.

For the issue which, strangely enough, the British prime ministers have ignored is not whether Communist China should have been recognized diplomatically early in 1950—actually, the extension of recognition by nearly 30 governments occurred before the Korean War—but whether admission of Red China to the U. N. Security Council now should be voted when it means appeasement of an unrepentant enemy.

When the Egyptian government, which is playing close to the Communist camp, recognized Red China a few weeks ago, it was the first case of that kind by any U.N. member since the Korean War broke out.

It is odd that the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth should go out of their way to insult the American Congress and the parents and relatives of the more than 33,500 American boys killed in Korea and the 103,000 wounded.

If "collective security" means that American youth hereafter must bear the sacrifices when wars are fought, especially after the U. N. members take unto their bosom the aggressor, then, it will be asked in Congress, why should the United States give financial or military aid to Allied governments which are faithless to the provisions of the U. N. charter that say membership is open only to "peace-loving" governments?

Try At Blackmail

Why, it will be asked further, should the United States give aid to or participate in the defense of any countries in Asia which are lining up on the Communist side? For it is obvious that Red China has been trying to blackmail the U. N. and this country by withholding the release of civilian prisoners until admission of Red China to the U. N. is assured. Only the other day the record of flagrant violations of the Korean armistice was announced. There is no peace treaty as yet with the aggressor. Yet the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth are represented as believing Red China should be admitted anyhow to the Security Council of the U.N.

Relations between the American people and the peoples of the British Commonwealth have been improving in recent years. But nothing is more calculated to break them down and to produce bitterness than a desertion of the ideals for which American youth sacrificed so much in the Korean War.

It's the same deterioration of moral strength which developed among the Western governments in the 1930s when appeasement of the aggressor was tried as a formula of "peaceful coexistence" only to have such acts of appeasement misconstrued as acts of cowardice. As a consequence of these events, the second World War had to be fought to prove that the West was not craven.

It is significant that the present Congress has been held together on foreign-aid appropriations only with great difficulty and that both parties have been straining to cut the money down. If the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth want to "go it alone" in world affairs, the American Congress could decide some day to wish them godspeed but without any American money or military forces to aid them.

The question of admitting Red China is filled with the possibility of dire consequences to the relations between America and the countries which desert the "collective security" declarations of the U. N. and, particularly, its resolution of 1951 pronouncing Red China's government an aggressor.

It isn't customary to reward aggressors and let them shoot their way into international organizations which rest for their prestige and even authority in the world on principles of moral force. It will be a sad day for the world and the British Commonwealth of Nations, too, when Red China's admission into the U. N. is preferred to American good will and perhaps even to American membership in the U. N. itself.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congratulate Estes Kefauver on his stumping decision not to speak ill of the departed. Or of the arriving.

Estes was mifficated over the results in California. He thought he had Stevenson over the barrelhead sure as a gun's iron.

It's not so bad to draw blanks provided you don't fire 'em. Now, when you ask Estes how tall Sir Walter Raleigh was he inquires, "With or without his head?"

Estes admits he lost his noggin during the lull in primary shopping. And if he said anything he's sorry for he is glad of it.

The object of Kefauver's afflictions was the first to congratulate him. Stevenson wired Estes, "Let me be the first to shake the hand that shook all the other hands."

There is a muted fanfare of nods in the present Democratic harmony. They are not speaking about or to each other.

Wilson And History

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Both as a human being and as a political phenomenon, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is one of the most interesting figures in Washington, and his recent appearances before the Senate Air Power Subcommittee have had a quiet drama of their own.

A few days before Wilson testified, Sen. Richard Russell, of Georgia, the respected chairman of the Armed Services Committee, called him a man "whose vanity and arrogance have been exceeded only by his ineptitude." Russell's bitterness, as Wilson must know, accurately reflects a general hostility on both sides of the Senate aisle.

The men who heard Wilson-moreover, had previously heard much expert testimony suggesting that the Wilson defense policies were risking national disaster. Strategic Air Commander Curtis LeMay, for example, had testified that in a few years, under the Wilson policies, STC would be so inferior to the Soviet strategic force that it might be destroyed altogether by surprise attack.

Wilson As Defendant

Under the circumstances, it was not surprising that Wilson sometimes seemed like a defendant at the bar. The impression was heightened by the fact that the hearings took place in the old, handsome, semi-circular Supreme Court room in the center of the Capitol. The Senators sat in the throne-like chairs once occupied by the justices, on a raised dais under a golden eagle, looking down on the defendant-Secretary below them.

A big man, with white hair and a long stubborn, oddly boyish face, Wilson was clearly nervous—and who can blame him? He smoked incessantly, often with the cigaret dangling from his mouth as he talked (a little habit which has not endeared him to the Senate.) He talked deliberately, in his flat, no-argument accent, and one sensed that he was making a supreme effort to control himself, to avoid losing his temper.

It was impossible not to feel a sympathy for the embattled Secretary, and a liking, as well. There is an appealing simpleness about him. Once, in his discoursive way, he volunteered that his mother had had him baptized in the Tuscarawas River in Ohio, and one caught a quick glimpse of his long climb from small town boyhood in the Nineties to business eminence and national power.

From time to time, one also caught a glimpse of the special view of the world his arduous climb has given him. Once, for example, he began talking about the Russians, and remarked that it was "too bad they did away with the Czars completely." If only, he said, "some of them were still left in one piece of Russia," Then the Russians could hate their private collection of Czars, and "they would not be hating our people so much." This thought was offered solemnly, as a serious comment on history.

It was a meaningful comment. For it suggested how little time, in his hard-working, brilliantly successful career, Wilson has had to devote to the real nature of such imperial power structures as the Soviet Union.

What Lenin Didn't Say

It is natural for a man of Wilson's background to believe quite sincerely that increased spending and taxes are a worse threat to the United States than Soviet nuclear weapons. Both Wilson and his closest Cabinet collaborator, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, are fond of repeating Lenin's supposed dictum that the Soviets would force this country to destroy itself by over-spending. The fact that Lenin never said anything of the sort is beside the point—he ought to have said it.

It is also natural for a man of Wilson's background to resist stoutly and instinctively any suggestion that the Soviets can really challenge the United States in production — to assume, as Wilson has said, that "most of their weapons, of course, really come out of the Western world."

The estimates of Soviet air power, showing the Soviets surpassing this country by a wide margin in bombers, come from the "National Intelligence Estimates." These estimates are formerly approved by the National Security Council, and thus by Wilson as a member of the council. Yet Wilson is not really disturbed by the frightening estimates he himself has approved, partly because he is not accustomed to thinking in terms of the world balance of power, and partly because he does not really believe them.

His Senate critics picture Wilson as a devious man, deliberately deceiving the country. This is unfair, for Wilson's performance on Capitol Hill leaves a clear impression of a simple and honest man. But it also leaves the impression that, as a defendant before the bar of history, Wilson may be found guilty of deceiving himself, which, in a man in Wilson's position, can be a cardinal sin.

Vacationers Should Include First Aid Kit In Gear

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Vacationers who plan on camping, yachting, fishing, or touring should include a first aid kit in their gear. The supplies can be fitted into a suitable box. A light, strong, and weather resistant container is best for the yachtsman, camper, and fisherman. The motorist may prefer a tin or cardboard box that is placed behind the spare tire, where it is readily accessible.

The usual first aid items are gauze, adhesive, thermometer, and elastic bandages. Scissors, forceps, and soap come in handy for cleansing cuts and minor burns. What medicines should be included? Aspirin heads the list; it has 101 uses varying from killing pain to reducing fever.

Tablets or capsules containing an antihistaminic product will be helpful in case of hives or asthma. Antihistaminic ointments are of value in itching from allergic skin reactions and insect bites. Calamine lotion, an analgesic cream, baking soda paste, menthol, or witch hazel also may be used to ease itching.

A mild cathartic may be needed for constipation but if diarrhea is a problem, paregoric, powdered opium, kaomagma, or kaopectate are suggested. It will do no harm to throw in a few dental poultices or oil of cloves for toothache, a suntan lotion, and an insect repellent such as 612.

A physician may approve the use of a sleeping pill for insomnia, although boat trips usually have the opposite effect. An antibiotic such as erythromycin, terramycin, or oral penicillin for infection may be purchased by prescription before leaving. The remedy may be kept on hand in case of emergency or when the individual is in a remote spot where medical care is unobtainable for days.

Dramamine, bonamine, marezine, or phernegen are standard motion sickness products. For excesses, creamalin or gelusil will prove helpful in relieving indigestion. Vacationers ought to take along a book on first aid. For a list of such books, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with request.

TOMORROW: Pinworm infestation.

RESTLESS LEGS

R. T. writes: In the evening when I sit down to read I can't relax because of a peculiar sensation in my legs. It isn't pain or cramp but feels like a nerve quivering. I have to get up and walk around all evening. Can you tell me what this is?

REPLY

This condition is called restless legs or jimmy legs. It is somewhat akin to the numbness, tingling, and prickling other persons complain of, and may be due to pressure on a nerve.

RETIREMENT WITH WORK

E. K. writes: When I was retired four years ago I took a real estate course at the university, passed my exams, and obtained a salesman's license. After three years of successful selling I've decided I want to work less and fish more. What schedule would you suggest for me as I have trouble stopping work.

REPLY

Hours 10 to 2, with a 12 to 1 lunch period. After all, the fish bite better in the early morning and late afternooon.

CHEST SOUNDS

W. T. writes: What is meant by rales in the chest?

REPLY

Rales are the sounds that a physician hears when there is congestion in the lungs.

TOXEMIA OF PREGNANGY

Mrs. E. writes: If a woman had toxemia during pregnancy, can she develop it again after the baby is born?

REPLY

Not unless she becomes pregnant again. On the other hand, when a woman with nephritis to begin with becomes pregnant and develops toxemia of pregnancy, there is a possibility that kidney trouble will continue after the baby is born.

NO MOTION; NO PAIN

W. B. writes: Is there such a thing as painless arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, after the involved joints become stiff and cannot be moved.

MORE FAT, MORE WORK

W. H. writes: How does overweight affect high blood pressure?

REPLY

Obesity itself is not a cause of high blood pressure. On the other hand, individuals with a tendency toward hypertension usually have higher readings when they are too heavy than when weight is normal.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Guests Share Picnic Fare And Fun Of Having Meals In Your Backyard

Fresh air, food, family, friends and fun are the finest ingredients for a good picnic. Picnic fare as simple as hot, juicy hamburgers topped with melting slices of Gouda cheese, a crisp salad, seasonal fresh fruits, cookies and coffee will quite easily establish one of your backyard picnics as an unusually great success.

Summer skies and warm weather are enticing lures, and they set the scene well for outdoor meals.

It's seasonal, now, for your thoughts to easily roam to the kinds of foods which combine well to make picnic fun for all and a burden to none. Let's face it . . . make certain that the burden is not on you, the hostess.

Too many homemakers and hostesses take picnics too seriously . . . with elaborate preparations, fussy cooking, hunting the ideal spot and lots of extras that strip the occasion of much of its spontaneous fun.

The wonderful aroma of delicious hamburgers cooking over a charcoal fire, the clear skies of these summer evenings, and a happy atmosphere of relaxed hospitality will create the finest of introductions for guests to an informal supper and evening in your backyard.

First in importance is your determination to keep your menu simple. Invite your guests to top each sizzling hot hamburger with an oval slice or two of Gouda cheese and pop them between buttered, toasted halves of sandwich buns hot from the charcoal grill. French fried onion rings (the frozen type, wrapped in foil and heated over the charcoal fire) add a harmonious note to each hamburger sandwich, Gouda-style.

A "walking" salad made of crisp cabbage slaw heaped into scooped halves of luscious red tomatoes makes a hit with guests who like to walk around the lawn while eating. Those who prefer to assemble their meal on a plate and eat at a lawn table or on a tray will like this salad equally well.

Chocolate brownies served with fresh pears, plums and grapes, and coffee and milk as a beverage, complete an outdoor meal that will be long remembered as a happy summertime event.

It's a good idea to include guests often in your plans for picnics in your backyard this summer and fall. If you have cabbage, fresh tomatoes, a unit or two of baby Gouda cheese and fresh fruit in your refrigerator, frozen onions in your freezer, and a package of brownie mix on the shelf, you have a good head start in preparation of this backyard meal. A quick trip to a neighborhood store for sandwich buns and meat and presto! . . . . within an hour you can be ready to serve this picnic meal to guests.

Orange Whip

1. Mix 1 envelope unflavored gelatine, ⅓ cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt together thoroughly.
2. Add 1¾ cups very hot orange juice and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved.
3. Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency.
4. Beat with a rotary beater until light and fluffy and double in volume.
5. Spoon into dessert dishes or turn into a 4-cup mold or individual molds; chill until firm.
6. Makes 4 servings. 118 calories per serving.

Peach Dessert

Mix 1 envelope Unflavored Gelatine, 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt together thoroughly in the top of a double boiler.

Beat together 2 egg yolks and ½ cup water; add to gelatine mixture and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; add 1 (10 oz.) package frozen sliced peaches, completely thawed, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency. Beat with a rotary beater until light and peaches are blended. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff; beat in 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold gelatine mixture into egg whites.

Spoon into dessert dishes or turn into a 3-cup mold and chill until firm.

Makes 6 servings. 100 calories per serving.

Tongue Sandwich Filling

1½ cups (½ pound) ground tongue
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine tongue, celery, horse-radish, mustard and mayonnaise.

Yield: 1½ cups, or filling for 8 sandwiches.

Frank, Beans, And Corn Bread

Lovers of frankfurter and baked bean dishes will like this version of their favorite with its crunchy corn bread topping. Slices of tender, juicy franks are cooked with well seasoned baked beans to make this a quick and easy main course.

Frank and Bean Bake

1 pound frankfurters
2 1-pound cans baked beans
½ cup tomato juice
1 small onion, diced
1 package corn bread mix or 1 1 standard recipe for corn bread

Cut frankfurters in ½ inch pieces and mix with beans, juice, and onion. Place in rectangular baking dish. Prepare corn bread batter according to recipe instructions, and drop by large spoonfuls over frank and bean mixture. Bake in a 425° F. oven 25 minutes or until corn bread is browned. 6 servings.

Vegetable Sandwich Filling

¼ cup finely diced, cooked asparagus
¼ cup finely diced, cooked carrots
¼ cup cooked peas
¼ cup finely chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped green onion
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Drain the cooked vegetables very well, using absorbant paper. Add celery, green onion, salt, mustard and mayonnaise.

Yield: 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

Don't Bake—Try Summer Apple Pie

Stay cool, but have your favorite pie on the hottest days. This summer version of apple pie requires no baking, is easy making in every way, and is truly delicious. And good news, too, is that other favorite fruit pies may be made the same way. It's a good idea to keep several canned fruits on hand.

The canned fruit filling is made atop the range and put into a crumb crust, chilled, and served with fluffy whipped cream.

Summer Apple Pie

1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
½ cup melted butter, or margarine
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced apples
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
Whipping cream

Mix graham cracker crumbs with melted butter and pat firmly on the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan to form a crust. Combine rest of ingredients, except cream, in a saucepan and cook until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Put in crust and chill. Top with whipped cream. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Variations: Follow your favorite filling recipe, using canned cherries, pineapple, peaches, apricots or berries. Use ready-prepared fruit pie filling if you wish. Fold a little orange marmalade into the whipped cream for a special topping.

Turkey Teenies Make Delectable Dainties For Anniversary Buffet

Turkey Teenies, like triple-layer cake, are irresistible dainties for the anniversary buffet. You will delight in seeing your guests enjoy them while musing the tender memories of your wedding day.

The Turkey Teenies are delectable three-bite size morsels. They're made with chopped turkey meat blended with just enough peppy barbecue sauce to hold the meat together, and small homemade or bakery rolls of the Parker House variety. One Turkey Teenie will meet small appetites; heartier appetites will relish two or three.

The anniversary cake, made light and delectable with eggs, will add to the exciting and satisfying memories of the occasion.

Supplement these buffet features with relishes, such as pimiento-stuffed olives, pineapple chunks and ripe olives, salted nuts, frosty fruit punch and hot coffee will inject the bit of "tradition" desired. This entire menu is easy to prepare, especially if the rolls and cake are purchased and the punch is prepared from canned or frozen juices.

Turkey Teenies

Sauce:
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
½ clove garlic or ½ teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup catsup
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ cup water
½ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups cooked, chopped turkey
5 dozen miniature soft rolls

Blend sauce ingredients and bring to a boil. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until thick. Add turkey. Continue cooking over low heat, 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, to blend and heat thoroughly. Cool about 15 minutes before filling rolls. Split rolls almost in half, horizontally. Place one level tablespoon turkey filling in each roll. Makes about 5 dozen Turkey Teenies.

Guests Share Picnic Fare And Fun Of Having Meals In Your Backyard

Fresh air, food, family, friends and fun are the finest ingredients for a good picnic. Picnic fare as simple as hot, juicy hamburgers topped with melting slices of Gouda cheese, a crisp salad, seasonal fresh fruits, cookies and coffee will quite easily establish one of your backyard picnics as an unusually great success.

Summer skies and warm weather are enticing lures, and they set the scene well for outdoor meals.

It's seasonal, now, for your thoughts to easily roam to the kinds of foods which combine well to make picnic fun for all and a burden to none. Let's face it . . . make certain that the burden is not on you, the hostess.

Too many homemakers and hostesses take picnics too seriously . . . with elaborate preparations, fussy cooking, hunting the ideal spot and lots of extras that strip the occasion of much of its spontaneous fun.

The wonderful aroma of delicious hamburgers cooking over a charcoal fire, the clear skies of these summer evenings, and a happy atmosphere of relaxed hospitality will create the finest of introductions for guests to an informal supper and evening in your backyard.

First in importance is your determination to keep your menu simple. Invite your guests to top each sizzling hot hamburger with an oval slice or two of Gouda cheese and pop them between buttered, toasted halves of sandwich buns hot from the charcoal grill. French fried onion rings (the frozen type, wrapped in foil and heated over the charcoal fire) add a harmonious note to each hamburger sandwich, Gouda-style.

A "walking" salad made of crisp cabbage slaw heaped into scooped halves of luscious red tomatoes makes a hit with guests who like to walk around the lawn while eating. Those who prefer to assemble their meal on a plate and eat at a lawn table or on a tray will like this salad equally well.

Chocolate brownies served with fresh pears, plums and grapes, and coffee and milk as a beverage, complete an outdoor meal that will be long remembered as a happy summertime event.

It's a good idea to include guests often in your plans for picnics in your backyard this summer and fall. If you have cabbage, fresh tomatoes, a unit or two of baby Gouda cheese and fresh fruit in your refrigerator, frozen onions in your freezer, and a package of brownie mix on the shelf, you have a good head start in preparation of this backyard meal. A quick trip to a neighborhood store for sandwich buns and meat and presto! . . . . within an hour you can be ready to serve this picnic meal to guests.

Orange Whip

1. Mix 1 envelope unflavored gelatine, ½ cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt together thoroughly.
2. Add 1¾ cups very hot orange juice and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved.
3. Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency.
4. Beat with a rotary beater until light and fluffy and double in volume.
5. Spoon into dessert dishes or turn into a 4-cup mold or individual molds; chill until firm.
6. Makes 4 servings. 118 calories per serving.

Peach Dessert

Mix 1 envelope Unflavored Gelatine, 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt together thoroughly in the top of a double boiler.

Beat together 2 egg yolks and ½ cup water; add to gelatine mixture and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; add 1 (10 oz.) package frozen sliced peaches, completely thawed, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency. Beat with a rotary beater until light and peaches are blended. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff; beat in 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold gelatine mixture into egg whites.

Spoon into dessert dishes or turn into a 3-cup mold and chill until firm.

Makes 6 servings. 100 calories per serving.

Tongue Sandwich Filling

- 1½ cups (½ pound) ground tongue
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery
- 1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine tongue, celery, horseradish, mustard and mayonnaise.

Yield: 1½ cups, or filling for 8 sandwiches.

Frank, Beans, And Corn Bread

Lovers of frankfurter and baked bean dishes will like this version of their favorite with its crunchy corn bread topping. Slices of tender, juicy franks are cooked with well seasoned baked beans to make this a quick and easy main course.

Frank and Bean Bake

- 1 pound frankfurters
- 2 1-pound cans baked beans
- ½ cup tomato juice
- 1 small onion, diced
- 1 package corn bread mix or 1 standard recipe for corn bread

Cut frankfurters in ½ inch pieces and mix with beans, juice, and onion. Place in rectangular baking dish. Prepare corn bread batter according to recipe instructions, and drop by large spoonfuls over frank and bean mixture. Bake in a 425° F. oven 25 minutes or until corn bread is browned. 6 servings.

Vegetable Sandwich Filling

- ¼ cup finely diced, cooked asparagus
- ¼ cup finely diced, cooked carrots
- ¼ cup cooked peas
- ¼ cup finely chopped celery
- 1 tablespoon chopped green onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Drain the cooked vegetables very well, using absorbant paper. Add celery, green onion, salt, mustard and mayonnaise.

Yield: 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

Don't Bake—Try Summer Apple Pie

Stay cool, but have your favorite pie on the hottest days. This summer version of apple pie requires no baking, is easy making in every way, and is truly delicious. And good news, too, is that other favorite fruit pies may be made the same way. It's a good idea to keep several canned fruits on hand.

The canned fruit filling is made atop the range and put into a crumb crust, chilled, and served with fluffy whipped cream.

Summer Apple Pie

- 1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
- ½ cup melted butter, or margarine
- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced apples
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- Whipping cream

Mix graham cracker crumbs with melted butter and pat firmly on the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan to form a crust. Combine rest of ingredients, except cream, in a saucepan and cook until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Put in crust and chill. Top with whipped cream. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Variations: Follow your favorite filling recipe, using canned cherries, pineapple, peaches, apricots or berries. Use ready-prepared fruit pie filling if you wish. Fold a little orange marmalade into the whipped cream for a special topping.

Turkey Teenies Make Delectable Dainties For Anniversary Buffet

Turkey Teenies, like triple-layer cake, are irresistible dainties for the anniversary buffet. You will delight in seeing your guests enjoy them while musing the tender memories of your wedding day.

The Turkey Teenies are delectable three-bite size morsels. They're made with chopped turkey meat blended with just enough peppy barbecue sauce to hold the meat together, and small homemade or bakery rolls of the Parker House variety. One Turkey Teenie will meet small appetites; heartier appetites will relish two or three.

The anniversary cake, made light and delectable with eggs, will add to the exciting and satisfying memories of the occasion.

Supplement these buffet features with relishes, such as pimiento-stuffed olives, pineapple chunks and ripe olives, salted nuts, frosty fruit punch and hot coffee will inject the bit of "tradition" desired. This entire menu is easy to prepare, especially if the rolls and cake are purchased and the punch is prepared from canned or frozen juices.

Turkey Teenies

Sauce:

- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ½ clove garlic or ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- 1 cup catsup
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- ½ cup water
- ⅛ cup lemon juice or vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups cooked, chopped turkey
- 5 dozen miniature soft rolls

Blend sauce ingredients and bring to a boil. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until thick. Add turkey. Continue cooking over low heat, 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, to blend and heat thoroughly. Cool about 15 minutes before filling rolls. Split rolls almost in half, horizontally. Place one level tablespoon turkey filling in each roll. Makes about 5 dozen Turkey Teenies.

Communists Apparently Stumbling Over Own Feet

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

This is an even better time than usual not to believe anything you hear and less than half of what you see about Communist affairs.

Internationally, the party members from top to bottom are confused.

Domestically, at the Russian font of all party wisdom, the leaders appear to be in trouble.

In the United States the party, claiming emancipation from the necessity of revolution by violence and strict allegiance to Moscow, is trying to get out from under the Subversive Activities Control Board.

In Italy Palmiro Togliatti, shrewd Communist leader, first claimed emancipation, now claims renewed allegiance to Moscow.

There is talk that Khrushchev & Co. is coming apart at the seams within Russia. Outside Russia there is talk that international communism is also coming apart.

There does seem to be concern in Moscow over the varying reactions non-Soviet Communists to the downgrading of Stalin and the revelation before all of the world of what can happen under the totalitarian Communist system.

The Central Committee of the party has issued a statement trying to quell the foreign criticism with a feeble explanation and an appeal for a solid front against the threat of world anti-Communist forces.

At the United Nations Russia has returned to the Stalinist line on disarmament as expounded by Molotov, Vishinsky and Gromyko years ago.

In Poland the Reds have returned to brutal repression in the face of popular unrest., and are replaying the old records about how all the trouble was caused by the United States. Government leaders are reported trying to purge each other.

Yet Khrushchev is still trying to keep up the pretentions of "democracy" he has been pushing so hard in recent months. He's let the word go out that the Russians may get some choice of governmental representatives, and not merely be required to vote single-candidate tickets. He says government decisions are made by vote of top leaders when there is a difference of opinion.

There is no clear meaning in all of this, except that the Communists can be seen stumbling over their own feet.

There is a possibility that things will become a little clearer after the meeting of the Supreme Soviet next week.

Area Man Injured While Operating Saw

Carl Wilson, 46, husband of Mrs. Vanna Wilson, RD 2, Flintstone, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Wednesday after suffering injuries in an accident at his home.

Attaches said Wilson suffered a deep laceration of the left hand while operating a power saw. His condition is reported as "fair."

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, July 5 — (INS) — A big manufacturer who doesn't have to be named chose New Jersey as the site of a new plant not long ago, though several other states had made him flattering overtures. The decision came as something of a surprise to New Jersey, and after recovering from shock a state official asked why the man had selected as he did.

"Because the fellows in those toll booths on the Garden State Parkway are always so darn nice to me when I drive through—you know, 'Good Morning', 'Good afternoon', 'Good night', and 'thank you'," he said. And the state is consequently that much richer.

When the beautiful parkway opened it possessed a feature which some of its toll-takers still do not know about. Their booths are wired for sound. Their manner with the passing motorist can be tuned in on at headquarters. As one result, they are the most unfailing courteous toll-takers we've ever been frisked by.. They should give lessons to every other toll-taker in the land. Most of them give a motorist the impression they want HIM to do the thanking after paying.

If these two letters do not officially open the political season, so far as letters to the editor are concerned, we'll just have to wait for something better to come along:

"I've been a Democrat for 50 years but am no New Dealer. I vote as I please. My man is Nixon. The only reason Ike got my vote last time was because Nixon was on the ticket. Every Democrat I know feels the same way. We wouldn't vote for Sherman Adams for dog catcher. But if Nixon doesn't run, we'll go fishing."

And:

The chairlady of the Greater New York Unit, Abraham Lincoln National Republican Club, opines, "It is an accepted fact that the 1952 Taft-MacArthur Republicans are very much disappointed in President Eisenhower. If a poll were taken at meetings of conservative Republicans and they were asked 'who here supports Eisenhower?' the answer would be 'none'; but Senator Knowland does! Hence my word to members of the 'Knowland for President IF committee. When a patriotic group stages a rally to demonstrate that the majority of the people are for constitutional government, one of two names is a must on the program—Senator McCarthy or Senator Jenner. Senator Knowland is conspicuous by his absence.

"I am inclined to believe that the only way you will be successful in having Mr. Knowland supported by the conservatives is if Sens. Jenner and McCarthy endorse him."

And so it will go until the morning of November 7.

Chronic TV addicts and fanciers of movie theater popcorn will be jarred, perhaps, to learn that the average Japanese adult buys 80 books a year, including periodicals. That comes to 500,000,000 books plus, valued at $600,000,000 sold annually in Japan. More than 8 per cent of the Japanese public would be classed as bookworms in this country.

Favorite American authors: Hemingway, Faulkner and Steinbeck.

We never play a round of golf—the way we play—without thinking of the irate New Yorker who stormed into Scribner's and demanded his money back on Hemingway's "Across the River and Into the Trees."

Thought it was a golf book.

Communists Apparently Stumbling Over Own Feet

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

This is an even better time than usual not to believe anything you hear and less than half of what you see about Communist affairs.

Internationally, the party members from top to bottom are confused.

Domestically, at the Russian font of all party wisdom, the leaders appear to be in trouble.

In the United States the party, claiming emancipation from the necessity of revolution by violence and strict allegiance to Moscow, is trying to get out from under the Subversive Activities Control Board.

In Italy Palmiro Togliatti, shrewd Communist leader, first claimed emancipation, now claims renewed allegiance to Moscow.

There is talk that Khrushchev & Co. is coming apart at the seams within Russia. Outside Russia there is talk that international communism is also coming apart.

There does seem to be concern in Moscow over the varying reactions non-Soviet Communists to the downgrading of Stalin and the revelation before all of the world of what can happen under the totalitarian Communist system.

The Central Committee of the party has issued a statement trying to quell the foreign criticism with a feeble explanation and an appeal for a solid front against the threat of world anti-Communist forces.

At the United Nations Russia has returned to the Stalinist line on disarmament as expounded by Molotov, Vishinsky and Gromyko years ago.

In Poland the Reds have returned to brutal repression in the face of popular unrest., and are replaying the old records about how all the trouble was caused by the United States. Government leaders are reported trying to purge each other.

Yet Khrushchev is still trying to keep up the pretentions of "democracy" he has been pushing so hard in recent months. He's let the word go out that the Russians may get some choice of governmental representatives, and not merely be required to vote single-candidate tickets. He says government decisions are made by vote of top leaders when there is a difference of opinion.

There is no clear meaning in all of this, except that the Communists can be seen stumbling over their own feet.

There is a possibility that things will become a little clearer after the meeting of the Supreme Soviet next week.

Area Man Injured While Operating Saw

Carl Wilson, 46, husband of Mrs. Vanna Wilson, RD 2, Flintstone, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Wednesday after suffering injuries in an accident at his home.

Attaches said Wilson suffered a deep laceration of the left hand while operating a power saw. His condition is reported as "fair."

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, July 5 — (INS) — A big manufacturer who doesn't have to be named chose New Jersey as the site of a new plant not long ago, though several other states had made him flattering overtures. The decision came as something of a surprise to New Jersey, and after recovering from shock a state official asked why the man had selected as he did.

"Because the fellows in those toll booths on the Garden State Parkway are always so darn nice to me when I drive through—you know, 'Good Morning', 'Good afternoon', 'Good night', and 'thank you'," he said. And the state is consequently that much richer.

When the beautiful parkway opened it possessed a feature which some of its toll-takers still do not know about. Their booths are wired for sound. Their manner with the passing motorist can be tuned in on at headquarters. As one result, they are the most unfailing courteous toll-takers we've ever been frisked by. They should give lessons to every other toll-taker in the land. Most of them give a motorist the impression they want HIM to do the thanking after paying.

If these two letters do not officially open the political season, so far as letters to the editor are concerned, we'll just have to wait for something better to come along:

"I've been a Democrat for 50 years but am no New Dealer. I vote as I please. My man is Nixon. The only reason Ike got my vote last time was because Nixon was on the ticket. Every Democrat I know feels the same way. We wouldn't vote for Sherman Adams for dog catcher. But if Nixon doesn't run, we'll go fishing."

And:

The chairlady of the Greater New York Unit, Abraham Lincoln National Republican Club, opines, "It is an accepted fact that the 1952 Taft-MacArthur Republicans are very much disappointed in President Eisenhower. If a poll were taken at meetings of conservative Republicans and they were asked 'who here supports Eisenhower?' the answer would be 'none'; but Senator Knowland does! Hence my word to members of the 'Knowland for President IF committee. When a patriotic group stages a rally to demonstrate that the majority of the people are for constitutional government, one of two names is a must on the program—Senator McCarthy or Senator Jenner. Senator Knowland is conspicuous by his absence.

"I am inclined to believe that the only way you will be successful in having Mr. Knowland supported by the conservatives is if Sens. Jenner and McCarthy endorse him."

And so it will go until the morning of November 7.

Chronic TV addicts and fanciers of movie theater popcorn will be jarred, perhaps, to learn that the average Japanese adult buys 80 books a year, including periodicals. That comes to 500,000,000 books plus, valued at $600,000,000 sold annually in Japan. More than 8 per cent of the Japanese public would be classed as bookworms in this country.

Favorite American authors: Hemingway, Faulkner and Steinbeck.

We never play a round of golf—the way we play—without thinking of the irate New Yorker who stormed into Scribner's and demanded his money back on Hemingway's "Across the River and Into the Trees."

Thought it was a golf book.

Replacement Of Sugar Not Key To Low Calorie Bread

Whatever may be the key to producing a bona fide low calorie bread, it is not the replacement of sugar in whole or in part by synthetic sweeteners, according to results of extensive baking tests conducted by Bohn Food Research, Inc.

To separate fact from fancy, Sugar Information, Inc., engaged the Bohn research organization to bake bread containing an artificial sweetener and to compare its caloric values with loaves in which sugar was used alone and in combination with the synthetics. Raymond T. Bohn who supervised the studies, reported that "results show conclusively that total digestible solids determine the total calories of bread." "If these total solids remain constant," said Mr. Bohn, "a reduction in sugar means that the bread must contain a larger proportion of other solids, all of them having caloric values which equal or exceed those of sugar."

In the study, calories were calculated in the conventional manner after analysis of the loaves. Carbohydrate, whether sugar, dextrose, or the starch of wheat, corn and potatoes, has four calories per gram. Protein of animal or vegetable origin also has four calories per gram and fat has nine per gram. The combined weight of carbohydrate, protein and fat controls the number of calories in bread and synthetic sweetening agents have no effect on these totals, reported Mr. Bohn.

"It is clear then," said Mr. Bohn, "that the substitution of cyclamate for sugar on an equivalent sweetness basis does not reduce the number of calories in white bread. When the breads are adjusted to a uniform moisture content, caloric values are the same in all loaves within the limit of analytical accuracy. It's the solids content of bread which is the controlling factor, and, if this remains constant, the caloric value will be the same regardless of any substitution of synthetic sweeteners for sugar."

Easy-To-Make Strawberry Preserves

1 cup hulled strawberries for juice
6 cups hulled berries for preserves
3½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Wash, rinse, drain, hull and measure berries. The cup for juice must be firm but may be odd sized.

Mash 1 cup berries and squeeze out juice. Add sugar to juice. Cook until sugar dissolves. Cool sirup. (pan may be set in cold water.)

Add berries to sirup and put over very low heat until berries begin to boil. Increase heat and boil rapidly until berries are clear.

Pour boiling hot preserves into hot jars and seal at once.

After jars are cold, turn them on the side and let stay in that position about a week. Turn jars each day. This gives the berries better contact with the sirup and enables them to absorb more of it.

Dried Beef Party Dish

Creamed Frizzled Beef With Mushrooms

¾ cup butter or margarine
½ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups bouillon
½ pound dried beef
½ pound fresh mushrooms, washed and sliced lengthwise
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 4-ounce can pimento, chopped
Salt and pepper

Melt ½ cup butter, blend in flour, then gradually add milk and bouillon and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Break dried beef into small pieces and frizzle lightly in remaining ¼ cup butter. Add mushrooms and green pepper and cook about 5 minutes. Add beef mixture and pimento to sauce and heat through. Add salt and pepper if needed. Serve over toasted bread, English muffins, or Chinese noodles. 6 servings.

Kippers 'N' Shirred Eggs

THE HOUSEWIFE AND MOTHER can make a good nourishing breakfast, luncheon or supper with moist, lightly smoked Norway kippers and shirred eggs. This dish is sure to be a family treat and it is decidely economical. What's more, kippers from Norway are packed in exta easy to open aluminum cans which preserve that fresh-from-the-fjord flavor.

INGREDIENTS

1 (3¼ oz.) can Norway kippers
2 eggs
1 tbsp. bread crumbs
sprig of parsley (for garnish)
salt, pepper to taste

Butter a ramekin lightly and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Empty the contents of a can of Norway kippers and place in ramekin. Over the kippers break two eggs, being careful not to break the yolks. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve hot.

(This dish, which has been carefully kitchen tested, can be prepared at a cost of under 30 cents per serving)

Mixed Vegetable Salad

A vegetable salad takes on added color, flavor, and nutritive value when frozen mixed vegetables have a place among its ingredients. Witness the recipes below in each of which a package of the frozen mixed vegetables logically, and to their advantage, plays a part. The first is a colorful variation on the mixed vegetable salad—the second a tomato aspic salad with the brightly colored mixed vegetables imbedded in the spicy molds.

The reasons that frozen mixed vegetables add so much to the qualities for which we value salads are several: Frozen vegetables retain their bright colors even after they've been cooked. The freezing temperatures with which these high quality vegetables are processed has locked in their natural delicate flavors.

Perhaps most important, frozen vegetables are high in nutritive values. A recent research program in which the nutritive values of frozen fruits, vegetables, and juices were analyzed showed that a package of frozen mixed vegetables is an excellent source of the daily vitamin A requirement by a standard set by the National Research Council. Furthermore, the frozen mixed vegetables provide an appreciable amount of vitamin C and are an appreciable-to-good source of some of the important B vitamins. The frozen mixed vegetables are also a good source of iron and protein and provide an appreciable amount of phosphorus in the daily diet.

Mixed Vegetable Salad

1 package frozen mixed vegetables
½ cup French dressing
½ head lettuce
½ bunch romaine
Curly endive, if desired
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
½ cup sliced celery or sliced cucumbers
6 radishes, sliced

Cook frozen mixed vegetables according to directions on package. Drain (reserving liquid for soups, gravies, or sauces) and chill. Pour French dressing over the cooked vegetables and chill for at least a half hour. To prepare raw chilled vegetables, tear greens into bite-size pieces and cut tomatoes, celery and radishes. Place in salad bowl, then toss with chilled cooked vegetables and their dressing. Serves six.

Frozen Mixed Vegetables In Tomato Aspic

1 package frozen mixed vegetables
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold tomato juice
1¼ cups hot tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon grated horseradish
2 tablespoons finely diced green pepper

Cook frozen mixed vegetables by directions on package. Drain (reserving liquid for soups, sauces, or gravies) and chill. Pour gelatin into cold tomato juice and let stand to soften while heating 1¼ cups tomato juice. Stir salt and softened gelatin into heated tomato juice. Mix in worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, and grated onion. Chill this mixture until it is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Then fold into six individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on individual salad plates or chop plate on beds of lettuce or watercress. Serve with mayonnaise.

Replacement Of Sugar Not Key To Low Calorie Bread

Whatever may be the key to producing a bona fide low calorie bread, it is not the replacement of sugar in whole or in part by synthetic sweeteners, according to results of extensive baking tests conducted by Bohn Food Research, Inc.

To separate fact from fancy, Sugar Information, Inc., engaged the Bohn research organization to bake bread containing an artificial sweetener and to compare its caloric values with loaves in which sugar was used alone and in combination with the synthetics. Raymond T. Bohn who supervised the studies, reported that "results show conclusively that total digestible solids determine the total calories of bread." "If these total solids remain constant," said Mr. Bohn, "a reduction in sugar means that the bread must contain a larger proportion of other solids, all of them having caloric values which equal or exceed those of sugar."

In the study, calories were calculated in the conventional manner after analysis of the loaves. Carbohydrate, whether sugar, dextrose, or the starch of wheat, corn and potatoes, has four calories per gram. Protein of animal or vegetable origin also has four calories per gram and fat has nine per gram. The combined weight of carbohydrate, protein and fat controls the number of calories in bread and synthetic sweetening agents have no effect on these totals, reported Mr. Bohn.

"It is clear then," said Mr. Bohn, "that the substitution of cyclamate for sugar on an equivalent sweetness basis does not reduce the number of calories in white bread. When the breads are adjusted to a uniform moisture content, caloric values are the same in all loaves within the limit of analytical accuracy. It's the solids content of bread which is the controlling factor, and, if this remains constant, the caloric value will be the same regardless of any substitution of synthetic sweeteners for sugar."

Easy-To-Make Strawberry Preserves

1 cup hulled strawberries for juice
6 cups hulled berries for preserves
3½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Wash, rinse, drain, hull and measure berries. The cup for juice must be firm but may be odd sized.

Mash 1 cup berries and squeeze out juice. Add sugar to juice. Cook until sugar dissolves. Cool sirup. (pan may be set in cold water.)

Add berries to sirup and put over very low heat until berries begin to boil. Increase heat and boil rapidly until berries are clear.

Pour boiling hot preserves into hot jars and seal at once.

After jars are cold, turn them on the side and let stay in that position about a week. Turn jars each day. This gives the berries better contact with the sirup and enables them to absorb more of it.

Dried Beef Party Dish

Creamed Frizzled Beef With Mushrooms

¾ cup butter or margarine
½ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups bouillon
½ pound dried beef
½ pound fresh mushrooms, washed and sliced lengthwise
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 4-ounce can pimento, chopped
Salt and pepper

Melt ½ cup butter, blend in flour, then gradually add milk and bouillon and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Break dried beef into small pieces and frizzle lightly in remaining ¼ cup butter. Add mushrooms and green pepper and cook about 5 minutes. Add beef mixture and pimento to sauce and heat through. Add salt and pepper if needed. Serve over toasted bread, English muffins, or Chinese noodles. 6 servings.

Kippers 'N' Shirred Eggs

THE HOUSEWIFE AND MOTHER can make a good nourishing breakfast, luncheon or supper with moist, lightly smoked Norway kippers and shirred eggs. This dish is sure to be a family treat and it is decidely economical. What's more, kippers from Norway are packed in exta easy to open aluminum cans which preserve that fresh-from-the-fjord flavor.

INGREDIENTS

1 (3¼ oz.) can Norway kippers
2 eggs
1 tbsp. bread crumbs
sprig of parsley (for garnish)
salt, pepper to taste

Butter a ramekin lightly and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Empty the contents of a can of Norway kippers and place in ramekin. Over the kippers break two eggs, being careful not to break the yolks. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve hot.

(This dish, which has been carefully kitchen tested, can be prepared at a cost of under 30 cents per serving)

by Marian Martin

A vegetable salad takes on added color, flavor, and nutritive value when frozen mixed vegetables have a place among its ingredients. Witness the recipes below in each of which a package of the frozen mixed vegetables logically, and to their advantage, plays a part. The first is a colorful variation on the mixed vegetable salad—the second a tomato aspic salad with the brightly colored mixed vegetables imbedded in the spicy molds.

The reasons that frozen mixed vegetables add so much to the qualities for which we value salads are several: Frozen vegetables retain their bright colors even after they've been cooked. The freezing temperatures with which these high quality vegetables are processed has locked in their natural delicate flavors.

Perhaps most important, frozen vegetables are high in nutritive values. A recent research program in which the nutritive values of frozen fruits, vegetables, and juices were analyzed showed that a package of frozen mixed vegetables is an excellent source of the daily vitamin A requirement by a standard set by the National Research Council. Furthermore, the frozen mixed vegetables provide an appreciable amount of vitamin C and are an appreciable-to-good source of some of the important B vitamins. The frozen mixed vegetables are also a good source of iron and protein and provide an appreciable amount of phosphorus in the daily diet.

Mixed Vegetable Salad

1 package frozen mixed vegetables
½ cup French dressing
½ head lettuce
½ bunch romaine
Curly endive, if desired
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
½ cup sliced celery or sliced cucumbers
6 radishes, sliced

Cook frozen mixed vegetables according to directions on package. Drain (reserving liquid for soups, gravies, or sauces) and chill. Pour French dressing over the cooked vegetables and chill for at least a half hour. To prepare raw chilled vegetables, tear greens into bite-size pieces and cut tomatoes, celery and radishes. Place in salad bowl, then toss with chilled cooked vegetables and their dressing. Serves six.

Frozen Mixed Vegetables In Tomato Aspic

1 package frozen mixed vegetables
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold tomato juice
1¼ cups hot tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon grated horseradish
2 tablespoons finely diced green pepper

Cook frozen mixed vegetables by directions on package. Drain (reserving liquid for soups, sauces, or gravies) and chill. Pour gelatin into cold tomato juice and let stand to soften while heating 1¼ cups tomato juice. Stir salt and softened gelatin into heated tomato juice. Mix in worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, and grated onion. Chill this mixture until it is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Then fold into six individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on individual salad plates or chop plate on beds of lettuce or watercress. Serve with mayonnaise.

Yankees Defeat Bosox, 6-1; Detroit Trims Cleveland, 13-7

Ford Pitches Mantleless Yanks To Win

McDougald Sparkles; Game Played In Rain, 2nd Postponed

BOSTON, July 5 (AP) — Gil McDougald bolstered southpaw Whitey Ford's seven-hit pitching with a home run, double and single today for a 6-1 New York Yankee victory over Boston at rain-drenched Fenway Park.

The contest was the first half of a scheduled day-night doubleheader and was played in a steady drizzle.

The second game was postponed and will be played as a night game Sept. 5.

While McDougald drove in four runs, Ford tamed the Red Sox for the third time in a row this season —all complete games. The triumph was his 10th of the season against four setbacks.

Despite the slippery footing, the crafty Yankee lefthander got the fielding support when he needed it.

Jackie Jesen singled and advanced on a wild pitch in the fourth inning for Boston, but Gerry Coleman's brilliant diving stop of Jim Piersall's smash on the edge of the grass and his quick throw killed the Red Sox opportunity.

McDougald's three-run blast in the third inning got the Yanks off and running. After Ford singled and Billy Martin beat out a bunt as loser Bob Porterfield slipped coming off the mound, Gil lined a 3-2 pitch into the left field screen.

The Yankees added another three-run spree in the fourth off Porterfield and reliefer Tommy Hurd. Four hits and three walks did the job. McDougald and Andy Carey singled for runs and Ford walked to force in another.

Billy Goodman's sacrifice fly in the third provided the only chink in Ford's armor.

Cubs Explode In 7th, Defeat Milwaukee, 7-1

MILWAUKEE, July 5 (AP)—The sixth-place Chicago Cubs exploded for five runs in the seventh inning tonight to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 7-1, and shove the Braves out of first place in the National League.

The defeat toppled the Braves into second place where they were 3 percentage points behind the Cincinnati Redlegs and 3 points ahead of the third - place Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cubs snapped to life after two were out in the seventh. The outburst was started by Eddie Miksis who smacked his eighth homer of the year into the left field bleachers. Before the inning was over 10 Cubs had tripped to the plate and socked six consecutive hits.

Besides Miksis' homer, other big blows in the inning were doubles by Don Hoak and Dee Fondy that produced one run each and a single by Gene Baker that sent two runs home.

The Braves were held to four hits by Vito Valentinetti and Jim Brosnan. The victory, his second against two defeats, went to Brosnan who worked 4 1-3 innings allowing only one hit.

Valentinetti, in his first major league start, held the Braves to one run in 4 2-3 innings. The score, in the fifth, came without a Milwaukee hit. It also sent Valentinetti out of the game with a pulled ligament in his right knee.

N. Y. Approves Race Track Improvements

NEW YORK, July 5—(INS)—The New York State Racing Commission announced its approval today of plans for a $30,000,000 improvement of thoroughbred race tracks—including an entirely new plant at the present Aqueduct Park site.

The commission also agreed to omit a fall racing schedule at Aqueduct this year so that demolition of the old track can begin at once.

Fund Proposal To Face Vote

Trautman Orders Minors To Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 5 (AP)—George M. Trautman today ordered an immediate vote by the 27 minor baseball leagues on a proposal to set up a $100,000 emergency fund to aid financially embarrassed minor league clubs.

Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, acted after Vincent McNamara of Buffalo, president of the Class D Pony Loop, had submitted a request signed by eight league heads.

A vote is mandatory under association rules when asked on any subject by seven league presidents.

McNamara, who met with Trautman for several hours today, is chairman of a group made up of presidents of all Class B, C, and D circuits. The $100,000 fund, if approved by the leagues, would be taken from reserve funds of the National Association and used during the current season to aid clubs which have operating costs exceeding receipts and are in danger of folding.

McNamara's group also suggested that $100,000 be tossed into the emergency fund by the majors, but no action has been taken by the big leagues. Trautman said the vote-taking machinery would be started tomorrow.

Celebrity Upsets Safe Trac Tossers

Celebrity, bouncing back from a 15-13 loss to the last-place Kant Slip team on Tuesday, defeated the league-leading Safe-Trac tossers yesterday, 10-4, at Eckhart, in a Kelly Softball League contest.

The game was called in the bottom of the sixth because of rain with one out and Celebrity batting. John Horn was the winning pitcher, allowing only four hits.

Prestige defeated Kant Slip yesterday in another loop encounter, 10-4, handing the Kant Slips their 11th defeat in 13 games.

Horn had two doubles and Neder and Dawson a double and single apiece to top Celebrity's win. Widdows had a two-bagger for Safe-Trac.

Buskirk had three hits in three trips to the plate for Prestige. Geiger's single and double accounted for two of Kant Slip's five bingles. The scores:

KANT SLIP	200	002—	4	5 5

The Red Sox of the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League took over first place by registering a pair of victories yesterday and Tuesday.

The Red Sox defeated the Yankees, 6-3, yesterday at Fort Hill field behind Mike Long's five-hit hurling. This, coupled with the Fourth of July's 14-9 decision over the Pirates gave the Red Sox a 6-1 league mark. Hardinger was the winner over Whiteman on Wednesday.

In yesterday's tilt Harold Hardinger and Jim Cox each had two hits and two runs batted in apiece for the Red Sox. Butch Bosely and Ken Deatelhauser each had a two-base hit for the Yankees.

In another Dapper Division contest yesterday at Penn Avenue the Cardinals defeated the Pirates, 8-6. Walt Turner hit a three-run homer in the fifth to account for the winning margin. Terry Talley was the winning hurler and Ketterman the loser. Whiteman hit a three-run homer in the sixth for the losers. The scores:

Dan Braves Take Fourth Straight, Beat Senators, 8-2

The Braves captured their fourth straight victory in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday by turning back the second-place Senators 8-2, at Penn Avenue field.

Jim Brinkman, making only his second start for the victors, hurled five-hit ball, struck out 10 and walked but two. He was helped at the plate by Jim Stewart, who banged out two doubles and two singles in four trips, and Marty O'Toole who smashed a two-run homer in the second.

The loss was the second for the Senators who also have won four games.

League officials also announced last night that the Braves and Tigers will meet at 1:30 p. m. at Campobello Saturday while the Dodgers and the Athletics will collide at 10:30 a. m. on the Allegany field in loop encounters. The score:

Bengals Snap Home Stadium Losing Skein

Lary Posts Victory Over Lemon; Kuenn, Rosen, Busby Homer

DETROIT, July 5 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers erupted for 11 runs in the first three innings today and hung on for a 13-7 triumph over the Cleveland Indians, ending a winless Briggs Stadium streak that extended through 15 games.

Every man in the Tiger lineup hit safely and righthander Frank Lary, who had neither won nor completed a game since June 1, gave up only five hits although blasted for a pair of home runs that accounted for all of the Cleveland scoring.

Jim Busby smashed a grand slammer in the first inning following an error, a hit batsman and a walk. It was his seventh of the season. Al Rosen connected for his 12th with two men aboard in the sixth.

The Tigers, whose last victory at home was on June 15, ripped into Bob Lemon for five straight hits and six runs in the second. Lemon, dropping his sixth game in 16 decisions, gave up a double to Al Kaline and singles to Ray Boone, Frank House, Bill Tuttle and Frank Bolling before Art Houtteman took over. The Tigers reached him for a walk and a two-run double by Charlie Maxwell.

Detroit added five more in the third. Harvey Kuenn drove in three with his seventh home run and Lary scored two with a bases loaded single. Lary helped himself to his fifth victory against 10 setbacks by scoring three runs personally.

A double by House and Bolling's single scored one more for Detroit in the fourth and three straight singles off Bob Feller, fourth of five Cleveland Hurlers, added the final tally in the seventh.

Toby Colaw Gets Farm Contract From Pittsburgh

Donald "Toby" Colaw, Oakland Southern High School's first baseman, has been signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League and will report next March to Brunswick, Ga., to train with the Bucs' farm clubs there.

Colaw was signed by George Sisler, supervisor of Pittsburgh's scouting staff after working out twice at Forbes Field and playing on a Pirates' prospects team against a Pittsburgh semi-pro nine.

Toby throws and bats left-handed and hit .625 in the Potomac Valley Conference in six games this season. He also pitched, winning four games and losing one, striking out 71 batsmen in 44 innings, including 18 in one game.

He is 18 years old and hails from Crellin. He played for Southern High and Grantsville American Legion teams and is now playing first base for the Grantsville Sluggers of the Pen Mar League.

Wininger's 65 Leads Canadian

Record Round Puts Him Two Strokes Up

POINTE CLAIRE, Que., July 5 (AP)—Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City dropped a six-foot putt on the 18th green for a seven-under-par record 65 today for the first lead in the Canadian Open golf championship.

Wininger's round, which was made up of 35 on the front nine and a six-under-par 30 coming home, matched the Beaconsfield Club's course record.

His 65 snatched the lead from another pair of Americans—Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., who shot 67s.

Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., came in later with another 67, making a three-way tie for second place.

The record of 65 had stood exactly 10 years and was made in the Canadian Open of 1946 when Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles shot a 36-29. The 29 for the back nine has never been equalled since. Bracketed at 68 were Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Bob Staats, an unheralded amateur from Elmsford, N. Y.

Leaders in the Men's Rec Softball League were upset in games played yesterda; an(Wednesday.

St. Luke's upended second-place Lytle's, 7-5, yesterday at Naval Reserve field to hand the Sign Shop tossers their fourth loss of th. campaign. It was St. Luke's eighth triumph and edged 'them ahead of Lytle's on percentage points.

Meanwhile the top run Tri State Cleaners bounced back from an upset lost to Post's, 6-0, Wednesday, to score a 5-4 triumph over the B&O team at East Side yesterday.

Neil Toey posted his 10th pitching victory in tossing a five-hitter against the Railroaders. Toey lost his second game in dropping the shutout decision to Post's Dick Sites the day previous.

Post's chalked up its second win in two days with an easy 15-1 verdict over Naval Reserve at Post's field yesterday as Russ Miller pitched four-hit ball for the victors. Post's scored seven times in the first inning and coasted to the win.

Art Clauson pitched St. Luke's to victory over Lytle's and chipped in with a pair of hits He struck out 15 Lytle's batters. Glenn Brant also had two bingles for the winners. William Metheod had a triple and Brown a single and double for Lytle's.

Ronald Whisner clubbed out a single, double and homerun in the fifth inning for Post's in their victory yesterday. He also collected a pair of two-baggers in Wednesday's win over Tri State. Nelson had two hits for Naval Reserve.

George McGregor backed up Toey's pitching yesterday with a three-run homer in the second and Ronnie George smacked a triple for Tri-State. Toey also had a pair of doubles. The scores:

Vets Win, 6-3; K-C Wins Forfeit

Bob Koelker smashed out three hits, including a two-run homer in the first to pace the VFW tossers to a 6-3 win over the league-leading Outdoor Club yesterday at Campobello.

Klavuhn allowed the Outdoor sluggers seven hits as the Vets chalked up their eighth victory. The loss was the third in 13 games for the Outdoor Club.

Koelker chipped in with a double and single in addition to his homer. Phil Reuschel also had three singles. Ted Durbin had a double, single and four-base hit for the losers.

In the game at Fort Hill the Elks and Moose played to a 3-3 tie called in the top of the 10th because of darkness with the Elks batting and one out.

Bob Pence with two hits and Jim Fahey with a 4th inning home-run topped the Elks' hitting attack. Jim Angellatta had a single and double and John Esposito a triple and two singles for the Moose.

Bill Underdonk had a 3-1 lead in the bottom of the seventh for the Elks when Bill Thompson singled, Esposito tripled and Bob Dickle hit a long sacrifice fly to knot the score for the Moose, sending the game into overtime.

The Knights of Columbus registered their second straight victory by gaining a forfeit 7-0 decision over the Celanese team which was unable to field a full team for their game at Stitcher Field. The Caseys edged the Celanese tossers 7-5 in a practice tilt. The scores:

Potter Says Gamblers Take Over Athletics

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said today it appears that organized gamblers "are moving in on college athletics." He recommended a federal investigation.

In a letter to Atty. Gen Brownell, Potter asked for a report from the Justice Department by Jan. 1, "It may be that Congress will wish to study the matter when it reconvenes next year," he said.

There was no immediate comment from Brownell.

The Michigan senator told Brownell the area of professional bookmaking and "other syndicate operations" is shifting from horse and dog racing to baseball, football pools and boxing.

Potter told a reporter he had the impression Justice Department officials "haven't been keeping their finger on the problem too closely" since a crackdown on organized racetrack gambling several years ago.

Potter heads a Senate Commerce subcommittee which on Monday heard reports about a shift in gambling activities. Justice Department lawyers who sat in on the hearing indicated they had little information about allegations of Rufus King, a Washington attorney, who spoke of "ugly rumors of a fix, even in college athletics."

Ford Pitches Mantleless Yanks To Win

McDougald Sparkles; Game Played In Rain, 2nd Postponed

BOSTON, July 5 (AP) — Gil McDougald bolstered southpaw Whitey Ford's seven-hit pitching with a home run, double and single today for a 6-1 New York Yankee victory over Boston at rain-drenched Fenway Park.

The contest was the first half of a scheduled day-night double-header and was played in a steady drizzle.

The second game was postponed and will be played as a night game Sept. 5.

While McDougald drove in four runs, Ford tamed the Red Sox for the third time in a row this season —all complete games. The triumph was his 10th of the season against four setbacks.

Despite the slippery footing, the crafty Yankee lefthander got the fielding support when he needed it.

Jackie Jesen singled and advanced on a wild pitch in the fourth inning for Boston, but Gerry Coleman's brilliant diving stop of Jim Piersall's smash on the edge of the grass and his quick throw killed the Red Sox opportunity.

McDougald's three-run blast in the third inning got the Yanks off and running. After Ford singled and Billy Martin beat out a bunt as loser Bob Porterfield slipped coming off the mound, Gil lined a 3-2 pitch into the left field screen.

The Yankees added another three-run spree in the fourth off Porterfield and reliefer Tommy Hurd. Four hits and three walks did the job. McDougald and Andy Carey singled for runs and Ford walked to force in another.

Billy Goodman's sacrifice fly in the third provided the only chink in Ford's armor.

Cubs Explode In 7th, Defeat Milwaukee, 7-1

MILWAUKEE, July 5 (AP)—The sixth-place Chicago Cubs exploded for five runs in the seventh inning tonight to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 7-1, and shove the Braves out of first place in the National League.

The defeat toppled the Braves into second place where they were 3 percentage points behind the Cincinnati Redlegs and 3 points ahead of the third - place Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cubs snapped to life after two were out in the seventh. The outburst was started by Eddie Miksis who smacked his eighth homer of the year into the left field bleachers. Before the inning was over 10 Cubs had tripped to the plate and socked six consecutive hits.

Besides Miksis' homer, other big blows in the inning were doubles by Don Hoak and Dee Fondy that produced one run each and a single by Gene Baker that sent two runs home.

The Braves were held to four hits by Vito Valentinetti and Jim Brosnan. The victory, his second against two defeats, went to Brosnan who worked 4 1-3 innings allowing only one hit.

Valentinetti, in his first major league start, held the Braves to one run in 4 2-3 innings. The score, in the fifth, came without a Milwaukee hit. It also sent Valentinetti out of the game with a pulled ligament in his right knee.

N. Y. Approves Race Track Improvements

NEW YORK, July 5—(INS)—The New York State Racing Commission announced its approval today of plans for a $30,000,000 improvement of thoroughbred race tracks—including an entirely new plant at the present Aqueduct Park site.

The commission also agreed to omit a fall racing schedule at Aqueduct this year so that demolition of the old track can begin at once.

Trautman Orders Minors To Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 5 (AP)—George M. Trautman today ordered an immediate vote by the 27 minor baseball leagues on a proposal to set up a $100,000 emergency fund to aid financially embarrassed minor league clubs.

Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, acted after Vincent McNamara of Buffalo, president of the Class D Pony Loop, had submitted a request signed by eight league heads.

A vote is mandatory under association rules when asked on any subject by seven league presidents.

McNamara, who met with Trautman for several hours today, is chairman of a group made up of presidents of all Class B, C, and D circuits. The $100,000 fund, if approved by the leagues, would be taken from reserve funds of the National Association and used during the current season to aid clubs which have operating costs exceeding receipts and are in danger of folding.

McNamara's group also suggested that $100,000 be tossed into the emergency fund by the majors, but no action has been taken by the big leagues. Trautman said the vote-taking machinery would be started tomorrow.

Celebrity Upsets Safe Trac Tossers

Celebrity, bouncing back from a 15-13 loss to the last-place Kant Slip team on Tuesday, defeated the league-leading Safe-Trac tossers yesterday, 10-4, at Eckhart, in a Kelly Softball League contest.

The game was called in the bottom of the sixth because of rain with one out and Celebrity batting. John Horn was the winning pitcher, allowing only four hits.

Prestige defeated Kant Slip yesterday in another loop encounter, 10-4, handing the Kant Slips their 11th defeat in 13 games.

Horn had two doubles and Neder and Dawson a double and single apiece to top Celebrity's win. Widdows had a two-bagger for Safe-Trac.

Buskirk had three hits in three trips to the plate for Prestige. Geiger's single and double accounted for two of Kant Slip's five bingles. The scores:

KANT SLIP	200	002—	4	5
PRESTIGE	620	11x—10	10	1

The Red Sox of the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League took over first place by registering a pair of victories yesterday and Tuesday.

The Red Sox defeated the Yankees, 6-3, yesterday at Fort Hill field behind Mike Long's five-hit hurling. This, coupled with the Fourth of July's 14-9 decision over the Pirates gave the Red Sox a 6-1 league mark. Hardinger was the winner over Whiteman on Wednesday.

In yesterday's tilt Harold Hardinger and Jim Cox each had two hits and two runs batted in apiece for the Red Sox. Butch Bosely and Ken Deatelhauser each had a two-base hit for the Yankees.

In another Dapper Division contest yesterday at Penn Avenue the Cardinals defeated the Pirates, 8-6. Walt Turner hit a three-run homer in the fifth to account for the winning margin. Terry Talley was the winning hurler and Ketterman the loser. Whiteman hit a three-run homer in the sixth for the losers. The scores:

Dan Braves Take Fourth Straight, Beat Senators, 8-2

The Braves captured their fourth straight victory in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday by turning back the second-place Senators 8-2, at Penn Avenue field.

Jim Brinkman, making only his second start for the victors, hurled five-hit ball, struck out 10 and walked but two. He was helped at the plate by Jim Stewart, who banged out two doubles and two singles in four trips, and Marty O'Toole who smashed a two-run homer in the second.

The loss was the second for the Senators who also have won four games.

League officials also announced last night that the Braves and Tigers will meet at 1:30 p. m. at Campobello Saturday while the Dodgers and the Athletics will collide at 10:30 a. m. on the Allegany field in loop encounters. The score:

BRAVES	024	020—8	10	1
SENATORS	001	100—2	5	2

Brinkman and Stakem. Kaplon and Manges.

Bengals Snap Home Stadium Losing Skein

Lary Posts Victory Over Lemon; Kuenn, Rosen, Busby Homer

DETROIT, July 5 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers erupted for 11 runs in the first three innings today and hung on for a 13-7 triumph over the Cleveland Indians, ending a winless Briggs Stadium streak that extended through 15 games.

Every man in the Tiger lineup hit safely and righthander Frank Lary, who had neither won nor completed a game since June 1, gave up only five hits although blasted for a pair of home runs that accounted for all of the Cleveland scoring.

Jim Busby smashed a grand slammer in the first inning following an error, a hit batsman and a walk. It was his seventh of the season. Al Rosen connected for his 12th with two men aboard in the sixth.

The Tigers, whose last victory at home was on June 15, ripped into Bob Lemon for five straight hits and six runs in the second. Lemon, dropping his sixth game in 16 decisions, gave up a double to Al Kaline and singles to Ray Boone, Frank House, Bill Tuttle and Frank Bolling before Art Houtteman took over. The Tigers reached him for a walk and a two-run double by Charlie Maxwell.

Detroit added five more in the third. Harvey Kuenn drove in three with his seventh home run and Lary scored two with a bases loaded single. Lary helped himself to his fifth victory against 10 setbacks by scoring three runs personally.

A double by House and Bolling's single scored one more for Detroit in the fourth and three straight singles off Bob Feller, fourth of five Cleveland Hurlers, added the final tally in the seventh.

Toby Colaw Gets Farm Contract From Pittsburgh

Donald "Toby" Colaw, Oakland Southern High School's first baseman, has been signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League and will report next March to Brunswick, Ga., to train with the Bucs' farm clubs there.

Colaw was signed by George Sisler, supervisor of Pittsburgh's scouting staff after working out twice at Forbes Field and playing on a Pirates' prospects team against a Pittsburgh semi-pro nine.

Toby throws and bats left-handed and hit .625 in the Potomac Valley Conference in six games this season. He also pitched, winning four games and losing one, striking out 71 batsmen in 44 innings, including 18 in one game.

He is 18 years old and hails from Crellin. He played for Southern High and Grantsville American Legion teams and is now playing first base for the Grantsville Sluggers of the Pen Mar League.

Wininger's 65 Leads Canadian

Record Round Puts Him Two Strokes Up

POINTE CLAIRE, Que., July 5 (AP)—Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City dropped a six-foot putt on the 18th green for a seven-under-par record 65 today for the first lead in the Canadian Open golf championship.

Wininger's round, which was made up of 35 on the front nine and a six-under-par 30 coming home, matched the Beaconsfield Club's course record.

His 65 snatched the lead from another pair of Americans—Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., who shot 67s.

Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., came in later with another 67, making a three-way tie for second place.

The record of 65 had stood exactly 10 years and was made in the Canadian Open of 1946 when Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles shot a 36-29. The 29 for the back nine has never been equalled since. Bracketed at 68 were Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Bob Staats, an unheralded amateur from Elmsford, N. Y.

Leaders in the Men's Rec Softball League were upset in games played yesterday and Wednesday.

St. Luke's upended second-place Lytle's, 7-5, yesterday at Naval Reserve field to hand the Sign Shop tossers their fourth loss of the campaign. It was St. Luke's eighth triumph and edged them ahead of Lytle's on percentage points.

Meanwhile the top run Tri State Cleaners bounced back from an upset loss to Post's, 6-0, Wednesday, to score a 5-4 triumph over the B&O team at East Side yesterday.

Neil Toey posted his 10th pitching victory in tossing a five-hitter against the Railroaders. Toey lost his second game in dropping the shutout decision to Post's Dick Sites the day previous.

Post's chalked up its second win in two days with an easy 15-1 verdict over Naval Reserve at Post's field yesterday as Russ Miller pitched four-hit ball for the victors. Post's scored seven times in the first inning and coasted to the win.

Art Clauson pitched St. Luke's to victory over Lytle's and chipped in with a pair of hits He struck out 15 Lytle's batters. Glenn Brant also had two bingles for the winners. William Metheod had a triple and Brown a single and double for Lytle's.

Ronald Whisner clubbed out a single, double and homerun in the fifth inning for Post's in their victory yesterday. He also collected a pair of two-baggers in Wednesday's win over Tri State. Nelson had two hits for Naval Reserve.

George McGregor backed up Toey's pitching yesterday with a three-run homer in the second and Ronnie George smacked a triple for Tri-State. Toey also had a pair of doubles. The scores:

VFW Halts Outdoor Club

Vets Win, 6-3; K-C Wins Forfeit

Bob Koelker smashed out three hits, including a two-run homer in the first to pace the VFW tossers to a 6-3 win over the league-leading Outdoor Club yesterday at Campobello.

Klavuhn allowed the Outdoor sluggers seven hits as the Vets chalked up their eighth victory. The loss was the third in 13 games for the Outdoor Club.

Koelker chipped in with a double and single in addition to his homer. Phil Reuschel also had three singles. Ted Durbin had a double, single and four-base hit for the losers.

In the game at Fort Hill the Elks and Moose played to a 3-3 tie called in the top of the 10th because of darkness with the Elks batting and one out.

Bob Pence with two hits and Jim Fahey with a 4th inning homerun topped the Elks' hitting attack. Jim Angellatta had a single and double and John Esposito a triple and two singles for the Moose.

Bill Underdonk had a 3-1 lead in the bottom of the seventh for the Elks when Bill Thompson singled, Esposito tripled and Bob Dickle hit a long sacrifice fly to knot the score for the Moose, sending the game into overtime.

The Knights of Columbus registered their second straight victory by gaining a forfeit 7-0 decision over the Celanese team which was unable to field a full team for their game at Stitcher Field. The Caseys edged the Celanese tossers 7-5 in a practice tilt. The scores:

Solon Requests College Probe

Potter Says Gamblers Take Over Athletics

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said today it appears that organized gamblers "are moving in on college athletics." He recommended a federal investigation.

In a letter to Atty. Gen Brownell, Potter asked for a report from the Justice Department by Jan. 1. "It may be that Congress will wish to study the matter when it reconvenes next year," he said.

There was no immediate comment from Brownell.

The Michigan senator told Brownell the area of professional bookmaking and "other syndicate operations" is shifting from horse and dog racing to baseball, football pools and boxing.

Potter told a reporter he had the impression Justice Department officials "haven't been keeping their finger on the problem too closely" since a crackdown on organized racetrack gambling several years ago.

Potter heads a Senate Commerce subcommittee which on Monday heard reports about a shift in gambling activities. Justice Department lawyers who sat in on the hearing indicated they had little information about allegations of Rufus King, a Washington attorney, who spoke of "ugly rumors of a fix, even in college athletics."

Thompson Grabs Half-Way Lead In British Open Golf

Shoots Second 70 On Hoylake Course

HOYLAKE, England, July 5 (AP)—Defending Champion Peter Thomson of Australia strung together three successive birdies under pressure today to grab the half-way lead in the British Open golf championship and to make a strong bid for golfing immortality.

Thomson, shooting his second 70 over the rugged Hoylake course on a day that was hardly fit for golf or humans, carded 140 for 36 holes. He finished one stroke ahead of a pair of larruping Latins from Argentina, Enrique Bertolino and Roberto de Vicenzo.

These three golfing dreadnaughts steamed almost out of sight of the rest of the field. America's chief hopes—Mike Souchak and Frank Stranahan — floundered in their wake with 148 each.

The tiny American delegation was cut in half as veteran Gene Sarazen withdrew after shooting a respectable 74 today to qualify for the final 36 holes tomorrow and Pete Burke failed to make the grade. Sarazen, with a 152, decided to forego the rest of the tournament and return home to attend the funeral of a close friend killed in the Grand Canyon plane disaster.

If he can stay in front through the final 36 holes tomorrow, with the field reduced to the 48 low scorers, Thomson will become the first player of modern times to win the British Open three years in succession. There have been many three-time winners, but the last to win three in a row was Bob Ferguson in 1880-81-82.

Off his play so far, Thomson could do it.

Souchak, the former football player from Berwick, Pa., and Grossinger, N. Y., made a gallant fight to get as close as he did. He played through the worst part of a wild day of gales and rain that inflicted some of the most difficult golfing conditions in living memory.

The weather was so bad early this morning that there even was talk of calling off the whole round —something almost unheard-of in British golf.

Burke, the American PGA Senior champion from Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., was buffeted by the same weather and was eliminated after shooting 85 for 163. The rain drove so hard into his face that he had to take off his glasses and had difficulty sighting the greens. He said he would have dropped out if his English partner hadn't wanted to continue.

Barrelville Scores 13th Win In Row

Barrelville continued its march toward the pennant in the Pen Mar Baseball League by racking up its 13th consecutive win, 11-10 in 10 inning over Zihlman on the Fourth of July.

Zihlman twice rallied to come from behind and sent the game into overtime with a run in the bottom of the ninth inning, but two Barrelville runs in the first overtime gave George McGregor the verdict in relief of Jim McGregor. Fisher was the losing pitcher.

In other games Wednesday Grantsville tallied three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Hyndman, 5-4, with Keister edging See in the hurling duel.

At Flintstone the home team went down to defeat, 14-2, at the hands of Mt. Savage. The loss was the 15th in 16 starts for the Flintstone nine.

Wellersburg defeated Centreville, 9-6, on the victors' home grounds in the fourth league encounter on the holiday. Joe Glass was the victor despite giving up 13 his when his mates rallied for six runs in the seventh inning to tag Deremer with the loss. The Centreville attack was topped by Dave Rose's two doubles. Glass and Goss had two hits for the winners and Cessna and Morgan each chipped in with a triple. The score:

Hoad Defeats Ham Richardson At Wimbledon

Americanless Finals Are Scheduled Today

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5 (AP) — Lewis Hoad of Australia snuffed out America's hopes for another Wimbledon men's tennis title today in the semifinals with a victory over Hamilton Richardson.

The blond Australian dropped the first set while he probed Richardson's defense and he tested the offense. Then he ran out the match, almost calling his own shots, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Hoad meets Ken Rosewall tomorrow in an all-Australian final for the top title in tennis. Rosewall defeated Vic Seixas of Philadelphia yesterday. The championship round will be the seventh without an American since the final big year of William T. Tilden in 1930.

The Americanless championship emphasizes the failing quality of players from the nation which dominated the game for nearly 40 years.

Shirley Fry, 29-year-old Akron, Ohio, veteran who now lives in St. Petersburg, Fla., dropped one of the all-time queens of the center court out of the semifinals.

She defeated defending champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif. 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 and Saturday meets Angela Buxton of Britain.

Other results today saw Althea Gibson of New York, who failed in her bid to win the women's singles title for the Negro race, go forward in two doubles matches.

She and Miss Buxton teamed to defeat Mrs. Betty Pratt of Jamaica and Mrs. Thelma Long of Australia 5-7, 6-1, 6-1 in a women's quarterfinal.

The team of Gibson-Gardnar Mulloy, Denver, defeated Mal Anderson and Fay Juller, Australia, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2 in the mixed doubles quarter finals.

Tri Towns Cop Pair In Mineral County League

The Tri-Towns Merchants scored 12 runs in the sixth inning yesterday to defeat Pryne and Company tossers, 12-0, in a Mineral County Softball League game.

The victory was the second in two days for the league-leading Merchants who edged Ridgeley Legion, 2-1, in 14 innings on the Fourth of July holiday.

Charles Washington blanked the Pryne team on four hits while his mates exploded for 11 hits in the big sixth highlighted by Junie Perry's sacks-loaded homerun.

Richard Smith was the victor over Ronnie Phillips in the 14-inning thriller on Wednesday.

Ridgeley bounced back yesterday to defeat Patterson Creek, 7-5, as John Teter homered with two mates aboard in the second to pace the attack. Ronnie Phillips had a double and two singles for Ridgeley and Tuck Kenney a double and triple for Patterson Creek. The scores:

La. Passes Racial Ban

Measure Affects Sugar Bowl Tilt

BATON ROUGE, La., July 5 (AP) —The Louisiana Senate today voted unanimous final passage of a bill banning interracial athletic contests and social events.

The measure must return to the House for concurrence in a Senate amendment before going to Gov. Earl Long for signature.

The bill would prohibit "dancing, social functions, entertainments, athletic training, games, sports or contests and other such activities involving personal and social contacts in which the participants or contestants are members of the white and Negro races."

The measure further requires segregated seating and separate sanitary, drinking water and other facilities for members of the white and Negro race.

Under its provisions, Negro students attending Louisiana State University and three state colleges would sit apart from the student body in a segregated section at college events.

The LSU Board of Supervisors three times voted down a proposal to bar LSU athletic teams from playing against Negroes. Indications were the measure could force cancellation of LSU's home-and-home series with Wisconsin in 1957 and 1958.

The measure also would affect the Sugar Bowl athletic program in New Orleans, where a Negro played last Jan. 2 for Pittsburgh in the football game against Georgia Tech.

Jockey Ford Gets Four Wins At Charles Town

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., July 5 (AP)—R. E. Ford, 29-year-old jockey, had four rides today at the Charles Town race track and all four horses came in first.

The former resident of Arlington, Va., now living in Baltimore, was aboard the winners of the first two races to account for a daily double of $37.40. He rode Milford First at $7 in the first and Super Moose at $7.80 in the second.

Ford returned to the saddle in the fourth on Blue Lane and won at $3.20 for $2. In the sixth, he urged Upstroke into the winner's circle at odds of $3.50 to $1.

Prior to this afternoon, Ford had won only twice in five days of summer racing at Charles Town.

Country Club Cops Second Half Opener

Country Club tossers captured their opening contest in the second half of the Oakland Pony League yesterday of defeating the Woodmen of the World nine, 12-7.

A second league game between the Rotary and Moose was called in the fourth inning because of rain with Rotary ahead 3-1. The game will be replayed.

Ken Paugh with a triple and single; Boyd Sanders with two singles, and Cornish and Deevers each with a three-bagger headed the Country Club attack. Updyke had a double and single for two of the losers' three hits. The WOW team has lost two in a row in the second half race. The score:

WOW	011	113	0—	7	3	7
COUNTRY CLUB	431	013	x—12	9	3

X-Rays Reveal Mantle Suffers Sprained Knee

Yankees Star May Miss All-Star Tilt

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—An x-ray examination of Mickey Mantle's injured right knee tonight revealed some sprained ligaments and the New York Yankee team physician said the young slugger may be able to play again "in two or three days—although perhaps only as a pinch-hitter."

There was no indication whether Mantle will be able to be in the starting lineup for Tuesday's All-Star game at Washington. His availability for the annual classic will hinge on how the knee, to be supported by a brace, reacts during the Yankees' series with the Senators at Washington this weekend.

Dr. Sydney P. Gaynor said the x-rays showed that none of the ligaments had been torn loose from the bone and that there was no damage to the bone itself. Mantle, hot on the trail of Babe Ruth's record 60-home run total, injured the knee on the final play of the first game in Wednesday's doubleheader at Boston.

The 24-year-old switch-hitter sat out the second game of the July 4th twinbill and today's game at Boston. He arrived in New York by train for the hospital examination shortly after the supper hour.

Mantle, who appeared glum at the hospital before leaving for his home in nearby River Edge, N.J., is due to return to the hospital to pick up the brace around noon tomorrow.

Mantle, who was able to walk on the knee tonight without support from a crutch or cane, said "I'll throw that brace away as soon as I can."

Mantle hopes to leave tomorrow, after the fitting, to rejoin the Yankees in Washington.

Manager Casey Stengel, also manager of the American League All-Stars, said he couldn't tell whether Mantle will be able to make the starting lineup in Tuesday's classic, until he sees what Mantle can do in the Senator series.

With 29 home runs to his credit in the Yankees' 74 games, Mickey is five games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace. If he doesn't play through All-Star game time, he will start the second half of the season exactly even with the Babe, who hit 17 home runs in September.

The injury is the third suffered by the Oklahoma kid who once said of himself: "I got legs of an old man."

His first injury occurred in the 1952 World Series when he wrenched his left knee chasing a fly ball. He underwent an operation that winter. It was also in Boston, ironically enough, that Mickey suffered his second leg injury, a pulled hamstring muscle in his right thigh that kept him out of several World Series games last fall.

County League Arbiters Named

County Softball League umpires have been assigned for games next Tuesday and Friday, July 10 and July 13. They are:

TUESDAY, JULY 10

Melody Manor at Stringtown—Kenneth Grimes and Buck Frantz.

Kennell's Mill at Potomac Valley—Joe Geatz and Chick Snider.

FRIDAY, JULY 13

Potomac Valley at Corriganville—Kenneth Grimes and Buck Frantz.

Stringtown at Kennell's Mill—Chick Snider and George Schoenadel.

George Petras Captures Men's Golf Tournament

Defeats Jackson In Finals, 3 And 1

George Petras became the 34th champion since 1920 in the men's spring handicap golf tournament when he defeated Orville "Stony" Jackson, 3 and 1 Wednesday in the finals of the first flight at the Cumberland Country Club.

It was the first time both Petras and Jackson had reached the finals with Petras eliminating Cliff Hager, Ed Mattingly, and Judge Morgan C. Harris and Jackson defeating Robert Davis, Dr. A. G. Sandhoff and Russ Ponton. Ponton was the defending champion.

Petras, manager of Pryne and Company plant in Keyser shot rounds of 38-38 for a five-over-par 76 while Jackson carded a 42-36 for 78.

In other annual Fourth of July events George Eskin and Mrs. Helen Wise tied for top honors in the hole-in-one tourney, each getting shots within three feet of No. 10 hole, an 147-yard drive.

Rev. Ray Richardson, L. W. Brown and William George finished in that order for the flag tourney. Winning prizes for par-three holes were No. 6—Cliff Hafer; No. 10—Mort Peskin Sr.; No. 12—Jackson; No. 13—Clifton Van Roby; No. 15—John Wilson; No. 18—Judge Harris.

Nats Will Send Galen McGregor To Rookie Loop

Galen McGregor, 18, regular first baseman of Fort Hill High School teams for the past three seasons, will receive a tryout in organized baseball next season.

Bill Zamer, of Johnstown, scout for the Washington Senators has signed McGregor to a contract and the local tosser is expected to report to the Superior Club of the newly formed Nebraska State League, all-rookie circuit, next spring.

McGregor turned in batting averages of .241, .291 and .333 in his three seasons at Fort Hill. Galen also played in the Dapper Dan League, Hot Stove League and with Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 in the American Legion Junior League.

McGregor was a three sports star at Fort Hill, having played basketball, baseball and football for the Sentinels. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James McGregor, 511 Louisiana Avenue.

Dr. Eskin Wins Match

Dr. A. C. Eskin defeated John Wilson 1 up in 18 holes yesterday in a fourth flight match in the men's spring handicap tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Thompson Grabs Half-Way Lead In British Open Golf

Shoots Second 70 On Hoylake Course

HOYLAKE, England, July 5 (AP)—Defending Champion Peter Thomson of Australia strung together three successive birdies under pressure today to grab the half-way lead in the British Open golf championship and to make a strong bid for golfing immortality.

Thomson, shooting his second 70 over the rugged Hoylake course on a day that was hardly fit for golf or humans, carded 140 for 36 holes. He finished one stroke ahead of a pair of larruping Latins from Argentina, Enrique Bertolino and Roberto de Vicenzo.

These three golfing dreadnaughts steamed almost out of sight of the rest of the field. America's chief hopes—Mike Souchak and Frank Stranahan — floundered in their wake with 148 each.

The tiny American delegation was cut in half as veteran Gene Sarazen withdrew after shooting a respectable 74 today to qualify for the final 36 holes tomorrow and Pete Burke failed to make the grade. Sarazen, with a 152, decided to forego the rest of the tournament and return home to attend the funeral of a close friend killed in the Grand Canyon plane disaster.

If he can stay in front through the final 36 holes tomorrow, with the field reduced to the 48 low scorers, Thomson will become the first player of modern times to win the British Open three years in succession. There have been many three-time winners, but the last to win three in a row was Bob Ferguson in 1880-81-82.

Off his play so far, Thomson could do it.

Souchak, the former football player from Berwick, Pa., and Grossinger, N. Y., made a gallant fight to get as close as he did. He played through the worst part of a wild day of gales and rain that inflicted some of the most difficult golfing conditions in living memory.

The weather was so bad early this morning that there even was talk of calling off the whole round —something almost unheard-of in British golf.

Burke, the American PGA Senior champion from Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., was buffeted by the same weather and was eliminated after shooting 85 for 163. The rain drove so hard into his face that he had to take off his glasses and had difficulty sighting the greens. He said he would have dropped out if his English partner hadn't wanted to continue.

Manager Casey Stengel, also manager of the American League All-Stars, said he couldn't tell whether Mantle will be able to make the starting lineup in Tuesday's classic, until he sees what Mantle can do in the Senator series.

With 29 home runs to his credit in the Yankees' 74 games, Mickey is five games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace. If he doesn't play through All-Star game time, he will start the second half of the season exactly even with the Babe, who hit 17 home runs in September.

The injury is the third suffered by the Oklahoma kid who once said of himself: "I got legs of an old man."

His first injury occurred in the 1952 World Series when he wrenched his left knee chasing a fly ball. He underwent an operation that winter. It was also in Boston, ironically enough, that Mickey suffered his second leg injury, a pulled hamstring muscle in his right thigh that kept him out of several World Series games last fall.

County League Arbiters Named

County Softball League umpires have been assigned for games next Tuesday and Friday, July 10 and July 13. They are:

TUESDAY, JULY 10

Melody Manor at Stringtown—Kenneth Grimes and Buck Frantz.

Kennell's Mill at Potomac Valley—Joe Geatz and Chick Snider.

FRIDAY, JULY 13

Potomac Valley at Corriganville—Kenneth Grimes and Buck Frantz.

Stringtown at Kennell's Mill—Chick Snider and George Schoenadel.

George Petras Captures Men's Golf Tournament

Defeats Jackson In Finals, 3 And 1

George Petras became the 34th champion since 1920 in the men's spring handicap golf tournament when he defeated Orville "Stony" Jackson, 3 and 1 Wednesday in the finals of the first flight at the Cumberland Country Club.

It was the first time both Petras and Jackson had reached the finals with Petras eliminating Cliff Hager, Ed Mattingly, and Judge Morgan C. Harris and Jackson defeating Robert Davis, Dr. A. G. Sandhoff and Russ Ponton. Ponton was the defending champion.

Petras, manager of Pryne and Company plant in Keyser shot rounds of 38-38 for a five-over-par 76 while Jackson carded a 42-36 for 78.

In other annual Fourth of July events George Eskin and Mrs. Helen Wise tied for top honors in the hole-in-one tourney, each getting shots within three feet of No. 10 hole, an 147-yard drive.

Rev. Ray Richardson, L. W. Brown and William George finished in that order for the flag tourney. Winning prizes for par-three holes were No. 6—Cliff Hafer; No. 10—Mort Peskin Sr.; No. 12—Jackson; No. 13—Clifton Van Roby; No. 15—John Wilson; No. 18—Judge Harris.

Past winners of the spring golf tournament of the Men's Golf Association are:

Nats Will Send Galen McGregor To Rookie Loop

Galen McGregor, 18, regular first baseman of Fort Hill High School teams for the past three seasons, will receive a tryout in organized baseball next season.

Bill Zamer, of Johnstown, scout for the Washington Senators has signed McGregor to a contract and the local tosser is expected to report to the Superior Club of the newly formed Nebraska State League, all-rookie circuit, next spring.

McGregor turned in batting averages of .241, .291 and .333 in his three seasons at Fort Hill. Galen also played in the Dapper Dan League, Hot Stove League and with Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 in the American Legion Junior League.

McGregor was a three sports star at Fort Hill, having played basketball, baseball and football for the Sentinels. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James McGregor, 511 Louisiana Avenue.

Dr. Eskin Wins Match

Dr. A. C. Eskin defeated John Wilson 1 up in 18 holes yesterday in a fourth flight match in the men's spring handicap tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 5 (INS) — When we say goodbye to the James Mason family in a few days, it will be a long time before we see James, Pam, Portland and the baby again. After a visit to relatives in London, the Masons go to Bermuda where James will star in Alex Waugh's "Island in the Sun," for Producer Darryl Zanuck with Robert Rossen directing. Yes, he makes this picture before Grahame Green's "The Quiet American" (to be filmed in Rome and Indo-China.)

In the Waugh story, Mason plays the colorful role of Maxwell Fleury, a Britisher whose intense jealousy of his wife, plus a feud with a newspaperman who reveals a scandal in his family, leads to a tragedy.

Mel Frank, who with Norman Panama, has written some of the best scripts for Paramount, telephoned Hal Wallis and thanked him for saving his life.

"What do you mean?" asked Hal.

"I had reservations," Norman said, "on the United airplane that crashed and carried so many people to their death. You said you could only see me on Sunday about the idea I have for Martin and Lewis, so I canceled my reservations at the last minute."

Mrs. Frank had gone ahead by car with the children and he was to meet her in the east.

Seems only yesterday that Waverly Scott, daughter of Zachary Scott, was in kindergarten. Now I'm told that she is going to be married the 15th of this month to Frank Skinner, a New York stockbroker.

Zach, who has always been a doting father, is not going to let anything stand in the way of his attending Waverly's wedding. Although he planes to England to make a picture for Amalgamated Productions, Zach would not take the assignment without the promise that the London film company would let him fly back to New York for the 15th to give his daughter away.

In Las Vegas, Marie Wilson is creating a sensation both on the stage at the Riviera where she's appearing with Ken Murray, and off.

As a part of her private wardrobe she is wearing a pink sequins bathing suit with a matching sequins parasol around the pool at the hotel.

"It cost $400," says Marie, "and I put a lot in it."

Well, I guess she's not kidding!

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jeanne Crain was escorted to the premiere of "Moby Dick" by Jorge Guinle, chaperoned by Johnny Maschio.

Diana Dors, making her first public appearance, was given a big hand by the sidewalk standees.

Jack Warner and Serge Semenenko were unable to conclude their business in time to get here, but they are expected near the end of the week. I understand the deal is practically closed.

Talked with Nedda and Josh Logan at Chasen's. They left today for Tokyo on "Sayonara," which Josh directs. Edie and Bill Goetz follow next week.

Mary Curley came out from New York especially to attend John Haskell's party for Joe E. Lewis.

Fourth of July was made happy for Debbie Reynolds, who was given a $10,000 mink coat by Eddie Fisher, of course.

His excellency, the Most Reverend Alden J. Bell, D. D., auxiliary to Cardinal McIntyre, made a very favorable impression on all those who met him at the tea given by Princess Conchita Pignatelli.

Went with Irene Dunne, and it was very pleasant in Conchita's lovely garden.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

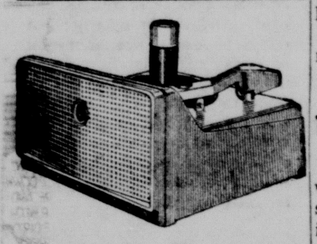
To Boost Purses

MIAMA, Fla. (AP)—Tropical Park, which opens Florida's horse racing season late in November, already is planning to increase purses.

Elmer Vickers, general manager of the track, said the Tropical Handicap will remain at $50,000, with at least two $25,000 stakes, two at $15,000 and others raised from $7,500 to $10,000.

Minimum purses probably will be raised from $2,000 to $2,200.

Unbranded cattle are called "mavericks" after Samuel Maverick, a Texas pioneer, who acquired a herd of cattle in payment of a debt. He did not brand his cattle and they strayed. Ranchers in the region called them "mavericks."



RCA Victor Automatic 45 "Victrola" Phonograph. Plays up to 2 hours of "45" records on a single loading! "Golden Throat" tone. AC operation. 2-tone cabinet in Charcoal Gray with Coral grille; Black with Smoked Pearl Gray; Antique White with Flame Red. Model 7EY1.

Bull Lea Has Sired Big Money Winners

Bull Lea, the famed Calumet stallion who once was advertising at a $250 stud-fee, has sired the winners of more than $11,000,000, including 22 horses that won over $100,000 each; 48 stakes winners: two Kentucky Derby winners; the Triple Crown winner, Citation; and one or more champions in each division, including 5 horses of the year.

It was during the year that his first crop of 2-year-olds went to the races that he was available to breeders at a fee of $250. He later commanded a fee of $5,000 and was finally taken off the market, although breeders would have been glad to pay $10,000 for his services.

Half Of Big Winners Come From Kentucky

An old adage of the turf says that horses come in all shapes and sizes and they also come from all over the map. A check of the "hometowns" of the 431 thoroughbreds that won a stakes race last year shows that 373 of them were bred in the United States—in 27 states to be exact.

However, while the performance of a horse such as Needles, current pride of Florida, demonstrates that a good horse can be raised anywhere, more than half of the Stakes winners each season still bear the stamp "bred in Kentucky". Kentucky and the bluegrass region around Lexington in particular, sent forth no less than 196 Stakes winners during 1955.

Second to Kentucky in the matter of breeding stakes winners is California, with 64, and of the stakes won, only eight were for home-breds. Virginia, at one time the cradle of the American Thoroughbred, is again in third place with 20 stakes winners.

Maryland produced 13 stakes winners and in fifth place was Washington, with 12.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 5 (INS) — When we say goodbye to the James Mason family in a few days, it will be a long time before we see James, Pam, Portland and the baby again. After a visit to relatives in London, the Masons go to Bermuda where James will star in Alex Waugh's "Island in the Sun," for Producer Darryl Zanuck with Robert Rossen directing. Yes, he makes this picture before Grahame Green's "The Quiet American" (to be filmed in Rome and Indo-China.)

In the Waugh story, Mason plays the colorful role of Maxwell Fleury, a Britisher whose intense jealousy of his wife, plus a feud with a newspaperman who reveals a scandal in his family, leads to a tragedy.

Mel Frank, who with Norman Panama, has written some of the best scripts for Paramount, telephoned Hal Wallis and thanked him for saving his life.

"What do you mean?" asked Hal.

"I had reservations," Norman said, "on the United airplane that crashed and carried so many people to their death. You said you could only see me on Sunday about the idea I have for Martin and Lewis, so I canceled my reservations at the last minute."

Mrs. Frank had gone ahead by car with the children and he was to meet her in the east.

Seems only yesterday that Waverly Scott, daughter of Zachary Scott, was in kindergarten. Now I'm told that she is going to be married the 15th of this month to Frank Skinner, a New York stockbroker.

Zach, who has always been a doting father, is not going to let anything stand in the way of his attending Waverly's wedding. Although he planes to England to make a picture for Amalgamated Productions, Zach would not take the assignment without the promise that the London film company would let him fly back to New York for the 15th to give his daughter away.

In Las Vegas, Marie Wilson is creating a sensation both on the stage at the Riviera where she's appearing with Ken Murray, and off.

As a part of her private wardrobe she is wearing a pink sequins bathing suit with a matching sequins parasol around the pool at the hotel.

"It cost $400," says Marie, "and I put a lot in it."

Well, I guess she's not kidding!

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jeanne Crain was escorted to the premiere of "Moby Dick" by Jorge Guinle, chaperoned by Johnny Maschio.

Diana Dors, making her first public appearance, was given a big hand by the sidewalk standees.

Jack Warner and Serge Semenenko were unable to conclude their business in time to get here, but they are expected near the end of the week. I understand the deal is practically closed.

Talked with Nedda and Josh Logan at Chasen's. They left today for Tokyo on "Sayonara," which Josh directs. Edie and Bill Goetz follow next week.

Mary Curley came out from New York especially to attend John Haskell's party for Joe E. Lewis.

Fourth of July was made happy for Debbie Reynolds, who was given a $10,000 mink coat by Eddie Fisher, of course.

His excellency, the Most Reverend Alden J. Bell, D. D., auxiliary to Cardinal McIntyre, made a very favorable impression on all those who met him at the tea given by Princess Conchita Pignatelli.

Went with Irene Dunne, and it was very pleasant in Conchita's lovely garden.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

To Boost Purses

MIAMA, Fla. (AP)—Tropical Park, which opens Florida's horse racing season late in November, already is planning to increase purses.

Elmer Vickers, general manager of the track, said the Tropical Handicap will remain at $50,000, with at least two $25,000 stakes, two at $15,000 and others raised from $7,500 to $10,000.

Minimum purses probably will be raised from $2,000 to $2,200.

Unbranded cattle are called "mavericks" after Samuel Maverick, a Texas pioneer, who acquired a herd of cattle in payment of a debt. He did not brand his cattle and they strayed. Ranchers in the region called them "mavericks."

Bull Lea Has Sired Big Money Winners

Bull Lea, the famed Calumet stallion who once was advertising at a $250 stud-fee, has sired the winners of more than $11,000,000, including 22 horses that won over $100,000 each; 48 stakes winners: two Kentucky Derby winners; the Triple Crown winner, Citation; and one or more champions in each division, including 5 horses of the year.

It was during the year that his first crop of 2-year-olds went to the races that he was available to breeders at a fee of $250. He later commanded a fee of $5,000 and was finally taken off the market, although breeders would have been glad to pay $10,000 for his services.

Half Of Big Winners Come From Kentucky

An old adage of the turf says that horses come in all shapes and sizes and they also come from all over the map. A check of the "hometowns" of the 431 thoroughbreds that won a stakes race last year shows that 373 of them were bred in the United States—in 27 states to be exact.

However, while the performance of a horse such as Needles, current pride of Florida, demonstrates that a good horse can be raised anywhere, more than half of the Stakes winners each season still bear the stamp "bred in Kentucky". Kentucky and the bluegrass region around Lexington in particular, sent forth no less than 196 Stakes winners during 1955.

Second to Kentucky in the matter of breeding stakes winners is California, with 64, and of the stakes won, only eight were for home-breds. Virginia, at one time the cradle of the American Thoroughbred, is again in third place with 20 stakes winners.

Maryland produced 13 stakes winners and in fifth place was Washington, with 12.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

For A Colorful Voice

Anything can be called monotonous, but there's reason that the word stems from monotone, which literally means one tone. Nothing is as monotonous as a monotonous sound—and it may be a flat, colorless voice. Is that what's wrong with your way of speaking? Do you sound as if you repeat one tone over and over?

If this is something you haven't thought of particularly, ask yourself these questions: Am I often asked to repeat what I say? Is it difficult for me to attract attention when I want to talk? Do I have trouble holding attention? Do I often fail at putting over a point?

Yes answers to these questions are unmistakable clues to something wrong. Your voice can't be appealing. It's probably pretty uninteresting and it may be downright monotonous. To change it, you should begin at the beginning with a good analysis of all your voice weaknesses and their proper correction. This you can accomplish yourself with the aid of my booklet, "Your Most Attractive Voice" — yours for ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me at this newspaper.

Then you must work to make your voice expressive. One way is to change volume—you must learn how to contrast lullabye softness with ringing tones. Another is to change pitch, to use more of the notes in your vocal range for variety and musical quality. The speed at which you speak and emphasis on meaningful words also helps to make your voice colorful. How to work toward success in all these ways is also in the booklet. Write for it today.

Attention, Please

The person who never really listens to anyone fools no one. She might as well say in so many words that all she really cares about is herself. And if there's any quick route to unpopularity, it's the taking of exactly that attitude. People who ignore you are very hard to like.

You may risk being thought insincere if you say nice things too readily and too often, but there is one way to pay compliments that are always valued, as often as you please. Just pay attention. Full and appreciative attention is a compliment of the best kind. No one can resist it, not as long as it's natural to want to feel important. The attention of an attractive person does make anyone feel important, however fleetingly, and leaves a favorable impression of the attentive one that lasts a long time.

Sometimes the paying attention means sitting down and listening, long and carefully. Another person may really need this from you, perhaps someone in your own family who is feeling unappreciated and whom you can assure and make happy just by being really interested. It may be someone you work with who will gain new confidence and inspiration from evidence of your respect. It may be a friend who simply must talk things out.

More often, the attention you offer can be in passing and take more of your thought than your time. Make it a really interested question about a coworker's vacation, a friend's family, an acquaintance's health, and really listen to the reply. Take a minute more than others do to make your greeting sincere, spend moments with those whom others are less likely to talk to, or who are among strangers.

Never make benefit to you the reason for paying attention, but it will happen anyway — the attention you pay others inevitably means they are more conscious of and appreciative of you.

If your vocal tones are monotonous, few really hear what you say. Learn to make them lively and interesting.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM

You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember, as milestones along the road to greater charm. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

For A Colorful Voice

Anything can be called monotonous, but there's reason that the word stems from monotone, which literally means one tone. Nothing is as monotonous as a monotonous sound—and it may be a flat, colorless voice. Is that what's wrong with your way of speaking? Do you sound as if you repeat one tone over and over?

If this is something you haven't thought of particularly, ask yourself these questions: Am I often asked to repeat what I say? Is it difficult for me to attract attention when I want to talk? Do I have trouble holding attention? Do I often fail at putting over a point?

Yes answers to these questions are unmistakable clues to something wrong. Your voice can't be appealing. It's probably pretty uninteresting and it may be downright monotonous. To change it, you should begin at the beginning with a good analysis of all your voice weaknesses and their proper correction. This you can accomplish yourself with the aid of my booklet, "Your Most Attractive Voice" — yours for ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me at this newspaper.

Then you must work to make your voice expressive. One way is to change volume—you must learn how to contrast lullabye softness with ringing tones. Another is to change pitch, to use more of the notes in your vocal range for variety and musical quality. The speed at which you speak and emphasis on meaningful words also helps to make your voice colorful. How to work toward success in all these ways is also in the booklet. Write for it today.

Attention, Please

The person who never really listens to anyone fools no one. She might as well say in so many words that all she really cares about is herself. And if there's any quick route to unpopularity, it's the taking of exactly that attitude. People who ignore you are very hard to like.

You may risk being thought insincere if you say nice things too readily and too often, but there is one way to pay compliments that are always valued, as often as you please. Just pay attention. Full and appreciative attention is a compliment of the best kind. No one can resist it, not as long as it's natural to want to feel important. The attention of an attractive person does make anyone feel important, however fleetingly, and leaves a favorable impression of the attentive one that lasts a long time.

Sometimes the paying attention means sitting down and listening, long and carefully. Another person may really need this from you, perhaps someone in your own family who is feeling unappreciated and whom you can assure and make happy just by being really interested. It may be someone you work with who will gain new confidence and inspiration from evidence of your respect. It may be a friend who simply must talk things out.

More often, the attention you offer can be in passing and take more of your thought than your time. Make it a really interested question about a coworker's vacation, a friend's family, an acquaintance's health, and really listen to the reply. Take a minute more than others do to make your greeting sincere, spend moments with those whom others are less likely to talk to, or who are among strangers.

Never make benefit to you the reason for paying attention, but it will happen anyway — the attention you pay others inevitably means they are more conscious of and appreciative of you.

If your vocal tones are monotonous, few really hear what you say. Learn to make them lively and interesting.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM

You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember, as milestones along the road to greater charm. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent sad bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Henry Silvious. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and Rev. Groves for his comforting words. To all others who in any manner rendered assistance, we are indeed very grateful.

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent sad bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Henry Silvious. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and Rev. Groves for his comforting words. To all others who in any manner rendered assistance, we are indeed very grateful.

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

U. S. Army
Reserve Training Center
301 South Mechanic Street
Cumberland, Maryland
Telephone: FArkview 2-4404

Market Climbs In Heaviest Trading In Nearly Month

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP) — A confident stock market carved out further gains today in the heaviest trading since June 8.

With steels and aircrafts in the van, pivotal stocks ran ahead from fractions to around 2 points and a few were up nearly 4 points.

Volume rose to 2,240,000 shares compared with 1,840,000 on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.30 to $184.20 for its biggest rise since June 12.

The day's most active stock, Olin-Mathieson, was up 1¾ at 56¾ on 41,000 shares.

Boeing was second most active, up 2½ at 92⅝ on 28,300. Third was U. S. Steel, up 1 at 59 on 27,600. Next came Flintkote, up 1⅛ at 37¾ and Panhandle Oil, up ½ at 19¼.

Bethlehem Steel rose 2¼, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 2 and Republic ¾ as the steels resumed their upward march of Tuesday.

Among aircrafts, General Dynamics and Douglas rose 1½ each and United Aircraft ⅞. DuPont was a 3-point gainer. American Cyanamid, Air Reduction and Union Carbide advanced major fractions while Dow Chemical was ahead 1⅞.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals for Repairs to Locust Grove Bridge, Locust Grove, Md.

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until

JULY 20TH, 1956 at 10:30 A. M. E. D. S.,

by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for fabricating and laying a new steel deck as well as certain other repairs to the Locust Grove Bridge at Locust Grove, Maryland, in accordance with certain General Specifications, dated June 15, 1956, prepared under the direction of the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland.

Said Specifications will be available on and after June 15, 1956, at the office of J.

City Revenue About $30,000 Over Estimate

Drop In Surplus Fund Is Expected

Revenues of the City of Cumberland during the fiscal year which ended June 30 were about $30,000 higher than estimated according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

This is some $6,000 less, however, than the excess of actual revenue over estimated income in the 1954-55 fiscal year.

By next week, bills reflecting last-minute spending by city departments will be posted, and allow officials to learn the amount of surplus which will be on hand to prime the new levy, which must be set by August 25.

There are no indications that the surplus will even be in the neighborhood of the $105,000 which was on hand to start the past fiscal year.

The amount of the surplus will depend upon the some $30,000 of excess collections, and the amount unused from the $1,350,296.81 which was appropriated to operate the various departments of the city.

Here is the general picture on city income for the 1955-56 fiscal year:

Most Increases Slight

General licenses brought in about $2,500 more than the anticipated $60,000.

General and special income is up about $15,000 from the $34,000 estimate used for the levy. The chief factor in the income boost was parking meter revenues, up about $6,000 from expectations.

Meters, Gibson said, brought in about $34,000—not including administrative expenses, as opposed to about $18,000 last year.

The picture is not as bright as it looks, he added, since the previous year's meter income was after some $9,600 was paid for new meters.

An ordinance changing the rate on the most used meters from one cent to five cents was cited as one major reason for the additional income from parking meters.

Interest Is Up

Interest on city taxes was over a few hundred dollars and permits were up about $1,000.

Police fines brought in about $14,000, up about $4,700 from estimated income.

Recreation income, estimated at $12,500, was about $600 short, and bingo taxes a few dollars under the $9,000 figure used in the levy. The city's admission tax on adult admissions was about $280 short.

The city's share of state automobile license fees was about $3,100 short of expectations.

The city's share of another state-collected income, state gas and auto tax, was about $5,700 higher than the estimated $84,000, and the city's share of state income tax was about $260 over the levy estimate.

The city's share from horse racing income was about $1,100 higher than the $48,000 estimate.

The tax levy is expected to bring in about as much as was levied—$1,128,500.

Veterans Honor ESB Office

Benny F. Wilt, commander of Fort Washington Chapter 2, Disabled American Veterans, presents a plaque to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the local Department of Employment Security office, in recognition of the local ESB unit's record for placing disabled veterans in jobs. The local office was awarded the plaque at the recent state convention of the DAV in Ocean City because it had a better record for placing disabled veterans than any other ESB office in the state during 1955. Looking on are (left) Dennis W. Bobo, junior vice commander of the local DAV; (center) Leo McGann, senior vice commander, and (right) George O. Parker, treasurer and adjutant. The office which wins the plaque three times gains permanent possession.

Union Council To Meet Here

The Washington-Baltimore District Council of the Iron Workers will hold its August meeting in Cumberland, according to George E. Clark, business agent of Local 568, Iron Workers Union.

He said the council session will be held August 11 at 7 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Clark said heads of the council have asked all members of the Cumberland local and officials of the Allegany Trades Council to be present.

The Local 568 Executive Board will meet Saturday at 6 p. m. and a membership meeting will follow at 8 p. m.

Court Probates Mrs. King's Will

The will of Mrs. Annie S. King, who was 77 and lived at 424 Grand Avenue at the time of her death June 11, was probated this week in Allegany County Orphans Court.

One son, James T. King, 4 Homestead Avenue, qualified as executor under a $500 bond. Mrs. King left $100 to the pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church for masses, and all the rest of her estate is to be divided jointly among her four sons, James T., Joseph A., Charles V. and Francis P. King, all of this city. The will was dated October 17, 1940.

Steering Gear Fails On Tractor Trailer

The rig, operated by the West Homestead Distribution Company of Homestead, Pa., was traveling south on Cumberland Street. As the driver attempted to turn into Washington Street at the Algonquin Hotel, the tractor continued forward. He stopped it against the walk at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

A mechanic from a local garage made repairs, and the driver, who was not identified, proceeded on his way.

A Better Rat Trap?

Odd Gadgets Described By Patent Office Official

A raincoat equipped with a gutter and a spout which carries the water six inches behind the wearer was only one of a number of unusual patents described by Raymond W. Colton, a Washington, D. C., patent attorney, at the regular meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday at Central YMCA.

Colton told the Kiwanians that he went to work for the Patent Office as an examiner in 1926. Up to that time there had been about 1,800,000 patents since the office was created in 1836. In the past 30 years another 900,000 patents have been issued, bringing the total since the office was organized to 2,700,000.

Among other odd patents described by the attorney were a chewing gum locket, a tapeworm trap, and a rat trap, which fed, watered and deloused the rat before gassing him. Then there was a dating device attached to a hen which would date her eggs as she laid them.

Colton explained that there are two types of patents. One is for utilities and the other for designs such as new silver patterns. Trademarks identified with particular products also are registered for the protection of the owner and certain written articles receive copyrights.

Comparatively few patents are for products which eventually are placed on the market. Colton guessed that not more than one out of every 100 is developed commercially. A person whose application for a patent is rejected by the examiner may appeal to a three-man board within the Patent Office, to the U. S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, or to the U. S. District Court.

Evitts Creek Pumping Unit Is Started

Clearing and other preparatory work toward the construction of the Evitts Creek pumping station, one of the last parts of Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant got under way last week, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The pumping station is the last major unit to be built in connection with the project which will give the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company water of acceptable quality for manufacturing purposes at its North Branch plant.

During the past two weeks, crews of the Moyer Brothers Company, Altoona, Pa., have been erecting walls, pouring concrete and installing equipment in the big pumping station and other structures on the 10-acre site off Offutt Street.

Work done in July is expected to push the work to near 90 per cent of completion—based on work done and the value of equipment on the site.

June Is Busiest Month Of Year For Marriages

June was the year's busiest month so far for marriage licenses issued in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, but the total of 309 was 10 fewer than the 319 sold in June of 1955.

So far in the first six months of 1956, some 1,264 marriage licenses have been sold here, which is just 13 fewer than the 1,277 recorded for the same period a year ago.

The monthly totals with the 1955 figure listed first in each case:

January—180 and 164; February—154 and 165; March—180 and 176; April—223 and 224; May—221 and 226, and June—319 and 309.

Pine Avenue Holds 'What-Not' Contest

A "what not" contest was held yesterday at Pine Avenue playground with winners selected for various exhibits. Prize for the largest collection of "what-nots" went to Carolyn Plummer, who displayed an assortment of 135.

Cynthia Ashby won the prize for the smallest; Martha Broome for the prettiest; Sherry Beard for the most unusual and Charles Keyes for the largest.

Judges were Mrs. Ianta Balls and Mrs. Marcia Allen.

Jean Etta Beckward, playground director said playoffs will be held Monday for juniors, seniors and pigtails in horseshoe pitching; and for peewees, juniors, seniors and pigtails in box hockey. Winners will represent Pine Avenue on Wednesday in intra-city competition with box hockey at Pennsylvania Avenue at 7 p. m. and horseshoes at Consitution Park at 2 p. m.

Porter With A&P For 25 Years

Daniel I. Porter, meat superintendent of the Altoona unit of A&P Food Stores, will observe his 25th anniversary with the firm today.

A graduate of Beall High School, Frostburg, Porter joined the A&P here as a meat cutter when the company operated a store on Centre Street. He now lives at Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Porter was given recognition and enrolled in the company's Quarter Century Club by R. F. Kleinschmidt, vice president in charge of A&P operations in this region.

Appeals Filed In Local Court

A local man, James Fadley, who was found guilty of two separate charges of assault in a trial Tuesday morning before Chief Judge George Henderson and was given a six-month sentence and a year suspended sentence, has filed appeals in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Fadley, who resides at 1414 River Avenue, was placed on parole for three years on the suspended sentence. The parole would begin after he has served the six months.

Bennie Davis of the Swanton area has also filed an appeal. He was charged with disorderly conduct and having a concealed weapon (a .22 calibre pistol) on his person at Riverside Lunch, Westernport, on June 22. At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Carl W. Shaffer, he waived a jury trial, was found guilty and was sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction.

Edwin H. Horchler is attorney for Davis, who was arrested by Richard Householder, police officer of Westernport.

Butterfly Exhibit Wins Hobby Show

Other prizes awarded were to Richard Nuzum for his gun collection, as the most unusual; Kathleen Black, original drawings, most original hobby in the show; Sally Creegan, embroidery, most profitable, and Linda Gunter, with her dolls made from milk filters, the prettiest display in the show.

Board Studies Suggestions For Rec Sites

The City Recreation Board last night discussed the possibility of acquiring a number of sites suitable for recreation within the city limits.

The sites, according to Robert E. Pence, recreation director, were those suggested by Mayor Roy W. Eves in a letter to Chief Judge George Henderson, outlining his reasons for casting the deciding vote against the acquisition of Southview Addition.

The mayor had said there were possibilities for a full-scale ball field between Valley Road and Furnace Street, that the Feeney Farm might be sucured and there are two areas on McNamee's Hill which might be developed.

He also pointed out that the old Community Ball Park may be available at a negligible cost after the flood control project is completed.

Judge Upholds Decision In Silicosis Case

In an opinion filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court, Chief Judge George Henderson upheld a decision of the State Accident Fund in an appeal by a miner who claimed he contracted silicosis while working in a coal mine.

George Duncan, through his attorney, Clarence Lippel, filed the appeal against the McNitt Coal Company and the State Accident Fund.

The State Industrial Accident Commission handed down a decision that Duncan did not contract an occupational disease within the meaning and terms of the occupational disease law.

The decision was an affirmation of the findings of the Medical Board. The claimant appealed his case to Allegany County Circuit Court and the basis of his appeal was that there was no evidence to support the board in its findings:

(1) The claimant "is suffering from arteriosclerotic heart disease which is not related to his occupation" and (2) that there is no evidence to indicate his disease is due to silicosis.

Duncan argued that the interpretation by the Medical Board of the X-Ray photos, filed on behalf of the claimant may not be considered a part of the record; that therefore there was no legal evidence which permitted the board to say the lungs were clear, when two local physicians had found "possible slight silicosis," and "early silicosis," nor to diagnose his trouble as "arteriosclerotic heart disease which is not related to his occupation" when his attending physician had diganosed his heart disability as having been caused by his silicosis.

The court ruling disallowed his claims.

Games Party Planned

West Side Playground will hold a games party today at 8 p. m. The event was scheduled last night but postponed because of rain.

Scheduled next week at West Side Playground are movies Monday at dusk, a stuffed animal show Tuesday at 7 p. m., followed by a teen-age dance and a games party Thursday at 7 p. m.

51 4-H Boys Preparing For Garrett Co. Camp

At least 51 boys of 4-H Clubs in Allegany County plan to attend summer camp next week at the University of Maryland Western Maryland 4-H Centre in Garrett County.

Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent, said yesterday that about 75 boys from Allegany Garrett and Washington counties are expected to attend.

Steger will take the necessary food to the camp site, where it will be prepared by Mrs. Edith Lechliter, of Cresaptown and Mrs. Nola Smith of Flintstone.

Camp director is James McHenry, assistant farm agent of Garrett County.

Rifle markmanship will be in charge of Merritt Pope, assistant farm agent of Washington County, while Fred Gero will be in charge of swimming instructions. Gero is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and has completed the Red Cross lifesaving course. George Wood of Washington County will show the campers the art of handicraft.

Steger pointed out that there will be hiking and swimming as well as sports and waterfront activities.

Ridgeley Councilman Quits Post

Davis Replaces W. M. Cornelius

Ridgeley Councilman W. Merle Cornelius, who headed the town's police department, has resigned from the Council because of ill health.

Cornelius' resignation was accepted with regret at the Tuesday night meeting of the Council.

Herbert W. Davis was sworn in to replace Cornelius as a member of the Council, and will head the finance department. Mrs. Lenora Turner, town recorder, said Davis automatically became next in line for the vacancy when he polled the highest number of votes among defeated candidates at the last general election.

Councilman Robert W. Zimmerman, who has been in charge of the finance department, moved into the police vacancy created by Cornelius' resignation.

Flood Control Aired

In other action at the meeting:

Mayor Charles Fryer and Councilman William Mickey reported on a flood control conference which they had on Monday with officials of the Army Corps of Engineers at Washington. The Council also discussed conditions of the open gates and conduits in the town.

Police Chief Harry Detrick and Assistant Chief Blair Haines reported that $125 in arrest fines were collected in the community during the month of June.

Assistant Chief Haines reported that he assisted local police in locating a Wiley Ford family to notify them of a death. He also notified three families to clean up debris from their properties.

He assisted West Virginia State Police in investigating two auto accidents and also assisted Cumberland police in an attempt to locate a runaway girl.

Payroll Approved

The Mayor and Council accepted and approved the applications of the salaried employes of the community for the coming year. Mayor Fryer thanked the council and employes for their cooperation in the past year.

Youngsters of Ridgeley were reminded to register their bicycles with the Police Department. The campaign is to further the safety program of the cyclists in the community. Information also is useful in the base of a lost bike.

Waste receptacles purchased by the Lions Club of Ridgeley were accepted during the meeting and have been distributed at various points in the community by the Lions and Charles Coffman Sr., superintendent of streets.

Members of the Lions Club attended Tuesday's meeting.

Many Septic Tanks Are Being Installed

The Allegany County Health Department supervised the installation of 50 septic tanks during May, according to a report by J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian.

Permits were issued during the month for a number of other home sewage systems which are planned or in the process of construction.

The septic tank work required about a fourth of the 404 visits made by the sanitarians while checking health problems in the county.

Workers collected for analysis 129 water, 266 milk and four food samples, and made 73 swab tests to check on equipment used in food and drink establishments.

Garrett County Is Getting New State Park Area

Completion Expected By Next Summer

Garrett County is getting a new state park, which is now in the early construction stage.

William H. Johnson, district forester, yesterday said the area, which will cover from 1,200 to 1,500 acres, will be known as Deep Creek State Park and will be located along the lake front between Meadow Mountain Run inlet and Cherry Creek inlet just opposite Cabin Lodge.

Crews employed by the Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks have been working at the site for about a month and have been clearing the area for parking facilities.

Road To Be Built

The Garret County Board of Commissioners last week let a contract for construction of an access road which will be about seven-tenths of a mile long.

Johnson pointed out that improvements to the land will cost about $62,000. Some of the facilities will be completed by the end of this summer and the entire park is expected to be ready for use by next summer.

Lumber for picnic tables has been ordered and should be received in the near future. Johnson said there will be some 100 picnic tables and 50 fireplaces for the convenience of the public.

He said there will be about three-quarters of a mile of shore front. An area has been cleared in preparation for a comfort station, and tile field work soon will get under way.

Bathhouse, Beach Work Planned

A self-service bathhouse is expected to be constructed in the near future. There will be two parking areas at the site and a contract has been let for grading the areas.

Funds have been made available to clean up the beach for swimmers. The work will be done this fall when the water level of the lake drops.

Provisions will be made for hiking, swimming, boating and picnicking, as well as tent camping. The state park is being built in the county as a result of the urgent need for the recreation site, Johnson added.

This is the first state park to be established in Garrett County, although there are three recreation areas — New Germany, Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor.

Allegany County has a state park on Dan's Mountain.

Job Stewards Serving As Safety Men

Job stewards are serving as safety proctors for Local 568, Iron Workers Union during the construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7, according to George E. Clark, business agent.

They are Paul Flanagan, job steward on American Bridge Company construction; Virgil Dyer, Hinkle Brothers; Earl Wonders, Reading Steel, and Richard Ryan, Stettler Steel.

Clark said the proctors are in charge of the safety program for the crews to which they are assigned.

The job stewards, he said, report to Earl Slider and Paul C. Northcraft, who have been named full-time safety supervisors during the construction of the $34,000,000 plate glass plant at North Branch.

Clark said the above system is the one the Iron Workers use on all jobs.

The Iron Workers, he added, have not had a lost-time accident during the big building job, in spite of the fact that the craft is considered one of the most hazardous in the construction industry.

Feature Problem

Due to circumstances beyond our control, several regular features of The Cumberland News do not appear in this morning's issue. The difficulty should be worked out soon.

ROBERT BOWER

Third Victim Of Flash Fire At PPG Dies

Robert Monroe Bower, 20, of Morgantown, W. Va., is the third fatality of the July 19 flash fire at the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant site at North Branch.

Bower had been in critical condition at Memorial Hospital since the fire which claimed the lives of Russell Hendricks, 42, of RD 1, Keyser, and George Wolfe, 29, of Ellerslie. He died Tuesday night.

Six other men remain in Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in the early morning blaze. The tenth man hurt has returned to his home.

Bower, a native of Morgantown, is a son of Harley O. and Donna (Srull) Bower of Ridgeley. While working here young Bower had been living in Ridgeley.

He was married four months before his death. His wife, Mrs. Leah Ray (Hughes) Bower, also is a native of Morgantown.

He was a member of the Methodist Church of Morgantown.

Besides his parents and widow, he is survived by two brothers, Harley O. and Larry A. Bower, both of Morgantown.

The body is at the Fred L. Jenkins Funeral Home in Morgantown where services will be conducted today at 3:30 p. m. Interment will be in Morgantown.

Bower's death marked the fourth fatality that has occurred on the job within the past two months. Besides Wolfe and Hendricks, William H. Legas, 36, of RD 3, Meyersdale, was killed in a fall at the plant on May 23.

Legas died in Memorial Hospital shortly after the fall. He struck his head on a water pump in the fall.

The fatal fire at the plant on June 19 was caused when a heater, fed by bottled gas, exploded while the workmen were dressing for work.

Cause of the accident has never been determined, but a company spokesman at the time said it was likely that a human error caused the fire, although it was not learned what touched off the gas.

Following the fire union officials met with officials of the company and agreed to hire two full-time safety superintendents.

Other men still patients in Memorial Hospital are Kenneth Valentine, 46, of 618 Maplewood Lane; Douglas May, 46, of 715 Sylvan Avenue; Leo V. Mills, 42, of RD 1, Ridgeley; Clarence B. Fosnight, 54, of 103 17th Street, Front Royal, Va.; Robert M. Weller, 45, Hagerstown, and Carl Bird, 51, of Christiansburg, Va.

Hospital attaches list Valentine's condition as still "critical."

Playground Has Pet Show

Five prizes were awarded in a pet show held yesterday at the Thomas S. Post Playground.

Winners were Linda Stemple, largest; Mitchell Durst, smallest; Frank Summerkamp, prettiest; Bill Johns, most unusual and Shirlanne Swick, oldest.

Judges were Carolee Kissner, Nina Parker and Georgia Kissner.

Next week's schedule at Post Playground includes:

Monday, softball practice and finals in hockey and horseshoes in the morning, handicrafts and play in the afternoon and blacktop games in the evening.

Tuesday, softball and finals in hockey and horseshoes in the morning, handicraft in the afternoon and a button show and movies at night.

Wednesday, softball practice in the morning, horseshoe tournament at Constitution Park at 2 p. m. and the box hockey tournament at Penn Avenue field at 7 p. m.

Thursday, softball practice and quiet games during the day and an on-wheels parade and movies at night.

Friday activities will include blacktop games, handicraft classes, story telling.

Man Given Hearing On Larceny Charge

A Klondike man, Franklin Cutter, pleaded guilty to charges of petty larceny yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick deferred sentencing pending a report from the FBI.

Violent Rain, Thunderstorm Drenches Area

Bolt Of Lightning Hits In South End

Mother Nature apparently had a few fireworks left over from the Fourth of July—and put them to use last night in the force of a violent thunderstorm with a drenching rain in the Cumberland area.

Lightning was blamed for a fire in a television set at a South End residence. Firemen from South End station received a call at 7:57 p. m. from 419 Williams Street.

The occupant of the residence, Mrs. A. W. Resser, said her television set was smoking. Firemen said the probable cause was a lightning bolt which apparently hit the antenna during the storm.

Half-Inch Of Rain

Over half an inch of rain fell in Cumberland yesterday. Robert R. Golden, official weather observer at Constitution Park, pointed out there was a slight drizzle yesterday morning but the bulk of the rain fell last night in the storm which began about 7:50 p. m.

The subwaps on Wineow Street and Greene Street were flooded by the heavy downpour.

Water was running curb-to-curb in Romney, W. Va., after a heavy rain, accompanied by lightning, hit Hampshire County early last night.

The West Virginia State Police barracks at Romney reported the emergency power system kicked on several times during the storm as lightning flashed through the sky.

Rain was still falling in the Romney area at 8:30 p. m. (EST).

Showers Forecast

Golden said the official high temperature yesterday was 79 degrees and the low 65 degrees. Unofficial readings in downtown Cumberland were 83 degreees about 5 p. m., dipping to 70 degrees during the storm.

Rather cloudy skies with scattered thundershowers are in store for today, according to the weatherman, who said the high temperature will be in the 80s.

Similar weather is forecast for nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Homeopath Says He Has No Tie With Examiners

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — Dr Alexander Mozzer of Cumberland notified the Circuit Court today he has no connection with a disputed board of homeopathic medical examiners.

An injunction against operation of the board has been granted and a hearing is pending.

Eight doctors were named in the injunction which was obtained by the attorney general.

Dr. Mozzer asked for his name to be stricken since he has never purported to act as a member of the board and submitted his resignation June 1.

The board was set up by Dr. Robert H. Reddick who was dismissed by the regular board. Reddick called a meeting of other homeopaths and claimed he was elected secretary-treasurer, the same position from which he was dismissed, and Dr. Simon Virkutis as president.

It is alleged by the attorney general that they have continued to give examinations and grant licenses.

James H. Norris, special assistant attorney general, said today that two persons licensed by Reddick and Virkutis have applied to the county clerks of Dorchester and Caroline counties for registration to practice.

Norris said he has advised the clerks not to register them.

In addition to the pending court case, the Legislative Council has scheduled a hearing for July 17 on the dispute among the homeopaths.

Allegheny Airlines Gets Safety Award

Allegheny Airlines has again been awarded the Aviation Safety Award by the National Safety Council for completing another year without a passenger or crew fatality.

Since inaugurating passenger services in 1949, Allegheny has flown over 1,462,000 passengers more than 218,698,000 passenger miles without an accident.

In announcing the award, the National Safety Council stated that 40 United States scheduled domestic and territorial airlines had qualified for the Aviation Safety Award in 1955 for one of the best safety records in the industry's history.

Members of the National Safety Council Aviation Award Committee are Lt. General James H. Doolittle and Harry F. Guggenheim.

Beer Permit Granted

Calvin A. Landis, who has a place of business along the McCoole-Westernport road, has been issued a Class A beer license by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

The Cadillac Liquor Store Inc., 25-29 North Mechanic Street, has applied for a Class D beer, wine and liquor license.

City Revenue About $30,000 Over Estimate

Drop In Surplus Fund Is Expected

Revenues of the City of Cumberland during the fiscal year which ended June 30 were about $30,000 higher than estimated according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

This is some $6,000 less, however, than the excess of actual revenue over estimated income in the 1954-55 fiscal year.

By next week, bills reflecting last-minute spending by city departments will be posted, and allow officials to learn the amount of surplus which will be on hand to prime the new levy, which must be set by August 25.

There are no indications that the surplus will even be in the neighborhood of the $105,000 which was on hand to start the past fiscal year.

The amount of the surplus will depend upon the some $30,000 of excess collections, and the amount unused from the $1,350,296.81 which was appropriated to operate the various departments of the city.

Here is the general picture on city income for the 1955-56 fiscal year:

Most Increases Slight

General licenses brought in about $2,500 more than the anticipated $60,000.

General and special income is up about $15,000 from the $34,000 estimate used for the levy. The chief factor in the income boost was parking meter revenues, up about $6,000 from expectations.

Meters, Gibson said, brought in about $34,000—not including administrative expenses, as opposed to about $18,000 last year.

The picture is not as bright as it looks, he added, since the previous year's meter income was after some $9,600 was paid for new meters.

An ordinance changing the rate on the most used meters from one cent to five cents was cited as one major reason for the additional income from parking meters.

Interest Is Up

Interest on city taxes was over a few hundred dollars and permits were up about $1,000.

Police fines brought in about $14,000, up about $4,700 from estimated income.

Recreation income, estimated at $12,500, was about $600 short, and bingo taxes a few dollars under the $9,000 figure used in the levy. The city's admission tax on adult admissions was about $280 short.

The city's share of state automobile license fees was about $3,100 short of expectations.

The city's share of another state-collected income, state gas and auto tax, was about $5,700 higher than the estimated $84,000, and the city's share of state income tax was about $260 over the levy estimate.

The city's share from horse racing income was about $1,100 higher than the $48,000 estimate.

The tax levy is expected to bring in about as much as was levied—$1,128,500.

Veterans Honor ESB Office

Benny F. Wilt, commander of Fort Washington Chapter 2, Disabled American Veterans, presents a plaque to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the local Department of Employment Security office, in recognition of the local ESB unit's record for placing disabled veterans in jobs. The local office was awarded the plaque at the recent state convention of the DAV in Ocean City because it had a better record for placing disabled veterans than any other ESB office in the state during 1955. Looking on are (left) Dennis W. Bobo, junior vice commander of the local DAV; (center) Leo McGann, senior vice commander, and (right) George O. Parker, treasurer and adjutant. The office which wins the plaque three times gains permanent possession.

A Better Rat Trap?

Odd Gadgets Described By Patent Office Official

A raincoat equipped with a gutter and a spout which carries the water six inches behind the wearer was only one of a number of unusual patents described by Raymond W. Colton, a Washington, D. C., patent attorney, at the regular meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday at Central YMCA.

Colton told the Kiwanians that he went to work for the Patent Office as an examiner in 1926. Up to that time there had been about 1,800,000 patents since the office was created in 1836. In the past 30 years another 900,000 patents have been issued, bringing the total since the office was organized to 2,700,000.

Among other odd patents described by the attorney were a chewing gum locket, a tapeworm trap, and a rat trap, which fed, watered and deloused the rat before gassing him. Then there was a dating device attached to a hen which would date her eggs as she laid them.

Colton explained that there are two types of patents. One is for utilities and the other for designs such as new silver patterns. Trademarks identified with particular products also are registered for the protection of the owner and certain written articles receive copyrights.

Comparatively few patents are for products which eventually are placed on the market. Colton guessed that not more than one out of every 100 is developed commercially. A person whose application for a patent is rejected by the examiner may appeal to a three-man board within the Patent Office, to the U. S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, or to the U. S. District Court.

Evitts Creek Pumping Unit Is Started

Clearing and other preparatory work toward the construction of the Evitts Creek pumping station, one of the last parts of Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant got under way last week, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The pumping station is the last major unit to be built in connection with the project which will give the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company water of acceptable quality for manufacturing purposes at its North Branch plant.

During the past two weeks, crews of the Moyer Brothers Company, Altoona, Pa., have been erecting walls, pouring concrete and installing equipment in the big pumping station and other structures on the 10-acre site off Offutt Street.

Work done in July is expected to push the work to near 90 per cent of completion—based on work done and the value of equipment on the site.

June Is Busiest Month Of Year For Marriages

June was the year's busiest month so far for marriage licenses issued in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, but the total of 309 was 10 fewer than the 319 sold in June of 1955.

So far in the first six months of 1956, some 1,264 marriage licenses have been sold here, which is just 13 fewer than the 1,277 recorded for the same period a year ago.

The monthly totals with the 1955 figure listed first in each case:

January—180 and 164; February—154 and 165; March—180 and 176; April—223 and 224; May—221 and 226, and June—319 and 309.

Pine Avenue Holds 'What-Not' Contest

A "what not" contest was held yesterday at Pine Avenue playground with winners selected for various exhibits. Prize for the largest collection of "what-nots" went to Carolyn Plummer, who displayed an assortment of 135.

Cynthia Ashby won the prize for the smallest; Martha Broome for the prettiest; Sherry Beard for the most unusual and Charles Keyes for the largest.

Judges were Mrs. Ianta Balls and Mrs. Marcia Allen.

Jean Etta Beckward, playground director said playoffs will be held Monday for juniors, seniors and pigtails in horseshoe pitching; and for peewees, juniors, seniors and pigtails in box hockey. Winners will represent Pine Avenue on Wednesday in intra-city competition with box hockey at Pennsylvania Avenue at 7 p. m. and horseshoes at Consitution Park at 2 p. m.

Porter With A&P For 25 Years

Daniel I. Porter, meat superintendent of the Altoona unit of A&P Food Stores, will observe his 25th anniversary with the firm today.

A graduate of Beall High School, Frostburg, Porter joined the A&P here as a meat cutter when the company operated a store on Centre Street. He now lives at Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Porter was given recognition and enrolled in the company's Quarter Century Club by R. F. Kleinschmidt, vice president in charge of A&P operations in this region.

Union Council To Meet Here

The Washington-Baltimore District Council of the Iron Workers will hold its August meeting in Cumberland, according to George E. Clark, business agent of Local 568, Iron Workers Union.

He said the council session will be held August 11 at 7 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Clark said heads of the council have asked all members of the Cumberland local and officials of the Allegany Trades Council to be present.

The Local 568 Executive Board will meet Saturday at 6 p. m. and a membership meeting will follow at 8 p. m.

Court Probates Mrs. King's Will

The will of Mrs. Annie S. King, who was 77 and lived at 424 Grand Avenue at the time of her death June 11, was probated this week in Allegany County Orphans Court.

One son, James T. King, 4 Homestead Avenue, qualified as executor under a $500 bond. Mrs. King left $100 to the pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church for masses, and all the rest of her estate is to be divided jointly among her four sons, James T., Joseph A., Charles V. and Francis P. King, all of this city. The will was dated October 17, 1940.

Steering Gear Fails On Tractor Trailer

A large tractor-trailer loaded with beer tied up traffic last night for about half an hour at the west end of Baltimore Street bridge when trouble developed with the tractor's steering apparatus.

The rig, operated by the West Homestead Distribution Company of Homestead, Pa., was traveling south on Cumberland Street. As the driver attempted to turn into Washington Street at the Algonquin Hotel, the tractor continued forward. He stopped it against the walk at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

A mechanic from a local garage made repairs, and the driver, who was not identified, proceeded on his way.

Board Studies Suggestions For Rec Sites

The City Recreation Board last night discussed the possibility of acquiring a number of sites suitable for recreation within the city limits.

The sites, according to Robert E. Pence, recreation director, were those suggested by Mayor Roy W. Eves in a letter to Chief Judge George Henderson, outlining his reasons for casting the deciding vote against the acquisition of Southview Addition.

The mayor had said there were possibilities for a full-scale ball field between Valley Road and Furnace Street, that the Feeney Farm might be sucured and there are two areas on McNamee's Hill which might be developed.

He also pointed out that the old Community Ball Park may be available at a negligible cost after the flood control project is completed.

Judge Upholds Decision In Silicosis Case

In an opinion filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court, Chief Judge George Henderson upheld a decision of the State Accident Fund in an appeal by a miner who claimed he contracted silicosis while working in a coal mine.

George Duncan, through his attorney, Clarence Lippel, filed the appeal against the McNitt Coal Company and the State Accident Fund.

The State Industrial Accident Commission handed down a decision that Duncan did not contract an occupational disease within the meaning and terms of the occupational disease law.

The decision was an affirmation of the findings of the Medical Board. The claimant appealed his case to Allegany County Circuit Court and the basis of his appeal was that there was no evidence to support the board in its findings: (1) The claimant "is suffering from arteriosclerotic heart disease which is not related to his occupation" and (2) that there is no evidence to indicate his disease is due to silicosis.

Duncan argued that the interpretation by the Medical Board of the X-Ray photos, filed on behalf of the claimant may not be considered a part of the record; that therefore there was no legal evidence which permitted the board to say the lungs were clear, when two local physicians had found "possible slight silicosis," and "early silicosis," nor to diagnose his trouble as "arteriosclerotic heart disease which is not related to his occupation" when his attending physician had diganosed his heart disability as having been caused by his silicosis.

The court ruling disallowed his claims.

Appeals Filed In Local Court

A local man, James Fadley, who was found guilty of two separate charges of assault in a trial Tuesday morning before Chief Judge George Henderson and was given a six-month sentence and a year suspended sentence, has filed appeals in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Fadley, who resides at 1414 River Avenue, was placed on parole for three years on the suspended sentence. The parole would begin after he has served the six months.

Bennie Davis of the Swanton area has also filed an appeal. He was charged with disorderly conduct and having a concealed weapon (a .22 calibre pistol) on his person at Riverside Lunch, Westernport, on June 22. At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Carl W. Shaffer, he waived a jury trial, was found guilty and was sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction.

Edwin H. Horchler is attorney for Davis, who was arrested by Richard Householder, police officer of Westernport.

Butterfly Exhibit Wins Hobby Show

Other prizes awarded were to Richard Nuzum for his gun collection, as the most unusual; Kathleen Black, original drawings, most original hobby in the show; Sally Creegan, embroidery, most profitable, and Linda Gunter, with her dolls made from milk filters, the prettiest display in the show.

Games Party Planned

West Side Playground will hold a games party today at 8 p. m. The event was scheduled last night but postponed because of rain.

Scheduled next week at West Side Playground are movies Monday at dusk, a stuffed animal show Tuesday at 7 p. m., followed by a teen-age dance and a games party Thursday at 7 p. m.

51 4-H Boys Preparing For Garrett Co. Camp

At least 51 boys of 4-H Clubs in Allegany County plan to attend summer camp next week at the University of Maryland Western Maryland 4-H Centre in Garrett County.

Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent, said yesterday that about 75 boys from Allegany Garrett and Washington counties are expected to attend.

Steger will take the necessary food to the camp site, where it will be prepared by Mrs. Edith Lechliter, of Cresaptown and Mrs. Nola Smith of Flintstone.

Camp director is James McHenry, assistant farm agent of Garrett County.

Rifle markmanship will be in charge of Merritt Pope, assistant farm agent of Washington County, while Fred Gero will be in charge of swimming instructions. Gero is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and has completed the Red Cross lifesaving course. George Wood of Washington County will show the campers the art of handicraft.

Steger pointed out that there will be hiking and swimming as well as sports and waterfront activities.

Ridgeley Councilman Quits Post

Davis Replaces W. M. Cornelius

Ridgeley Councilman W. Merle Cornelius, who headed the town's police department, has resigned from the Council because of ill health.

Cornelius' resignation was accepted with regret at the Tuesday night meeting of the Council.

Herbert W. Davis was sworn in to replace Cornelius as a member of the Council, and will head the finance department. Mrs. Lenora Turner, town recorder, said Davis automatically became next in line for the vacancy when he polled the highest number of votes among defeated candidates at the last general election.

Councilman Robert W. Zimmerman, who has been in charge of the finance department, moved into the police vacancy created by Cornelius' resignation.

Flood Control Aired

In other action at the meeting:

Mayor Charles Fryer and Councilman William Mickey reported on a flood control conference which they had on Monday with officials of the Army Corps of Engineers at Washington. The Council also discussed conditions of the open gates and conduits in the town.

Police Chief Harry Detrick and Assistant Chief Blair Haines reported that $125 in arrest fines were collected in the community during the month of June.

Assistant Chief Haines reported that he assisted local police in locating a Wiley Ford family to notify them of a death. He also notified three families to clean up debris from their properties.

He assisted West Virginia State Police in investigating two auto accidents and also assisted Cumberland police in an attempt to locate a runaway girl.

Payroll Approved

The Mayor and Council accepted and approved the applications of the salaried employes of the community for the coming year. Mayor Fryer thanked the council and employes for their cooperation in the past year.

Youngsters of Ridgeley were reminded to register their bicycles with the Police Department. The campaign is to further the safety program of the cyclists in the community. Information also is useful in the base of a lost bike.

Waste receptacles purchased by the Lions Club of Ridgeley were accepted during the meeting and have been distributed at various points in the community by the Lions and Charles Coffman Sr., superintendent of streets.

Members of the Lions Club attended Tuesday's meeting.

Many Septic Tanks Are Being Installed

The Allegany County Health Department supervised the installation of 50 septic tanks during May, according to a report by J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian.

Permits were issued during the month for a number of other home sewage systems which are planned or in the process of construction.

The septic tank work required about a fourth of the 404 visits made by the sanitarians while checking health problems in the county.

Workers collected for analysis 129 water, 266 milk and four food samples, and made 73 swab tests to check on equipment used in food and drink establishments.

Garrett County Is Getting New State Park Area

Completion Expected By Next Summer

Garrett County is getting a new state park, which is now in the early construction stage.

William H. Johnson, district forester, yesterday said the area, which will cover from 1,200 to 1,500 acres, will be known as Deep Creek State Park and will be located along the lake front between Meadow Mountain Run inlet and Cherry Creek inlet just opposite Cabin Lodge.

Crews employed by the Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks have been working at the site for about a month and have been clearing the area for parking facilities.

Road To Be Built

The Garret County Board of Commissioners last week let a contract for construction of an access road which will be about seven-tenths of a mile long.

Johnson pointed out that improvements to the land will cost about $62,000. Some of the facilities will be completed by the end of this summer and the entire park is expected to be ready for use by next summer.

Lumber for picnic tables has been ordered and should be received in the near future. Johnson said there will be some 100 picnic tables and 50 fireplaces for the convenience of the public.

He said there will be about three-quarters of a mile of shore front. An area has been cleared in preparation for a comfort station, and tile field work soon will get under way.

Bathhouse, Beach Work Planned

A self-service bathhouse is expected to be constructed in the near future. There will be two parking areas at the site and a contract has been let for grading the areas.

Funds have been made available to clean up the beach for swimmers. The work will be done this fall when the water level of the lake drops.

Provisions will be made for hiking, swimming, boating and picnicking, as well as tent camping. The state park is being built in the county as a result of the urgent need for the recreation site, Johnson added.

This is the first state park to be established in Garrett County, although there are three recreation areas — New Germany, Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor.

Allegany County has a state park on Dan's Mountain.

Job Stewards Serving As Safety Men

Job stewards are serving as safety proctors for Local 568, Iron Workers Union during the construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7, according to George E. Clark, business agent.

They are Paul Flanagan, job steward on American Bridge Company construction; Virgil Dyer, Hinkle Brothers; Earl Wonders, Reading Steel, and Richard Ryan, Stettler Steel.

Clark said the proctors are in charge of the safety program for the crews to which they are assigned.

The job stewards, he said, report to Earl Slider and Paul C. Northcraft, who have been named full-time safety supervisors during the construction of the $34,000,000 plate glass plant at North Branch.

Clark said the above system is the one the Iron Workers use on all jobs.

The Iron Workers, he added, have not had a lost-time accident during the big building job, in spite of the fact that the craft is considered one of the most hazardous in the construction industry.

Feature Problem

Due to circumstances beyond our control, several regular features of The Cumberland News do not appear in this morning's issue. The difficulty should be worked out soon.

ROBERT BOWER

Third Victim Of Flash Fire At PPG Dies

Robert Monroe Bower, 20, of Morgantown, W. Va., is the third fatality of the June 19 flash fire at the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant site at North Branch.

Bower had been in critical condition at Memorial Hospital since the fire which claimed the lives of Russell Hendricks, 42, of RD 1, Keyser, and George Wolfe, 29, of Ellerslie. He died Tuesday night.

Six other men remain in Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in the early morning blaze. The tenth man hurt has returned to his home.

Bower, a native of Morgantown, is a son of Harley O. and Donna (Srull) Bower of Ridgeley. While working here young Bower had been living in Ridgeley.

He was married four months before his death. His wife, Mrs. Leah Ray (Hughes) Bower, also is a native of Morgantown.

He was a member of the Methodist Church of Morgantown.

Besides his parents and widow, he is survived by two brothers, Harley O. and Larry A. Bower, both of Morgantown.

The body is at the Fred L. Jenkins Funeral Home in Morgantown where services will be conducted today at 3:30 p. m. Interment will be in Morgantown.

Bower's death marked the fourth fatality that has occurred on the job within the past two months. Besides Wolfe and Hendricks, William H. Legas, 36, of RD 3, Meyersdale, was killed in a fall at the plant on May 23.

Legas died in Memorial Hospital shortly after the fall. He struck his head on a water pump in the fall.

The fatal fire at the plant on June 19 was caused when a heater, fed by bottled gas, exploded while the workmen were dressing for work.

Cause of the accident has never been determined, but a company spokesman at the time said it was likely that a human error caused the fire, although it was not learned what touched off the gas.

Following the fire union officials met with officials of the company and agreed to hire two full-time safety superintendents.

Other men still patients in Memorial Hospital are Kenneth Valentine, 46, of 618 Maplewood Lane; Douglas May, 46, of 715 Sylvan Avenue; Leo V. Mills, 42, of RD 1, Ridgeley; Clarence B. Fosnight, 54, of 103 17th Street, Front Royal, Va.; Robert M. Weller, 45, Hagerstown, and Carl Bird, 51, of Christiansburg, Va.

Hospital attaches list Valentine's condition as still "critical."

Playground Has Pet Show

Five prizes were awarded in a pet show held yesterday at the Thomas S. Post Playground.

Winners were Linda Stemple, largest; Mitchell Durst, smallest; Frank Summerkamp, prettiest; Bill Johns, most unusual and Shirlanne Swick, oldest.

Judges were Carolee Kissner, Nina Parker and Georgia Kissner.

Next week's schedule at Post Playground includes:

Monday, softball practice and finals in hockey and horseshoes in the morning, handicrafts and play in the afternoon and blacktop games in the evening.

Tuesday, softball and finals in hockey and horseshoes in the morning, handicraft in the afternoon and a button show and movies at night.

Wednesday, softball practice in the morning, horseshoe tournament at Constitution Park at 2 p. m. and the box hockey tournament at Penn Avenue field at 7 p. m.

Thursday, softball practice and quiet games during the day and an on-wheels parade and movies at night.

Man Given Hearing On Larceny Charge

A Klondike man, Franklin Cutter, pleaded guilty to charges of petty larceny yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick deferred sentencing pending a report from the FBI.

Violent Rain, Thunderstorm Drenches Area

Bolt Of Lightning Hits In South End

Mother Nature apparently had a few fireworks left over from the Fourth of July—and put them to use last night in the force of a violent thunderstorm with a drenching rain in the Cumberland area.

Lightning was blamed for a fire in a television set at a South End residence. Firemen from South End station received a call at 7:57 p. m. from 419 Williams Street.

The occupant of the residence, Mrs. A. W. Resser, said her television set was smoking. Firemen said the probable cause was a lightning bolt which apparently hit the antenna during the storm.

Half-Inch Of Rain

Over half an inch of rain fell in Cumberland yesterday. Robert R. Golden, official weather observer at Constitution Park, pointed out there was a slight drizzle yesterday morning but the bulk of the rain fell last night in the storm which began about 7:50 p. m.

The subwaps on Wineow Street and Greene Street were flooded by the heavy downpour.

Water was running curb-to-curb in Romney, W. Va., after a heavy rain, accompanied by lightning, hit Hampshire County early last night.

The West Virginia State Police barracks at Romney reported the emergency power system kicked on several times during the storm as lightning flashed through the sky.

Rain was still falling in the Romney area at 8:30 p. m. (EST).

Showers Forecast

Golden said the official high temperature yesterday was 79 degrees and the low 65 degrees. Unofficial readings in downtown Cumberland were 83 degreees about 5 p. m., dipping to 70 degrees during the storm.

Rather cloudy skies with scattered thundershowers are in store for today, according to the weatherman, who said the high temperature will be in the 80s.

Similar weather is forecast for nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Homeopath Says He Has No Tie With Examiners

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP) — Dr Alexander Mozzer of Cumberland notified the Circuit Court today he has no connection with a disputed board of homeopathic medical examiners.

An injunction against operation of the board has been granted and a hearing is pending.

Eight doctors were named in the injunction which was obtained by the attorney general.

Dr. Mozzer asked for his name to be stricken since he has never purported to act as a member of the board and submitted his resignation June 1.

The board was set up by Dr. Robert H. Reddick who was dismissed by the regular board. Reddick called a meeting of other homeopaths and claimed he was elected secretary-treasurer, the same position from which he was dismissed, and Dr. Simon Virkutis as president.

It is alleged by the attorney general that they have continued to give examinations and grant licenses.

James H. Norris, special assistant attorney general, said today that two persons licensed by Reddick and Virkutis have applied to the county clerks of Dorchester and Caroline counties for registration to practice.

Norris said he has advised the clerks not to register them.

In addition to the pending court case, the Legislative Council has scheduled a hearing for July 17 on the dispute among the homeopaths.

Allegheny Airlines Gets Safety Award

Allegheny Airlines has again been awarded the Aviation Safety Award by the National Safety Council for completing another year without a passenger or crew fatality.

Since inaugurating passenger services in 1949, Allegheny has flown over 1,462,000 passengers more than 218,698,000 passenger miles without an accident.

In announcing the award, the National Safety Council stated that 40 United States scheduled domestic and territorial airlines had qualified for the Aviation Safety Award in 1955 for one of the best safety records in the industry's history.

Members of the National Safety Council Aviation Award Committee are Lt. General James H. Doolittle and Harry F. Guggenheim.

Beer Permit Granted

Calvin A. Landis, who has a place of business along the McCoole-Westernport road, has been issued a Class A beer license by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

The Cadillac Liquor Store Inc., 25-29 North Mechanic Street, has applied for a Class D beer, wine and liquor license.
